ONLY ONE COMPROMISE POSSIBLE IN THE GIGANTIC RAILROAD FIGHT ITE

If C.P.R. Gets its Demands on the Intercolonial it Will Deal Kindly With Crow's Nest Coal People—Government Between the Devil and the Deep Sea-

Ottawa, Jan. 10 .- (Special.)-The World of to day, with the first authentic news of the mighty fight between the C.P.R. and the Crow's Nest Coal Company and others, was eagerly canvassed here to-night by politicians, and the partisans of either side There was a meeting of the Cabinet to-day, and it is believed that the question came up, directly or indirectly, for consideration. At all events, Mr. Tarte had a lengthy nterview with Mr. Shaughnessy in the C.P.R. offices Wednesday night, and the Minister of Public Works started for Ottawa prepared to urge Mr. Shaughnessy's views upon his colleagues. But he is up against Mr. Blair, who is dead against the C.P.R. Sir Richard and the Major.

Sir Richard Cartwright and Mr. Sutherland, who came here to-day, are with the C.P.R. Mr. Blair is backed by The Globe and Mr. Jaffray, president of the Crow's Nest Coal Co., by Senator Cox, by Mackenzie & Mann, who are interested in the Northern Star mine, by the Gooderham-Blackstock syndicate and by the mining companies generally. Mr. Shaughnessy, from his side of it, has declared war to the knife, and his representatives are here to-day to answer the charges of Mr. Jaffray and his associates. No one is able to say where Jim Hill is in the situation. Crow's Nest Coal people say Mr. Hill is with them, and Mr. Shaughnessy admits it. If that is the case, tere will be a fight in Parliament this session to prevent the Great Northern, Hill's road, getting a charter to build into the Crow's Nest coal fields. The Crow's Nesters will support it, and the Government will find themselves in a

Some of their supporters think the Crow's Nest Company have had enough of concessions. But Mr. Jaffray and Mr. Cox are hard men to beat. The C.P.R.'s representatives here say that Mr. Hill has bought a large block of Crow's Nest stock, at the very least has agreed to take up all the new issue that is to be made. Several hundred new coking ovens will be erected as fast as money and men can do it. Only One Compromise Possible.

Only one compromise is said to be possible, and that is that the C.P.R. have their mands in reference to the Intercolonial granted, and if they get that they will make concessions to the miners and Crow's Nest Coal Company that will be satisfactory all in authoritative quarters, the Associated round. But the answer to this is that Mr. Blair is bent on a fight, and that he will nationalize the Booth road, putting the Intercolonial at Georgian Bay, put on a line of boats to Port Arthur and then encourage the rapid construction of the Mann-Mac-Grand Trunk May Join In
