BISHOP PLANS TO MAKE THIS CITY EDUCATIONAL CENTRE

Assumption College, Windsor, May Be Moved to London.

URSULINES COMING. TOO

Building of Seminary Will Not Be Commenced This

London will become one of the great est Roman Catholic educational centres in the Dominion of Canada within the next few years, when the plans of Bishop M. F. Fallon are fully realized. His lordship stated to The Advertise-His lordship stated to The Advertiser today that a large seminary for boys would be erected here, that the Ur-suline College for young women now located in Chatham, and possibly the Assumption College for young men, at present in Sandwich, are to be brought to this city.

Although it had been definitely decided to bring the Ursuline College here, and to build the seminary, the building program would not be started this year, he said, ewing to the high cost of building material. Two splendid sites have been chosen, and the work would be started as soon as building material became cheaper. The freshmen class of the Ursuline College would be located in this city in the fall, but a classfoom had not been chosen yet.

The Ursuline College is the greatest preparatory school for girls under the jurisdiction of the Roman Catholic Church in Canada. At the present time there are nearly two hundred students attending it, and it is expected that the number will be greatly increased when the school is moved to London. The new site will adjoin the grounds of the new Western University on the north branch of the Thames. It is on an elevation that overlooks the whole

Plans for the seminary have been pre pared and the building funds have been raised by special subscriptions raised by the bishop from the members of the diocese. The buildings will be erected on a site known as Sunshine Park, which also is located on the north branch of the river, but in the vicinity of Waterloo or Wellington streets. The bishop said that he hoped to bring the Assumption College here, but nothing definite could be given out

ONLY WAY TO END LEVEL CROSSINGS IS BY LEGISLATION

Town Planners Can Do Nothing Until Such Action Is Taken.

The serious injury of Dr. J. E. Kid today, when his car was struck by Grand Trunk engine, has brought hom again to Londoners the deadliness of the level crossings. This makes the eighth London physician who has bee injured at London railway crossings. s stated. Track elevation in London is the things Londoners have been dream ily looking forward to for many year like the dawn of universal peace, the end of graft and high prices and the millorial dawn. To many teerblak is millenial dawn. To most people it i pleasantly ephemeral dream, wh pleasantly ephemeral dream, which promises not to raise their taxes for at least another five or six years, but to a few Londoners mathematically gifted and not morbidly interested in reading of tragic accidents in the newspapers, another five or six years means anywhere from ten to forty people killed and mained at level crossings.

Legislation Essential.

John Cottam, town-planning enthusiast, looks forward to the granting of legislation pow being sought, which will vest in the town-planning commissions power to abolish level crossings. Pending the passing of this legislation, the town-planning commission can do nothing, says Mr. Cottam.

It is regrettable, he points out, that the city council in power at the time changes were made at the Cove bridge, did not compel the Grand Trunk to raise its tracks all the way through London. The Grand Trunk station is really in a valley. Richmond and Wellington street crossings are about twenty feet below the level of boundaries of the city on either side. Some day the Grand Trunk for its own econding the Grand Trunk for its own econdomy of locomotive power, he believes, will build a causeway through the valley of London by elevating its tracks. Each year that track elevation is deley of London by elevating its tracks.

Each year that track elevation is delayed means anywhere from two to half a dozen more human lives needlessly sacrificed.

The Tax Rate.

The Tax Rate.

An appeal to the railway commission, some Londoners believe, might result in an order for track elevation at once, but London would doubtless be required to pay part of the expense. Fear of this increasing the tax rate has dampened the enthusiasm of many who otherwise would be out and ment plans was emphatically stated by Mr. Cottam. Track elevation is one of the first improvements needed in London and one of the first things that the town-planners would authorize if

PARK EXPENDITURES

While estimates for the year have been cleared up, the utilities commission will still have a fairly busy time at the regular meeting this afternoon. The action of the council in reducing the parks estimate from approximately three-quarters of a mill to half a mill, will likely be discussed. Plans for this department will have to be rearranged, as there will be no funds for some of the work which was contemplated.

Several plans for providing additional amusement at Springbank will be discussed. One proposition being made amusement at Springbank will be discussed. One proposition being made to the board is to build a miniature steam railway on the grounds. Another is to erect a dance hall and other amusement devices. Proposals along this line which have been made so far have not been entirely satisfactory to the board as the city would derive little. the board, as the city, would derive little revenue from them in return for the privileges granted.

Congestion at St. Joseph's Hospital is reported to be just as great. Vacation of the building formerly occupied by military patients and latterly by the influenza patients will be made on Saturday. That the town-planning advocates have no desire to delay track elevation in order to harmonize it with union depot and other civic improvement plans was emphatically stated by Mr. Cottam. Track elevation is one of the first improvements needed in London and one of the first things that this possible that this new venture may be placed under the direction of the parks department or retained under the suggestions on the most feasible policy determined on.
