lations in theory; but he had the satisfaction of saying, that, though he could not name a fixed and determinate period, when the new notes would be ready for circulation, yet he had every reason to believe that no very great length of time would elapse before they would be ready.

AMERICAN TRADE.—The Lords of the Treasury now permit American vessels arrived at and expected at British ports, with cargoes intended for France, to land their cargoes at such ports, under the Warehousing Act, pro tempore.
These cargoes are re-shipped on board French vessels, and by this means a recent law of the French Government, laying a high duty on goods imported in American ships, is substantially rendered nugatory.

The "Morning Chronicle" asserts that there is an understanding between the Ministers and the Catholics in Ireland, that if the latter remain passive with respect to the Queen, they will be rewarded with emancipation.

The French papers, although under government censor-ship, speak of the proceedings against the Queen, as a "disgraceful prosecution, that, for the interest of morality and royalty, should have been buried in oblivion."

LIVERPOOL, OCTOBER 3.

All the States of Germany have resolved to issue orders for the suppression of Freemasonry. Lodge, and all associations that profess to be of a secret nature. The necessary effect of such an order will be to make the society more secret. It is singular that in England the sovereign of the State is the first Freemason in it. This is the most effectual way of neutralising any evil that might seem to be connected with such associations.

At a very numerous meeting of the journeymen printers of the metropolis, held on Monday night at the Crown and Anchor Tavern, it was resolved to present an Address to the Queen, congratulating her Majesty on her return to this country, and condoling with her under the persecutions to which she is exposed. It was resolved that the address should be printed on satin, and carried up to her Majesty by a deputation, consisting of as many of the trade as chose to join the procession; that each individual should wear a white favour on his breast; and that coaches and a pair should be employed.
The aquatic procession to present an Address to the Queen of the Watermen and Barge-men will consist of upwards of 500 boats and barges. They will proceed up the Thames to Brandenburg-house on Tuesday the 3d of October. The boatmen of every description on the river amount to 30,000; of these, 18,000 have already signed their names as ready to join the procession.

Mr. Henry, since his arrival at Milan, has sent to England 15 witnesses whom he considers necessary to the Queen's defence. We understand he has also sent home the small carriage in common use in Italy, capable only of holding two persons, by one of whom it is driven, and in which it has been charged as an offence the Queen travelled with Bergami.

Count Vassalli, equerry to her Majesty, landed at Dover on Sunday from Calais; he is said to be the bearer of dispatches to the Queen, and also of a number of plans taken on the spot, of the internal part of the house where she has lived, with the exact situations of the sleeping rooms, &c.

Letters of the late Baron Omphreda and Lieut. How-man have been published with the view of justifying the conduct of the former, who stands charged with picking locks of the Queen when in Italy, and afterwards declining to fight Howman; the letters assert, that the Baron was willing to fight, but he is silent on the charge of picking the locks.

Memoirs of the Baron Bergami.—A pamphlet with the above title, professing to be written by Bergami himself, was published in Paris on Friday last. Bergami enters into no details as to his birth, but confines himself to simply stating, that his family, after having once been rich, became poor. He entered the French army, and having distinguished himself, he was made an officer. It was in this quality that he found himself under the orders of Gen. Pino, and not in quality of a courier. He affirms, that he twice saved the life of her Royal Highness, and thence arose a feeling of gratitude in the mind of the Princess, to which he attributes his elevation.

The Baron d'Arret, Minister Plenipotentiary from Russia to the German Diet has just made to that assembly, in a constitutional sitting, a communication of which the following is the substance:—"The Emperor of Russia does not recognise in any Power the right of interfering in the affairs of other States; on account of innovations introduced into the Government of those States.
His Imperial Majesty declares, that his approaching interview with his Ally, the Emperor of Austria, is far from having for its object to concert measures or measures tending to support the new order of things in Spain or Naples."

LONDON, SUNDAY EVENING, OCTOBER 1.

Birth of a Male Prince, Heir to the French Throne.

This morning intelligence was received from Calais, which may be of some importance to the future politics of France, namely, the birth of a Bourbon Prince, heir to the French throne. Information of this event had been welcomed by discharges of artillery in the capital and throughout the kingdom, and would be followed up by other demonstrations of national joy. The infant is named by the late Duke de Berry, who was so cruelly assaulted by Louvel, and is consequently a posthumous child.

"Calais, Sept. 29, 1820.

"The news has just arrived, per telegraph, of the ac-couchement of her Royal Highness the Duchess de Berry of a fine boy—her Royal Highness being as well as can be expected. This happy event took place at five o'clock yesterday morning. They name him Prince of Ardeans."

Mr. Brougham reached town yesterday, and is actively engaged in preparing for the arduous task on which he will enter on Tuesday (this day.) We are glad to hear that his health is considerably improved. The pile look with intense curiosity as well as interest for the delivery of his speech—which will be applied not to a free examination of the case as proved on the to the crown, but to the most ample and satisfactory statements in support of the innocence of his illustrious client. Other topics will be embraced not less important to the honour and character of the British nation.
When the House meets on Tuesday, it is anticipated very little time will be devoted to preliminary matters, and that Mr. Brougham will proceed at once to his task.

Mr. Lushington had an interview with her Majesty on Friday. Her Majesty has not yet intimated any desire to attend the House of Lords during the progress of her business.

Baron Bergami has arrived in Italy. There is no doubt that the falsehoods circulated in Paris, that he there made himself an object of notoriety. On the contrary, he has been extremely reserved in his conduct since he quitted the service of her Majesty at St.
St. It is not impossible that he may yet be seen in country.—(Observer.)

General Vassalli, of the Queen's suite, is gone to superintend the landing of her Majesty's wife, twenty of whom, including the Countess of Olden, expected to disembark there yesterday. A house has been prepared for their reception opposite the hotel numbered 10.

Friday, at 10 P. M. the Royal squadron anchor-Royal yacht, and were most graciously received. As soon as the ceremony was concluded, the crews of the several boats immediately sang "God save the King" in excellent style, in which they were accompanied by several bands. The King was much affected, but highly gratified. He landed under a salute from the batteries and the Royal squadron at one o'clock, and proceeded to Bognor, where he dined with the Earl of Arundel. In the evening he arrived at Brighton. His Majesty directed that the Address from Portsmouth, which he had not time to receive, should be transmitted to Lord Sid-mouth. His Majesty will be in town to-morrow (yesterday) to attend a Council.

By the brig Eliza, arrived on Sunday in 32 days from Liverpool, we have been favoured with the loan of London and Liverpool papers,—the former to the 1st Oct. (within two days of the commencement of the Queen's defence,) and the latter to the third of that month, from which we have extracted the most interesting paragraphs.
The Queen's case still continued to engross the public attention, and it is stated that Mr.
Brougham will commence her Majesty's defence with a very brilliant speech, which will be laid before the jury in due course. Her Royal Highness the Duchess de Berry was safely delivered of a male child, on the 29th September.
The child, a son, and several other witnesses, of her Majesty, had arrived at Dover on Sunday. It was expected, would also arrive.

they were engaged in their testimonies as to character.
We believe that the same referred to has marked his progress through our Province, by numerous acts of the most reprehensible pilfering,—even the fair sex have not escaped his depredations. We trust his "sin will one day find him out," and expose him to the infamy and condign punishment he so justly merits. In the present instance, we understand, he has been condemned by the authorities at St. Helena, to 12 months and 12 days imprisonment; £36 dollars only have been recovered out of 1500 stolen from Messrs. HENDERSONS, the celebrated Caledonian Co. He has been in the habit of going under various designations, such as Lieut. Walsh, Mr. Auer, G. W. Spencer, Esq. Mr. Rigdon, &c.—he is about 5 feet 6 inches high, swarthy complexion, slender made, dark straight hair, about 22 years of age, and often hails for London, as well as for New York.

To the Printers in St. John. N. B.

GENTLEMEN,—Please to insert the following testimony in your respective papers.
Clare, N. S. October 25, 1820.

The Subscriber, Missionary of the French Acadians, in the Township of Clare, N. S. immediately after sight of the Subscriptions in behalf of the Sufferers, by the disastrous fire of the 12th ultimo, in the Townships of Yarmouth, Clare, and Digby, hastens in his and their name to assure His Excellency Major Gen. SMYTH, the MAYOR, GENTLEMEN, and INHABITANTS of the City of Saint John, N. B. &c. &c. &c. of their most sincere sentiments of gratitude for their generosity, which ever will be remembered.
The unfortunate objects of that liberality, convinced of their incapacity to give due and proper acknowledgement for it, have however the comfort and assurance that HE, who has said, He would accept a cup of cold water given in his name, will supply their inability, and amply reward so well adapted benefactions. Such are their most earnest wishes, and to that effect shall ever be directed their most fervent prayers.
T. M. SIGOGNE.

Notice to Mariners.—The alarm BELL at West Quoddy is in operation,—it strikes in foggy weather every few minutes, and can be heard several miles.—Eastport Sen.

Obituary.

Sunday, on board the brig Enterprise, of London, of liver complaint which terminated in jaundice and infirmation, Mr. EDMUND WHITE, native of Newcastle and mate of said brig, aged 32 years.—His remains were interred yesterday with every mark of respect.

On Thursday, an Inquest was held on view of the body of Mary Dunn, wife of John Dunn, late a Sergeant in the 100th Regiment.—The deceased had lingered for some days in consequence of a dreadful wound received on the head from a stone, with which she was struck by her husband, and for whom a Hue and Cry has been raised, but as yet without the least prospect of his apprehension.—Verdict, wilful murder, against John Dunn.

We are sorry to announce the death of that very active and meritorious officer, Admiral Sir Home Riggs Popham, K. C. B. The melancholy event took place at Cheltenham, on the 11th Sept. He had but recently returned from his command on the Jamaica station, where he lost his daughter and his health. Bell's M.

ARCHITECTURE.
JOHN MILLIGAN, ARCHITECT AND CIVIL ENGINEER, now residing at Mr. Cook's Cottage, St. James's-street, intends to open a class for the purpose of teaching ARCHITECTURAL DRAW-ING; to be kept on Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday, Thursday and Friday Evenings, from the hour of 7 to 9 o'clock; terms, one Dollar per week;—the school will commence so soon as a sufficient number apply, and early application is recommended, as the number will be limited. As J. M. has had much experience in the Building art, his instructions will have reference to the best practical modes of execution.

During the winter months, a day class will be opened for young Gentlemen who may wish to study this useful and elegant department of Science;—the hours will be suited to their mutual convenience, and the terms proportioned to the number of pupils.

Plans, Sections and Elevations, furnished on the shortest notice, for every description of Buildings, from the splendid Mansion to the elegant Villa, or simple Cottage; with their corresponding ornamental appendages of gateways, Porter's lodges, ensues, temples, gratios, &c. &c.; as also Plans for wet and dry Docks, Bridges, Canals, Railways, and common Wharfs; accurate estimates of all which will be made out if required; such as he will contract to complete the works for.
Having resided and been employed in his professional line for several years in the United States, he is enabled to suit his employers by accommodating himself to their style of Building, as well as that of Great Britain.

In J. M.'s designs, his aim is, as far as possible, to combine stability, elegance, simplicity and economy; and, by assiduous attention to business, he hopes to obtain a share of public patronage. St. John, Nov. 7.

STABLING FOR HORSES.—The Subscriber begs leave to inform his Friends and the Public, that he has taken that Stand in King-street, lately occupied by Jas. O. BETTS; and hopes by strict attention to merit a share of the public favour. ROBERT HUNTER.
