SEEK MORE AUTHORITY.

The Eastern Trust Company wrote which they characterized as deplorable.

Children are powerless to defend their heritage of loveliness. Neglect can rob them of their beauty. You wish to prevent the loss of all their charm, and the happiness that it will one day bring to them. You realize that it is the care bestowed upon them during their childhood that enables them to grow up into attractive men and women. You know the havoc that can be wrought upon their health and beauty in later life by the existence of decayed teeth.

Then safeguard their pearly white teeth now. Teach them to use Colgate's Ribbon Cream after each meal. For Colgate's is the ideal dental cream for children. It is delicious in flavour, gentle in action, and of course contains no grit, which would ruin little teeth. It is the safe dental cream for a lifetime.

Archbishop Urges

EASTBORNE, Sussex, Eng., Oct.
6—A severe admonition to the clergy for the inadequacy of present-day sermons which fail to draw people from golf, motoring and other Sunday diversions, was the feature of an address by the Archbishop of Canterbury at the opening of the Anglican Church congress here today.

The keynote of the congress is "world problems and Christianity."
Choosing for his text verses 12 to 14 of the Forty-eighth Psalm the Archbishop enjoined the clergy to make a closer study of the needs of present-day living. "The average sermon has not kept pace with the advance in education or with the average intoxicated at the time of his death.

The distinguished guest who plans of university training in fitting men to play their parts in the national, industrial and professional life of the country.

LONDON, Oct. 7—What is said to be the nearest approach to a blue carnation ever grown has heen on exhibition at the autumn show of the Royal Horticultural Society. When viewed from certain angles the flower has a distinctly bluish tinge, but on closer inspection it is found to possess a ray of purple. Among the other carnations attracting attention was the "White Pearl," which King George has chosen as his favorite for button-hole wear. Robertson's
