t Exactly What Sherman Said, Though He May Have Meant It

(New York Times) (New York Times)
Half of the popular quotations are iquotations, such as "A man convincagainst his will," for "He that comes against his will," "Speed the partguest" for "Speed the going guest," "All the world loves a lover" for mankind love a lover." In view of constant and tiresome iteration of constant and tiresome iteration of saying "War is hell" and its ascripto Gen. Sherman, it is somewhat of elief to learn that this is a misquota-too. What he said, as is pointed in a letter in the World, was, "War ruelty, and you cannot refine it." he sentence appears in a reply of rman's to the protest of the nonbatant population of Atlanta against order to them to leave the city. This r aroused great indignation through-the south and Gen. Hoon warmly

"You cannot qualify war in harsher terms that I will. War is cruelty, and denounced it in a letter to Sherman. It was not to Hoon, but to the mayor of ple, that Sherman replied, regretting the Atlanta, speaking on behalf of his peo-

Most thin people eat from four to six pounds of good solid fat-making food every day and still do not increase in weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

PREPARE FOR WINTER

Now is the time to prepare for winter, while special prices are on many items weight one ounce, while on the other hand many of the plump, chunky folks eat very lightly and keep gaining all the time. It's all bosh to say that this is the nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

be people."

We get most of our quotations at second hand and rarely verify them. The result is that our favorite sayings do not proceed, as we imagine, from famous authors, but from casual writers of faulty memory whose misquotations of them give them their permanent form.

The nature of the individual. It isn't Nature's way at all.

Thin folks stay thin because their powers of assimilation are defective. They just absorb enough of the food they eat to maintain life and a semblance of health and strength. Stuffling won't make them gain a single "stay there" pound. All the fat-producing elements of their food just stay in the intestines until they pass from the body as waste. What such people need is weeken people at large which Brager's, Clothiers, 185-187 Union street, Cash and Credit House, has experienced. Our aim is to give great values in ladies' or gents' clothing at moderate prices, where $1 per week opens an account with us. Store open evenings.

Sargol is not, as some believe, a patented drug, but is a scientific combination of six of the most effective and powerful flesh-building elements known to chemistry.
