Ald. Macmillan's Resolution Asking for a Police Inquiry is Defeated

> > From Tuesday's Daily.

At last night's meeting of the city council Ald. Marchant's resolution asking for the appointment of three collectors to collect the city revenue, instead of the system now in use, and also Ald. McMillan's resolution asking for an investigation by the city council into charges against the police department were voted down. The mayor presided and all the aldermen were present:

R. P. Rithet, M. P. P., wrote as follows:

"I have the honor to acknowledge receipt of your letter of 5th inst., handing me copy of a resolution passed by the municipal council in reference to the personal and income taxes to be collected this year by the provincial government, and also suggesting certain amendments to the municipal acts. These matters, it must be admitted, are of very serious importance to both the government and to the city, and it seems to me it will be necessary for the corporation to place me in possession more rporation to place me in possession more lly of their reasons for asking same than fully of their reasons for asking same than is conveyed to me by the bare resolution acknowledged, in order that any steps I may take in the direction asked may be as effective as possible.

I would therefore suggest that before anything further is done, a committee from your board should be appointed to meet the several members from the city, at as early a date as possible, for the purpose of considering the matters referred to."

Hon. J. H. Turner and H. Dallas Helmcken, M. P. P., also acknowledged the receipt of the resolution passed by the council.

Ald. Humphrey moved that the legislative committee and the mayor be authorized to meet the city members to discuss the matter.

Ald. Marchant seconded the resolution, but remarked that it would be well if the legislative committee's report were submitted to the council before the conference be held. The motion was carried.

Edith Hilda Scaife, secretary of the Local Council of Women, wrote to the council, enclosing the resolutions passed at yesterday's meeting of the Local Council of Women. The communication was received and laid on the table. Women. The communication was received and laid on the table.

James L. Raymur, water commissioner, wrote enclosing an application from Mr. Steimberger, asking permission to run scows on Elk lake to carry gravel to the new filter beds; also to build a small wharf on the east side of the lake.

Ald. McMillan pointed out that probably the sand in the vicinity of Elk lake is not suitable for filtration purposes, and this should be investigated before any concessions are granted. The communication was referred to the mayor and water commissioner to investigate.

City Engineer Wilmot reported on matters of street improvements referred to him at a previous meeting of the council. The report was laid on the table until the estimates are prepared.

Tenders for the supplies for the Old Men's Home were referred to the Home committee and purchasing agent.

John Latham and 15 others asked that a certain portion of King's road and Seventh street be macadamized, and a box drain built, also asking for an electric light. Referred to the electric light aud street committees.

The finance committee's report for the past month was read and adopted after a protest from Aledrman Glover, with respect to the quality of coal furnished by R. Dunsmuir & Sons for the city electric light station.

The cemetery committee recommended that permission be granted to place a head stone not complying with the cemetery by-law on the plot where George Billings was buried. The stone had been sent out from England by his friends, who knew nothing of the city's regulations. The committee also recommended certain alterations. Report adopted.

The electric light committee recommended that tenders be invited for one gross of electrical lamp globes. Report adopted.

The Old Men's Home committee recorred against granting assistance asked for by Mrs. Walkem on behalf of aged and infirm women, but recommended that the city take charge of the matter. The committee also recommended that plans be prepared for a building suitable for a caretaker's residence, and including several rooms that may be utilized for aged and infirm women.

women.

Ald. McMillan explained why the committee had reported adversely to Mrs. Walkem's request. The care of the aged and infirm women would be too great for private persons who were charitably disposed, and as it would eventually become a charge on the city, it was better for the city to assume control from the beginning. better for the city to assume control from the beginning.

Ald. Wilson wished that some thing be done at once to assist the ladies at present in the French Hospital. It will be sometime before the arrangements suggested in the committees's report can be carried out.

Ald. Humphrey explained that the report had been shown to Mrs. Walkem, and that she stated that no improvement would be made to the French hospital till the matter is settled. The report was adopted.

The street committee's report was also adopted.

Ald. Marchant's resolution dealing with the appointment of collectors was then brought up for discussion.

Ald. Marchant in moving the adoption of at Shore's Hardware, 57 Johnson St. *

the resolution claimed that the present system was cumbersome and expensive. Four men were at present sent to the one rate-payer to collect different taxes, when one collector could collect all. It was a riddiculous system. The system proposed would save the city $1600 per year. His object in declaring the offices vacant was to put all the office holders on an equal footing for reappointment. Personally Ald. Marchant would vote for no one outside the present officials who did this work. They are all capable and honest men, but three men can do the work now done by four. There was no difficulty in making the treasurer the financial director of the city, and placing three men under his direct control. Nothing would be saved by having the water rates paid at the city hall, as a man would have to be kept to look after the meters and receiving the water rates.

Ald Macmillan was not in favor of changing the staff. It was his desire that the men at present employed in the city offices should be as far as possible retained. He was in favor of the resolution, as it would mean a saving to the city.

Ald. Cameron did not think the results it would mean a saving to the resolution, as it would mean a saving to the city.

Ald. Cameron did not think the results would be as brilliant as anticipated. That the citizens were called upon by different collectors showed that the system of taxation was at fault. He was of the opinion that the change would save nothing to the city and he would vote against the resolution.

Ald. Williams thought the matter should be brought up in connection with the esimates. He would vote against the resolution.

Ald. Humphrey did not believe in the scheme and would vote against it.

Mayor Beaven pointed out that the authorizing of the treasurer to pay out money was contrary to the municipal act.

Aldermen Macmillan, Marchant and Glover voted for the principle embodied in the resolution, the rest of the alderman voting against it Ald. Cameron moved, seconded by Ald, Marchant, that routine communications be at once sent to the different committees. Ald. Gameron showed how the change would save a great deal of time, and the work save a great deal of time, and the work suggested in communications could be attended to more readily.

Ald. Macmillan would oppose the resolution. The council could not vote intelligently on a matter without hearing the communications. The balance of the council would be compelled to accept the judgment of the committee. The method proposed was in vogue some years ago, and it was then charged that certain communications were suppressed by the committee that should have been presented to the council.

Ald. Tiarks thought the charges against the police force should be sifted to the bottom, and he would vote for the resolution.
Ald. Partridge objected to Rev. Mr. Trot-ter's remarks. He could see the same thing every other city. dd. Wilson charged Mr. Trotter with Ald. Wilson charged Mr. Trotter with preaching a sermon that was a disgrace to a minister of the gospel. He prostituted his calling by bringing up such matter before innocent children. A clergyman had pursued a similar course in this city some time ago, and he had since left with his bills unpaid. He did not know where this globe-trotter came from; possibly from that moral city, Toronto, where one cannot walk the street at night without being solicited. Mr. Trotter had made charges against a certain tea store and had afterwards promised to retract these charges in both papers and from the pulpit, but he was not man enough to do so. Ald. Wilson wanted the charges referred to the police commissioners.

Ald. Williams thought it only fair that the mayor be granted more time to inquire into the matter. The remarks made by Rev. Mr. Trotter could be applied to any seaport town. In taking up the question here and making a sensatinal effort he succeeded in attracting a crowd to his church that he would probably not otherwise obtain. The question had been trotted out for the last 2000 years, and always with the same result. It was not right to have too many cooks in matters of this kind, and the police commissioners alone should investigate.

have too, many cooks in matters of this kind, and the police commissioners alone should investigate.

Mayor Beaven was in favor of a tho ough investigation. Charges had been made by Rev. Mr. Trotter that should be sifted to the bottom. Mr. Trotter had called upon hip and promised certain information over his own signature. Mayor Beaven assumed that he had forgotten his promise, for the information had never been received. The police magistrate and himself had decide to investigate as soon as the information was received. He pointed out that the provincial government in its wisdom had taken the control of the police out of the hands of the council, and he was afraid that a committee of the council would experience difficulty in securing witnesses under oath, but he thought the wisest course for the council to pursue was to pass the resolution and meet these difficulties as they cropped up.

Ald. Macmillan wished to know if the government had taken away the power of the council to inquire into how the city's

Ald. Glover asked if the resolution was defeated would the commissioners investigate the matter unless specific charges are made.

Mayor Beaven could not speak for his brother commissioner, but he (Mayor Beaven) was anxious that an investigation De heid.

The resolution was defeated on the fol-lowing division:

Some ladies think that it is a difficult matter to do their own dyeing. It certainly is when crude and imitation dyes are used; but when the long-tested Diamond Dyes are used, it takes but beautiful color than it would be to wash and rinse the goods. With imitation weakness, night losses and dyes your goods are ruined; coloring with Diamond Dyes means success and lovely colors.

LAW INTELLIGENCE.

From Tuesday's Daily.

The appeal in Clark vs. Eholt was partly argued before the Divisional court this morning and then adjourned until tomorrow. This present action is brought on a judgment in an old action of Clark et al. vs. Carson et al. for damages against Joseph and Louis Eholt and Carson for taking an excess of water from Pavilion creek near Clinton. On the 31st of December last Sir Henry Crease made an order compelling Carson to reduce his ditch so as to allow only 200 inches of water to flow and also gave interlocutary judgment to Clark against Carson and the Eholtsthe damages to be assessed at the Clinton assizes. But of the seventeen only two reached the shelter, in a manner suited to the pleasure of these beasts. At Kantow, which is between Taipehfu and Hak, the attack was so sudden, so unexpected, that the ten Japanese belonging to the telegraph construction corps fell easy victims and were disposed of in the characteristic Chinese manner.
