The English members of the Chamber of Commerce of the Empire have completed their tour of the far west. No doubt they have been much impressed with the great wheat fields of Manitoba and the North West Territories and with the high quality of grain which these sections produce. Every time an observing Englishman visits the far west the export trade of Ogilvie's Flour is increased. Letters go home teiling friends and neighbors to ask for Ogilvie's when flour is wanted, and they must take none other. Even the Prince of Wales was a convert to Ogilvie's when he came to see us a few years ago.

Mrs. Coenen Worries Over Loss of Money and Its Recovery and Dies.

Money and Its Recovery and Dies.

OLATHE, Kan, Aug. 26.—R. Coenen, a son-in-law of Mrs. Lucy Van Hercke, who was found dead with heart disease this morning at her home, near Shawnee, this county, came to this city at noon today and deposited in the First National Bank $1,578 in gold, found in the cellar and under the carpets of Mrs. Van Hercke's home. A search is still going on for the $7,300, which she has for months carried in her bustle. Mr. Coenen says that the story that she left this amount in her bustle at her home, when she went to St. Paul, about two weeks ago is true. She thought she had lost it, but subsequently recovered it.

A few years ago, when Mrs. Van Hercke was using a cook stove for a bank, she thoughtlessly started a fire and burned up $800 in currency.

It is thought her death today was superinduced by the excitement of her st. Paul trip, during which she discovered that she had left her savings behind in a cast-off bustle.

TEMPERANCE IN ONTARIO.

The temperance people of Ontario are loing wisely when they give up the at-tempt to accomplish the reform they lesire through the existence of a separate party. Recognising that the best way to attain their object is by influncing existing political parties, they are organizing through the province is to secure the nomination and election to the legislature of representatives who can be relied upon to keep free from party dictation on temperance is secure effective temperance legislation. Their work is through the individual rather than the party, and if the move ment is properly managed should accomplish much.

nor general of Canada will meet mer Strathcona. Born in Scotland, he made his fortune and name in Canada, and has greatly increased it during his rehas greatly increased it during his recent residence in England. He is equally in touch with Canadian needs and with English sentiment. No man could be thought of better fitted to act as intermediary between the throne of the empire and the empire's chief de-lution in favor of government owner-ship of any additional transcontintime the people will have begun to feel the weight of the extra taxation and to see, with painful clearness, the fallacies of the arguments with which the government spell-binders are now the St. John board are in substantial harmony on the question.

The resolution of the board of trade does not affirm the immediate neces chances would be better were it not ent. It is hardly likely that St. John business men would recommend the immediate construction of another line certainly would not without more in-formation than is now available recommend the reconstruction of a government line across an unexplored country from Quebec to Winnipes.

Neither does Mr. Blair or Mr. Borden recommend such a course. Mr. Borden believes in the policy of immediately extending the Intercolonial to Georgian Bay to meet the western grain at the eastern end of the lake route. Mr. Blair seems to favor this policy. The view appears to meet with the favor of the St. John board of trade.

The speeches of Mr. James F. Robertson and Mr. James Pender, the mover and seconder of the substitute resolution, are the strongest possible attacks on the government pol they are all the more weighty because the speakers could have no party interest in their attack on the govern-ment policy. These and others who took part not only condemned the government scheme on principle, but attacked it in detail.

If the Globe is quoted as an exception, tended to support it on other grou should be endorsed on party grounds. This abrogation of the right of private judgment is not popular in St. John The liberals of this community fee that they must draw the line some where.The Sun.

A JAPANESE DIRGE

(Black and White.)
Here she lies where all must come
After days grown wearisome;
She that was Chrysanthemum. Tulips falter in the wind, With blown leaves her eyes are blind And her singing mouth is dumb, Here she lies where all must come.

Eyes as dark as indigo, Now a deeper darkness know; Hair that mocked the raven's wing Feels its lotus withering After days grown wearlsome.

Little feet that moved so light
Music will not stir to-night,
Through the strongest love of men
Lifted on the samisen.
Little hands men's hearts that led
Into snares that she had spread
After days grown wearisome—
Here she lies where all must come.
