MORE ABOUT SUSSEX GAME

Referee McLeod Makes Denial of Charges of St. John Players—No Complaint on The Ice.

To the Sporting Editor of The Standard:

Sir,—In reply to the criticisms on the recent St. John-Sussex hockey game, at which I acted as referee, I wish to say that the information furnished you, principally, I understand, by Percy Howard, is wholly unreliable and misleading. Some of the claims set forth by the "kickers" are that no Sussex player was penalized. Several goals were scored from offside, and the time of game was two minutes short. In reply to the first, I say this is false as Leclair was off for one minute. The total penalties imposed were, St. John three minutes and Sussex one, so you will see nobody was very badly hurt in that line. As to offside shooting, there were no goals made from offside plays, and no complaint was made to me that such had been done. The first I heard of it was through the newspapers. If such had been the case it is not probable that this combination of "referee knockers" would have been heard from at the rink during the match instead of waiting to get home to tell about it. As regards the claim of time being two minutes short in the last half, everybody who knows hockey knows that the referee does not control the time. This is entirely in the hands of the time-keepers. The first complaint made about the time being incorrect came from the father of one of the players on the St. John team, his claim was that the second half had been overplayed seven minutes and therefore the last two goals made by Sussex should not count as they were made in the overtime.

Following this came the kick from another section that the play was two minutes short. There is no doubt whatever about the time being correct. At a meeting held in St. John at which representatives of all the league teams were present except Chatham, I was appointed official referee, without any qualifications to fill the position being questioned—the appointment was unanimous. If the St. John delegates had any objections to offer, why didn't they produce them then, instead of waiting until after a game in which their team was defeated to put up a huller. It doesn't show consistency.

Mr. Percy Howard, previous to the game here, told me he had written to Mr. Smith, manager of the Fredericton team, asking him what kind of a deal I had given them when he was here, and said he had received a reply stating that I had given entire satisfaction to them and that they had no kick of any kind to register. The St. John-Sussex game was referred to as fairly as the Fredericton one was, but there is a difference between "sports" and "kickers," hence Manager Smith's mainly reply to Mr. Howard's letter.

I tried to referee the game with the utmost impartiality, and was complimented on so doing by a number of commercial travellers and strangers who were present. The St. John team's manager came to Sussex with a great howl of how they had been ill used at Chatham, and left here also with his usual "kick," and he will have a "kick" wherever he goes, because he's got the "habit," and can't help himself. "It's hard to make a little game out of a snow's ear"—and it's just as hard to stop a "knocker" who acquires the habit.

The truth of the other assertions made to you are on a par with the one that a Sussex player was off for the game wouldn't take the money after winning it. This is all bosh and no such instance ever occurred.

I trust that the next match between St. John and Sussex will be a defeat with better grace than they have been doing, and whether they lose or win "stop knocking the officials."

Yours truly,
WILLIAM E. McLEOD.

NEW GLASGOW TRIMMED BY MONCTON 12-6

New Brunswick Pro. Team Plays Gregory's Team Off Their Feet—Trying for 'Mike' Murphy for Halifax Game.

New Glasgow, Jan. 30.—Superior team work in the last half of play gave Moncton a decisive victory over New Glasgow here tonight by the score of 12 to 6. Moncton clearly outplayed the local team during the last ten minutes of the game when the New Brunswick team scored at leisure. Had it not been for the fast skating of Williams breaking the combination of Doran, Scott and Nichols, the score would have been much larger. The result was a big disappointment to the eighteen hundred persons at the game.

With Campbell, with only the use of one eye, and Cook the fast cover-point in the end, New Glasgow was decidedly weakened. Williams played cover point and young Freddy E. Sullivan went rover. Sullivan played a fast, tricky game. Little was not in hockey form tonight, the greater part of the work going to Gregory, and Williams who played great hockey. The honors of the evening, however, perched on the shoulders of Williams. Nichols, the new man for Moncton, did not show up until the last ten minutes of the game, when he with Scott and Doran gave an exhibition of the fastest combination hockey ever seen on New Glasgow ice. Scott was in fine form and trailed the puck for every second of the game. Doran gave a splendid exhibition of one handed stick handling, which was indeed pretty work.

The first half New Glasgow held her own, she bombarded Moncton's goal repeatedly, but Wortman blocked. At the end of the first half the score stood 5 to 4 in favor of Moncton. In the second half, after five minutes of the game, Scott was checked against the boards by Williams and laid out while Kennedy went down on the opposite side of the rink checked by Murphy. Kennedy had his collar broken, leaving the ice, and Sullivan was dropped by New Glasgow. The game while fast at times was spoiled by too many delays. McKinnara referred his usual strict game, and many penalties were handed out for minor offences. Murphy was given 10 minutes at one time for checking Scott.

The Play.

The game opened up lightning fast. Gregory took the puck from the face-off carrying it right to Moncton's nets with Wortman blocking. The puck stayed around the net, Simpson sending a nice shot from the wing. Wortman blocked again. Williams was next to make an attack on Moncton, three shots going in on Wortman in quick succession. It was all New Glasgow at the start. Then Nichols came in at centre with the puck, dashed to the nets and scored, drawing first blood for Moncton. Scott followed 30 seconds later backing puck for score No. 2 for Moncton. Williams got control of the puck after the face-off and after being checked by Doran, both players falling to the ice, the speed meter regained his feet, carried the puck the entire length of the ice and scored. Moncton, 2; New Glasgow, 1.

The second score was made a minute later by a wing shot from Sullivan and the score was tied. A number of penalties were handed out to both sides. New Glasgow broke the tie score when Simpson shot from the wing on a pass from Gregory. Two seconds later after the faceoff Scott scored for Moncton tying the score again. Immediately after the faceoff Simpson shot from the wing and again scored. New Glasgow taking the lead. Nichols tied the score by a pass from Doran. Crockett shot from the wing giving Moncton a lead which they held to half time.

Second Half.

In the second half after Kennedy and Sullivan left the ice, the game was fast at times but a number of delays intervened. Williams pulled off a nice individual play the whole length of the ice and tied the score. Scott scored for Moncton and from this on Moncton had decidedly the best of the game, it being a succession of scores for the visitors.

The scores that followed were results of combination work of Nichols, Gregory, who shot in a pass from Simpson. When New Glasgow took the clock work and scoring at frequent intervals. New Glasgow's sixth and last goal was made by Gregory, who shot in a pass from Simpson. When New Glasgow took her sixth goal Moncton had ten. Nichols and Scott scoring each in quick succession brought the score of Moncton up to 12.

New Glasgow are now negotiating for a couple and perhaps three more for the game here Friday night with the Crescents. It is reported that

FIGHTING THRIVES IN NEW YORK AND POLICE CANNOT INTERFERE

SOME BOYS WHO FIGHT IN NEW YORK.

New York, N. Y., Jan. 30.—The law—that mass of words arranged by Dick and Harry so Tom and Jerry may find the errors and keep the vulgar rich out of jail—says prize fighting shall not be permitted in New York—so the promoters stage boxing bouts.

You can see good fights—they are called boxing matches only in legal circles—almost nightly in New York. In fact, you may see several a night, for the average fight bill means four or five bouts.

The fight fans will never be lonesome here as long as Justice Seabury's injunction holds good. This injunction by the way, is a unique institution. Billy Gibson, Manhattan's fight impresario, claims it is the most quickly granted permanent injunction ever turned out by a New York supreme court.

Gibson and his associate promoters were trying to put the fighting game upon its feet in New York for a long time, but the police insisted on interfering. Possibly the police were actuated by proper indignation and spite maybe the money wasn't being split to suit "the big finger." But whatever the reason, the bluecoats raided the clubs whenever they needed exercise.

Then Gibson, nestor of the promoters, went to the mat with the department. He appealed to Justice Seabury for a restraining order and Seabury granted a permanent injunction holding the Fairmont club was a bona fide athletic club and that the bouts were permissible before club members. Now a policeman trying to get into the club without Gibson's permission faces six months on the island for contempt.

Other promoters took advantage of Gibson's initiative and free from interference match the best men in the country for ten rounds, assured that if the attraction is strong enough they will "stand 'em up against the walls." The clubs are well managed, have a legitimate membership, and the bouts are properly staged. Everything is conducted in a high class manner and the fight loving thousands are satisfied.

It is surprising to see the boys who appear in the windups. Abe Attell, Owen Moran, Jim Driscoll, Freddy Welsh, Battling Nelson, Diggs Stanley, Sammer Kellar, Johnny Coulon, Packey McFarland, Sam Langford—all high class men and some of them champions—have fought before the various clubs in these 10 round bouts.

The fact that such attractions can be staged is proof positive that your New York fan is willing to spend his money, for at times it is necessary to boost the price of the best seats to $10 to let the club break even.

The visible supply of high class and promising material is on the increase. Right here are men like Tommy Murphy, Leach Cross, Joe Coster, Paul McGovern, Knock Out Brown, Bert Keyes and many others, to say nothing of the scores of preliminary and semi-finalists who always give the patrons a run for their cash.

The price usually runs from $2 to $5. The fighters are guaranteed a stipulated sum for their work, but stars like Attell and Nelson, who realize their drawing ability, insist upon a percentage, being willing to take a chance.

I saw 15 fights in one week with Abe Attell the drawing card upon two occasions, and both times he came home in the shadow of Joe Coster and Patsy Kline shading him.

There is more good fighting in New York every week than in any three or four western cities combined. The administration is in favor of the game because the voters want it, so both boxers and promoters thrive.

A fight crowd at the Fairmont club is about as cosmopolitan a gathering as you'd see at a renewal of the suburban handicap. In the boxes when the card is stronger than usual you may see men whose names make Wall street tremble; actors known to every city in the land; club men, in immaculate dress; shining lights of the sporting world, lawyers, physicians, judges and solid business men—and they stand up and whoop like the $2 a headers in the back seats, forgetting their responsibilities and enjoying themselves to the limit.

The fighting game is at its zenith. Its future is bright with promise. As the bouts are conducted as they have been for some time past, the game will thrive. It is up to the promoters, and from what I have been told about Gibson, I believe he will do his best to keep the sport upon the plane where he has done so much to establish it.

SUSPENSION FOR E. LAMY

Saracuse Lake Skater Put Under Ban for Refusing to Skate at Montreal Saturday—New Officers Elected.

Montreal, Jan. 30.—The suspension of Edmund Lamy, of Saracuse Lake, N. Y., for the balance of the racing season was announced yesterday by the International skating union of America.

In the international half-mile championship Saturday Lamy refused to abide by the referee's decision, when he ordered the final heat reskated because it was not covered within a specified time limit.

The official announcement of Lamy's suspension given out today says in part:

I saw 15 fights in one week with Abe Attell the drawing card upon two occasions, and both times he came home in the shadow of Joe Coster and Patsy Kline shading him.

"His suspension followed the report of the referee of the races, James A. Taylor, to the officers of the International skating union of America, who were in Montreal, for their annual meeting. This body promptly took action in the matter, sustaining the referee's interpretation of the racing rules."

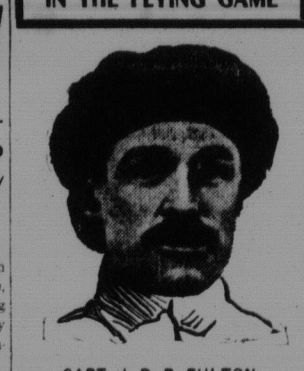

"The action of the officials of the International skating union is in accordance with their professed efforts to promote legitimate skating competition in the United States and Canada, and they are determined to see that in the future there shall be no more hippodroming by the skaters in the international skating races."

The international skating union today announced the election of these officers for 1911-12:
Allan Blanchard, of Chicago, pres.; John Harding, of Saracuse Lake and James A. Taylor, of Montreal, vice-pres.; Fred H. Tucker, of Brooklyn, secretary; David H. Stayback, of Vermont, N. J., F. Westlake, of Chicago, Louis Rubenstein, of Montreal, J. Boswell, of Winnipeg, board of control.

WHO'S WHO IN THE FLYING GAME

The British army has at last an officer who can hold his own with the birdmen of the French and German armies and all Britain is happy again. Over in Europe they believe that much of the success in future warfare will depend upon the army air corps, and now that Capt. Fulton has shown his ability to fly it is expected that Great Britain will encourage aerial attempts upon the part of her soldiers.

LOTS GOING IN SPORT LINE AT WOODSTOCK

Woodstock should enter a team in the next provincial tournament, for the men who wash the timbers some in the Carleton county metropolis. A visitor to Field's bowling alley on Saturday saw the best of those who had qualified for the weekly roll-off with their scores.

Out of 12 men, eight were over the century mark, the highest getting up as far as 120. There were three at 108 and none lower than 95. This is some rolling and a team of the best men should be able to make the holders of that handsome trophy hus- tie.

Not satisfied with bowling as a winter sport, an indoor baseball league has been organized and the first match game will take place tomorrow evening. Peasey, Hockey Jennings' latest hope, is spending a few weeks at home, but it is reported that he is entirely eclipsed as an indoor star by Proprietor Fields himself, who scored several home runs during a practice game.

Ladies invited. At the adjourned meeting of the St. John Golf Club which will be held at the board of trade rooms tonight, any of the members of the ladies association who wish to take part in the discussion will be welcome.
