

UP-TO-DATE NEWS OF THE MOVING PICTURE WORLD

CELEBRITIES IN THE FILM WORLD

Many distinguished people photographed with Our Mutual girl.

Many distinguished people appear in the adventures of Our Mutual Girl. In each case before the noted person is shown a photograph of the person on the screen. The public is assured that in each case the actual person has been photographed, and at no time does an actor or actress impersonate the person named. Among those who have already been photographed with Our Mutual Girl are Andrew Carnegie, District Attorney Whitman of New York, Billie Burke, Mrs. Harriet Stanton Blatch, Mrs. Inez Milholland Boieslav, Walter Damrosch, John J. McGraw, Rev. Thomas Dixon, Mr. and Mrs. August Belmont, Mrs. Lusia Teasdale, Mrs. Yorke and Yvonne, the celebrated violinist.

Other persons who have achieved fame as financiers, politicians, on the stage, in literature and art will appear from time to time, and those who watch the serial will see them exactly as they appear in their homes or of business.

THE COURTS.

In the case of Snowball vs. Sullivan the injunction restraining the defendant from disposing of certain lumber has been continued by consent. The trial will take place in this city on July 25. An application for a change of venue was refused by Mr. Justice White. M. G. Teed, K. C., and R. A. Lawlor, K. C., appeared for the plaintiff, and H. A. Powell, K. C., for the defendant.

In the case of the Royal Trust Co., the Canadian Savings Company, Ltd., an application of the American Can Company for an order to the receiver to deliver to the applicants certain machinery on the premises of the defendant, alleged to be the property of the American Can Company, was granted by Mr. Justice White. M. G. Teed, K. C., was for the applicants, and F. R. Taylor for the defendant and receiver.

FUNERALS.

The funeral of Captain Frederick Clark was held yesterday afternoon from the residence of his son Milton 22 Acadia street. Services were conducted Thursday evening by Rev. M. S. Trafton and the body was taken to Grand Manan yesterday for interment.

The body of I. Milton Beatty was laid to rest yesterday afternoon in Cedar Hill. Services were conducted by Rev. W. R. Robinson at the residence of Mrs. L. O. Beatty, West End.

The funeral of George A. Dunham took place yesterday afternoon at St. James' church, where the burial service was read by Rev. H. A. Cody. Interment was in Fernhill.

The funeral of Mrs. Harvey Arbo was held yesterday afternoon from her late residence in Milford. Services were conducted by Rev. Mr. Hayward and interment was in Cedar Hill.

The funeral of Daniel D. Woods was held yesterday afternoon from the residence of his daughter, Mrs. John Carlson, 190 Rodney street, West St. John.

NEWSY NOTES FROM UNIQUE AND LYRIC

What is said to be one of the most elaborate picture productions in point of natural settings that has been seen at the Unique for some time will be presented there in the Exclusive Film Series next Monday and Tuesday. It is a drama of old Japan entitled "O Mimi San" with the Japanese actress, Miss Teura Ooki in the title role. The settings and acting of this study are claimed to be really remarkable.

A well known commercial man was heard to make the assertion that W. J. Mills, the pretentious actor appearing at the Lyric, was an artist to his finger tips. After seeing the performance of Mr. Mills none are inclined to doubt the truth of the statement. As a character portrayal he is one of the best St. John has seen for a long time.

An excellent array of features have been arranged for presentation at the Unique Dominion Day. In the twelfth chapter of Our Mutual Girl, Margaret sees the soldiers and sailors' monument, Grant's tomb, Trinity church and visits the Tomb prison, New York. The Mailestic company will be seen in a startling story of a battle between one man and a large corporation entitled, "His Punishment," while the Keystone company will supply the holiday comedy in their usual excellent style, offering a late success, "A Film Johnnie."

The Morris Sisters whose act proved so pleasing at the Lyric last week are now filling a three days' engagement at the Bijou Theatre, St. Stephen, from there they work through Maine. It is possible that they will sign with Gus Hills' musical comedy production, "Atut and Jeff in Mexico," next season.

The Lyric will present Prince and La Polita society exponents of the tango and other late dances at the Lyric the first three days of next week.

A real comedy feast will be offered at the Unique next Friday and Saturday when the Keystone company will present the automobile race absurdity entitled "Mabel at the Wheel."

Miss Normand will be seen in one of her best roles; her work at the wheel during the race, when the different cars are ditched, is said to be a feat thrilling in the extreme.

Maizie Rowlands, an Australian girl, who has won fame in America for her ability as a child impersonator, will be seen at the Lyric in the very near future.

The special feature for the kiddies at the Unique next Saturday afternoon will be Thantou's kidlet and twin novelty, "Their Great Big Beautiful Doll."

George Enos of the Lyric staff is spending a few weeks' vacation at his home near Eastport, Me.

Tasca and Marie, known in the vaudeville world as the Italian song birds, will be the foremost attraction at the Lyric the last half of next week.

"The Turning Point," a society drama by the American Exclusive Players, will be shown at the Unique week of July the sixth.

Prince and La Polita, the tango dancers at the Lyric the first of next week, recently captured first prize in a dancing competition held in New York.

R. Arden Clark of West St. John has been added to the Unique forces as special balcony police.

"The Smugglers of Slingo," a two-part Romance drama of the Irish coast, is scheduled for presentation at the Lyric the last three days of next week.

TAX TO BE LEVIED ON JEWEL CASKETS OF WASHINGTON SOCIETY.

MRS. PERRY BELMONT
Persons socially prominent in Washington have been thrown into consternation by a ruling of Mr. Conrad Syme, Corporation Counsel for the District of Columbia, that after August 1 next a tax of one and a half per cent, or $15 a thousand, will be imposed upon jewelry articles of personal adornment and heirlooms. For the last ten years no attempt has been made to tax jewelry, but Mr. Syme, in a new interpretation of the statute, takes the opposite view, and, acting upon his opinion, the assessor of the district of Columbia will impose the new tax.

Washington's resident circle is famous for its collection of rare and unusual gems. Among women, many of whom possess jewels discussed on two continents, Mrs. William F. Draper, widow of the one-time Ambassador to Italy; Mrs. John Skelton Williams, Mrs. Thomas F. Walsh and her daughter, Mrs. Edward Beale McLean; Mrs. Clarence Moore, Mrs. Perry Belmont and Mrs. Malvina Drummond.

The President's daughter, Mrs. William F. Draper, is an opal pendant given by her late husband. Mrs. John Skelton Williams, a bracelet watch of rare design presented by the members of the Senate, will fall with no light weight.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

Navigation laws originated with the Rhodians in 916 B. C., and the Prolegomena later developed a navigation code which contained many features which, in modified form, are still in use. England's first code of maritime laws is attributed to Richard I., who is said to have decreed them at the Isle of Oleron, on this date in the year 1194. Further enactments were made by Richard II. in 1381, and by Parliament in 1651. The latter act, affirmed and extended during the reign of Charles II., was the foundation on which England's maritime supremacy was built. A new act for the encouragement of British shipping and navigation, passed on June 26, 1849, gave further impetus to the development of the English merchant marine. In the United States the first navigation laws were passed in 1792, and they have been changed very little since that date.

FRANCIS X. BUSHMAN FOR THE GEM THEATRE

A fine array of pictures has been secured for all next week.

The management of the Gem Theatre has prepared an exceptionally attractive bill of features for next week and especially for the national holiday. For the first two days in the week will be shown a two part Essanay drama mystery entitled "The Three Scratch Clue," showing all the wily methods of the experienced gentlemen crooks; it is interspersed with some stirring scenes showing the renowned player, Francis X. Bushman in the most important role.

The holiday bill for Wednesday and Thursday has for a headliner "The Old Fire Horse and the New Chief," a Vitaphone photoplay in two reels, with John Bunny and Kate Price figuring prominently. In this picture the new chief has the right ideas but old habits disqualify him. A terrible fire brings the old chief back on the job.

The holiday picture for the week shows the Aquitania, the largest vessel afloat, entering New York harbor, and other news pictures of interest, including the funeral and memorial services of the Empress Victoria.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

On Friday and Saturday Ford Sterling returns to the Gem with a brand new line of comedy that will make even the most solemn take a new lease of life. The orchestra will have an entire new programme of the latest popular music.

Farm Settlement Board.
A meeting of the Farm Settlement Board was held yesterday when matters of a routine nature were discussed and arrangements made for the transfer of several farms to new settlers or natives.

HAD INDIGESTION.

Almost Despaired of Ever Getting Well.

When your food has not been properly digested, your body has not received the benefit it should. The exertions of the gastric juice have been confined entirely to removing the undigested and indigestible portions of food, which they cannot properly digest as speedily as possible from the body, therefore only giving the blood a small percentage of nourishment with which to feed the tissues. No wonder then that Indigestion and Dyspepsia attack the stomach. No medicine can surpass Burdock Blood Bitters as a cure for this particular disease. It regulates the bowels, promotes perfect digestion, makes pure blood, tones the stomach, and thus restores perfect health to the debilitated system.

Mrs. Mary MacKay, Hunter's Mountain, N.S., writes:—"I was troubled with indigestion for more than ten years. I tried several Doctor's medicines claiming the power to cure, but all without success. Having heard of the many cures effected by Burdock Blood Bitters, I decided to give it a trial. After taking two bottles I was completely cured. My appetite which was very poor, is now good, and I can eat most everything without any disagreeable feelings. I can strongly recommend B.B.B. to anyone suffering from indigestion."

IMPERIAL An Immense Program for the End of Week

"KATHLYN" Series No. 8 The Cruel Crown

"THE EVIL SHE DID"—Selig Drama

"STUNG" ROARING COMEDY FUNNY MIX-UP "DIPPY'S DREAM"

SIMPLE EXPERIMENTS IN ELECTRICITY A Truly Wonderful Educational Film

Mellor and DePaula Snappy Musical Hits By Festival Orchestra

"THE KISS" A Beautiful Vitaphone Drama

Congregational Church

Another Illustrated Sermon Sunday Evening 7 o'clock.
"BIBLE HEROINES."—Beautiful pictures imported especially from New York will be used. The galaxy of Bible heroines includes the names of Sarah, Miriam, Deborah, Hannah, Rizpah, Esther, Mary and many others. An interesting service you can't afford to miss.
EVERYBODY WELCOME

AT THE CHARLOTTE STREET THEATRES

NEXT WEEK

IN HOLIDAY ATTIRE FOR DOMINION DAY

UNIQUE

MON.-TUE. The novelty Japanese spectacle "O MIMI SAN" In two parts. One of the finest productions in the Exclusive Film Series. The settings are magnificent.

"The Thief Catcher" New comedians in Key stone farce.

MON.-TUES. WED. Flashed from the garden of dancers Prince and LaPolita Modern ballroom dances, including the Tango. (with additional steps)

WEEKLY NEWS Lots of interesting things THE WARNING CRY Majestic story of state life.

COMING! The Australian character actress MAIZIE ROWLANDS

WED.-THUR. Features de resistance for holiday crowds. Our Mutual Girl meets Bruce McRae The actor and visits many points of interest.

A Film Johnnie It's absurd, but funny Keystone.

His Punishment Majestic thriller.

THU.-FRI.-SAT. The best game from the forest of singers LaTasca and Marie The Italian song birds in delightful mélange of popular and classical airs.

THE SMUGGLERS OF SLIGO Romance special in two parts.

FRIDAY AND SATURDAY—BIG HOLIDAY SPECIAL BILL John Bunny and Kate Price in Vitaphone comedy with a touch of pathos.

"THE OLD FIRE HORSE AND THE NEW CHIEF" Also Hearst-Selig Pictorial with the latest picture news.

FRI.-AND SAT.—FORD STERLING will be here with another of his unexcelled comedies.

The Gem Orchestra in a lot of new hits.

The Gem Orchestra in a lot of new hits.

A TREAT FOR MUSIC LOVERS

High Class Concert in Century church will hear-ty approval of capacity audience.

A very fine musical concert was given in the school room of the Century church last evening by the National Society for Broader Education in co-operation with the Every Day Boys' Club, when Marie Stilwell, the famous contralto, Maurice Warner, violinist, and Lee Cronican, pianist, were heard in St. John for the first time. The concert which was entitled "Aspiration," and was the first of two concerts to be given here, was a remarkably well balanced performance.