The Great Washington Divine With Impassioned Eloquence Says: "I Proclaim the Abolition of Death"-All Nature Proclaims the Resurrection of the Dead.

Entered According to Act of Parliament of Can-ada, in the year 1992, by William Baily, of To-ronto, at the Dep't of Agriculture, Ottawa.

Washington, March 30.-The Christian view of death as the entrance to a fuller life is presented in this East-off bolt of Christ's sepulchre and holding high in her left hand the key to all the cemeteries in Christendom. My text is an ejaculation. It is spun out of halleluiahs. Paul wrote right on, in his argument about the gesurrection and observed all the laws of logic, but when he came to laws of logic, but when he came to write the words of the text his fin-gers and his pen and the parchment on which he wrote took fire, and he cried out, "Teach is swallowed up in victory!" It is an exciting thing to see an army routed and hyme, They run each other down. They scatter everything valuable in the track. Uneverything valuable in the track. Ch-wheeled artillery; hoof of horse on largest of wounded and dying; man. You have heard of the French falling back from Sedan, of Napoleon's track of 90,000 corpses in the snowbanks of Russia, of the retreat of our arms-ise from Manassas, or of the first ies from Manassas or of the five kings tumbling over the rocks of Beth horan with their armies while the hailstorms of heaven and the words of Joshua's host struck them.

Persians, and at the door of the eastern covern of chiseled rock, where Christ came out through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and and throttled the king of terrors and christ came out through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and christ came out through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and covern when the through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and covern when the through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and covern when the through a recess and throttled the king of terrors and covern when the through a recess a thing incredible with you that covern the through a recess a thing incredible with you that covern the through a recess a thing incredible with you that covern the through a recess a thing incredible with you that the through a recess a thing incredible with you that the through a thing but him back in the niche from which the celestial Conqueror had just emerged. Aha! When the jaws of the "Why should it be thought a thing incredible with you that God should raise the dead?" The insects flew eastern mausoleum took down the black giant, "death was swallowed up in victory," I proclaim the aboli-tion of death. The old antagonist is driven back into mythology with all the long and the worms crawled last autumn feebler and feebler and then stopped. They have taken no food. They want none. They lie dormant and in-sensible, but soon the south wind will blow the resurrection trumpet. and the air and the earth will be full of them. Do you not think that God can do as much for our bodies as he does for the wasps and the spiders and the snails? This Kenilworth Castle are no more in ruins than is the sepulchre. We shall have no more to do with death than and the spiders and the snails? This morning at half past four o'clock there was a resurrection. Out of the night the day. In a few weeks there will be a resurrection in all our gardens. Why not some day a resurrection amid the graves? Even and anon there are instan-ces of men and women entranced. A trance is death followed by resur-rection after a few days; total sus-pension of mental power and vo-luntary action. Rev. William Tennent, a great evangelist of the last generation, of whom Dr. Archi-bald Alexander, a man far from being sentimental, wrote in most eu-logistic terms-Rev. William Tenwe have with the cloakroom at a governor's or a president's levee. We stop at such cloakroom and leave in charge of a servant our overcoat, our overshoes, our outward apparel, that we may not be impeded in the brilliant round of the drawing room. Well, my friends, when we go out of this world we are going to a King's banquet and to a reception of mon-archs, and at the door of the tomb archs, and at the door of the tomb we leave the cloak of flesh and the wrappings with which we meet the storms of this world. At the close of an earthly reception, under the brush and broom of the porter, the coat or hat may be handed to us better than when we resigned it, and

He marched them down, drilling them in the northwest wind and amid the slush of tempests. He threw up barricades of grave mound. He pitched tent of charnal house. Some of the troops marched with slow tread commanded by consumptions, some in double guick commanded by pneumonias. Some he took by long siegement of evil habit and some by one stroke of the battleax of casualty. With bony hand he pounded at the door of hospitals and sickrooms and won all the victories in all the great battlefields of all the five coninents. Forward, march! ordered the conqueror of conquerors, and all the generals and commanders in chief and all presidents and kings and sultans and czars dropped under the feet of his war charger. But one Christmas night his antagonist was born.

As most of the plagues and sickesses and despotisms come out the east, it was appropriate that the new conqueror should come out Fell from a Ladder land Struck on the same quarter. Power is given him to awaken all the fallen of all the centuries and of all lands and marshal them against the black giant. Fields have already been won, but the last day of the world's existence will see the decisive battle. When Christ shall lead forth his two brigades, the brigade of the riser dead and the brigade of the celestial host, the black giant will fall back. and the brigade from the riven sep-ulchres will take him from beneath and the brigade of descending im-mortals will take him from above, and death shall be swallowed up in
