"It is something more important than defending myself and my administration." he said.

He asked whether anyone could say that the need for unity had passed and exclaimed: "I wish to God everybody could, because it worries me; it fills me sometimes with dread.

"There is one issue about setting up an independent country by our very gates—the placks where submarines used to lurk and sink our ships and endanger our commerce and the life of the nation. There is an issue as to whether the policemen and soldiers who are there upholding the honor of our flag are to be shot down by men who lurk in houses. I know of no other issue."
