

so much need broad churchmen to-day as we need deep churchmen." If our convictions were more profound, perhaps there would be more loyalty, as we should then have something worth our faithfulness. Men will not die for opinions, but they have gladly suffered death for convictions which held their very souls.

So our plea is for a greater loyalty. "True blue" in all the tasks and beliefs of life. A following in the footsteps of Him whose loyalty led Him to the Cross; an imitation of her whose loyalty rescued her out of her grief, and upheld her forever "blessed among women."

The Garment of Life is woven of many colours. Its warp and woof are threaded through with differing qualities. The Hand of the Master Weaver is at the loom, and by and by the unity and beauty of the design will stand revealed. Purity, Perplexity, Pain, Bereavement, Loyalty—these are the experiences which make up the pattern of our character. Only he who has on this wedding garment will be allowed to remain at the Feast when the King comes in. "And they shall come from the East and from the West, and from the North and from the South, and shall sit down in the Kingdom of God."
