

Redeemed"—let them be entreated with all earnestness and affection to remember that Jesus is still the open door into the fold of God—that His salvation is freely offered to all—that they are invited, not to toil and labor and wait, but to believe His love, to receive the reconciliation He has made, and to rest in His finished work—then will their mouth too be filled with praise, and their heart with joy and gladness.

KINGSTON, NOVEMBER, 1855.