

Bog Spavin

Cure the lameness and remove the bunch without scarring the horse—have the part looking just as it did before the blemish came.

Fleming's Spavin Cure (Liquid) is a special remedy for soft and semi-solid blemishes—Bog Spavin, Thoroughpin, Splint, Curb, Capped Hock, etc. It is neither a liniment nor a simple blister, but a remedy unlike any other—doesn't irritate and can't be limited. Easy to use, only a little required, and your money back if it ever fails.

Fleming's Vest-Pocket Veterinary Adviser

describes and illustrates all kinds of blemishes and gives you the information you ought to have before ordering or buying any kind of a remedy. Mailed free if you write.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS.
Miscellaneous.

LIABILITY FOR STALLION SERVICE.

A travelled a stallion this season here, the rate being $20; B breeds his mare to this horse, paying $10 down; B's mare, through an accident, casts her colt. Is B liable for the remaining amount? Is A required to give another service? B. C. W. A. W.

Ans.—It depends upon the advertised or agreed terms of the service. The probability is that B is legally liable for the balance of the service fee, as the stallion did his work satisfactorily. Of course, if the stallioner guaranteed a foal to stand and suck, as some rash ones do, then B is not liable.

REGISTRATION OF HOLSTEINS.

I have a number one pure-bred imported Holstein cow, which I bred to a good pedigreed Canadian-bred Holstein bull; have numbers of both sire and dam; find it impossible to get her calves registered in the American Herdbook. What can I do about it? Is there any chance of getting papers on her calves in Canadian Herdbook? H. S. M.

Ans.—The imported Holstein cow will have to be registered in the Canadian Herdbook before her offspring can be registered here. She must be registered in the name of the importer, and be transferred to successive purchasers. For application forms and full particulars, write the Secretary, G. W. Clemons, St. George, Ontario.

SCRUB BULL.

I have rented fifty acres about one mile from where I live, on which I am pasturing some cattle. They got into the adjoining farm unknown to me, and that man, the owner of adjoining farm, turned them on the road. When I got them, there was one of the worst runts of bulls with them I ever saw, which belongs to my neighbor, and which served one of the heifers, a valuable Shorthorn. If my heifer proves to be with calf, is the owner of the bull responsible for my loss that I will have, or have I to take it as it comes? JINGO.

Ans.—We do not see that you could safely bring an action for the amount of such damages.

ACTINOMYCOSIS—LUMP JAW.

1. I have a cow affected with lump jaw since a few weeks ago. Please tell me how to cure it.

2. Is the cow fit to make beef if cured?

3. Is it contagious? J. G. Essex Co.

Ans.—1. The tumors usually can be dissected out by a veterinarian. When this is not done, the following treatment is given: Give iodide of potassium three times daily, commencing with dram doses, and increasing the dose daily by about 20 grains until desire for food and water fails, tears run from the eyes, saliva from the mouth, and the skin becomes scaly. When any of these symptoms appear, cease giving the drug. If necessary, treatment can be repeated in two months. In addition, it would be well to rub the tumors thoroughly once daily with an ointment composed of 2 drams each of iodine and iodide of potassium, mixed with 2 ounces vaseline.

2. Usually, the head and its parts are condemned, and the rest of the carcass considered usable unless the disease is generalized. It is unlawful to sell it.

3. Through the eating of the saliva, or the discharge from the suppurating tumors, one animal might get it from another. The disease arises from spores called actinomyces, which gain entrance to the blood through injuries to the mouth, tongue, etc.

GOSSIP.

At a draft sale of Shorthorns, from the herd of E. M. Forbes & Son, at Henry, Ill., on October 25th, 28 head sold for an average of $287. Thirty-two females averaged $280 and six bulls averaged $334. The highest price paid for a bull was $620 for one seven years old, Pride of 12200. The highest price for a female was $775 for the loan yearling La Belle 119.
