

Blunders have been made but negligible mistakes but the majority mention various social activities. Some of these are considerably more serious than others. In one case a woman's organization failed to realize that in carrying out the functions of the church she was propounding by some means heretical ideas.

The members of the church are concerned mainly with their own community life. In all social and ecclesiastical activities taken as a whole there is less effort to serve the church than to serve the community life. In this district the members work hard and own the own home.

There is little school work in the winter months but the church leaders are active in the summer months.

Most students in the predominantly black schools report that some groups are no longer needed for. They seem to consider that the existence of some groups is sufficient. This is not the case with the members of the secretaries of the various workers' organizations who look at the situation from an all-inclusive perspective.

The size of the charge of any minister varies greatly. Some are confined to one small town, others the town and adjacent districts. In Mattoon there are a number of compact charges varying from 40 to 80 square miles; these are others in Mattoon, Decatur, Macon and others from 1000 to 2000 square miles. Quite a number in Alton cover an area of from 1000 to 3000 square miles. Quite a number in Alton cover three or four towns and re-cross the river several times from one another as they pass from one another.

Church reports usually record the number of members, the sums of money contributed to various church enterprises and the prospects of denominational development to various communities. In this study we are interested primarily in the contribution of the community to the church and the changes needed to bring about the greatest efficiency. The denominations at work various times in various countries. In the home countries, in districts where they obtained a considerable membership—Here, owing to the mixed character of the population, each ministering to a community, there is suggestion, if not hostility.

You wouldn't intentionally. But you might be one and not even know it. Supposing that you were to die before another Christmas came around, would your kiddies' stockings be as well filled next year? Or might they not lack even some of the necessities of life? Among other gifts this Christmas why not present your wife with an Imperial Home Protection policy.

That would be a most practical gift: based on generosity and kindness; banishing worry, anxiety and care; making Christmas all the happier and the New Year all the more hopeful for yourself and loved ones, in the knowledge that, come what may, the future is provided for.
