QUINTE SUMMER SCHOOL CLOSES

Rev. Stanley E. Annis, B.D.
 Mr. Annis has spent the week among the delegates, and through personal contact as well as by public addresses has done much to give us a clearer vision. He spent the past year at "The Kennedy School of Missions" Hartford, Conn., and is now under appointment for West China. He had in early years come under the influence of a former pupil of Albert College. Speaking on the Missionary Challenge he said that after Carey had his vision of the need, the East India Company would be costly, extravagant and impertinent; that the scheme was pernicious, dangerous and fantastic. It would bring peace and safety into peril. That was only 100 years ago. Even a great Church Assembly had declared it was absurd and improper while one unsaved was unreached at home. But Christ's message was that his religion was for the whole world, carrying with a world obligation for service. Christ's command was to preach the gospel, to instruct in its meaning so men can intelligently follow, and to organize them so as to help them live the life of service.

Behind the command was the training course of years with the Master Teacher. Today we have vision as in those early days. We have come to the open Bible and to the truth of the Bible. Freely have we received access to the world is easier now. Shall we freely give? Daily cablegrams are posted in West China regarding the war. The result of the last Presidential election in the U. S. was cabled from San Francisco and was known in West China before the majority of the Americans themselves knew it.

The situation in non-Christian nations is better known today. They are wide open to Christianity, but there is a spirit of independence and patriotism, and China and Japan do not propose to suffer from aggressions of Western nations.

Also there is a spirit of racial consciousness. "We belong to the East, you to the West. We have our ideals, they are just as good as yours," they say. There are complex and intricate questions which require Christian Statesmanship.

But there is another feature. Today these nations are ripe to accept the message of the living Christ. Since the war began there has been a great rush to the Christian schools than before. There is wholesale turning to Christianity that is staggering. There is great evangelistic campaign in Japan. "Hallelujah Kim" is the Billy Sunday of Japan. There were 1,300 conversions in Japan in two weeks. Protestant missionaries are asking for 474 new missionaries to help care for the converts. Seven thousand are enrolled in study classes. The evangelical churches in Mexico, the land of strife, are packed to the doors. In India, schools are full and there are not enough churches to hold the people who want to come.

In Europe, there is a great demand for New Testaments in the trenches, so special evangelistic work is being done in France and Bulgaria. The Liquor Traffic is being driven out at home and abroad. The leaving influence of Christianity is being felt in non-Christian religions.

But there are vast unoccupied fields, and some not yet even planned for. There are 100,000,000 in India alone for whom there is no missionary. The magnitude of the task is a challenge. Nothing can save the world but the divine resources. They are placed above disposal if we are willing to use them. Shall we do our bit? The workers' training school of the Chentu District held its annual session at Jenseh last October, in many respects similar to the present school at Albert College. Eighty-five Chinese men were present out of one hundred and four delegates. It lasted one week, closing on Sunday.

It was preceded by a three-day prayer-meeting Sunrise prayer-meetings were held. It developed into a great spiritual upheaval. On the last day the spirit of God swept the company and all over the church, men fell upon their faces confessing their sins and craving pardon. It was a repetition of Pentecost. The evangelists, teachers' wives and Bible women unanimously agreed:—To tithe their income; to establish as a standard of church membership that no person was to be received and baptized until he or she had led another to Jesus Christ; to begin immediately a concerted evangelistic campaign.

Mrs. W. P. Rogers.
 Spoke on "Aims and Methods in Junior League Work." A friend of Tennyson's once said to him, "My dearest object in life, when at its best, is to leave the world, by however little, better than I found it. What is yours?"

Tennyson replied: "My dearest wish in life is to have a clearer vision of God." In the combined objective of those two friends we have the crystallization of the E. L. motto "Look up! Lift up!" If Tennyson's motto be the actuating power in our lives, nowhere do we need to guard the motive more jealously than in contact with children.

There is no work in the church which needs a broader vision, a clearer insight, a deeper devotion than the work of the Supt. of Jr. League. The solemnity and importance of Christ's last commission "Go and preach the Gospel" has been recognized from Paul's time down to our own. But no less solemn and no less important was the Master's repeated injunction to Peter: "Feed My Lambs; feed My lambs." Can we realize as did the Master that life is to be redeemed in its fountain and at its source; that the child is but the potency and promise of the man, and that the po-shouldn't you be good?" Do not make this mistake in your estimation of womanhood and their quality of goodness. If a girl is good, true and wholesome she has had to pay the price for the virtue, for the average girls meet and struggle with as many, if different temptations as the average man, and at the time of decision of right or wrong, quite as critical.

The downfall of one now and again is attended by much bitter criticism and comment, but a similar downfall from grace of a man is comparatively unnoticed.

The great influence of womanhood on the character of home and country should call us to give consideration to the training of girls of our home. The women of the world decide eternal destinies. A God-fearing, God-loving womanhood makes a God-fearing, God-loving nation.

The young women of Canada have a two-fold responsibility. We should fit the young women of Canada for the discharge of their duty to God and our fellow-citizens and must also send the gospel to women of other lands, which will make them ready to do their work of redemption. The call comes first through the home. These are days of restlessness and aspiration beyond the bounds of the home. They are invited to step into a sphere that seems wider than the somewhat limited circle of the home. A girl conscious of her own ability and with ambition to make good will ask herself if she has the right to give up her life and ambition, and perhaps resents the fact that she is restricted from living her own life by the sense of duty to those at home. There are cases where a girl can best help her friends by going out into the world, but if the home needs her, she can do better than by making the most of the daily round, the trivial task, she will not find time hanging heavily on her hands. Nowhere can she find so many occasions for lending a hand which lightens the pack and so bravely helps the fellow pilgrim along his way. We take comfort in the thought that we are serving where God has placed us. Even if far from home, we are still responsible for our duty to the home folk, and should so live such lives as will bring no discredit to the home. Then the call comes to us through the church and community. Young women must arouse themselves to meet the need. Boys will invariably respond to the teaching of a consecrated young woman, who weans well and tries to live right, when they will not respond to teaching of a man who is not wholly consecrated.

We must broaden our sympathy in order to discharge our duty. There must be complete consecration, high ideals and development of head and heart. The doors of knowledge are open even for those who cannot attend college. Then some must fit in the smaller corners of life, and do the work others do not care to do. At a tea-meeting there are always those willing to do the showy work, but there is also the quiet dark corner for washing the dishes.

It is a girl's privilege and duty to demand of her friends the same purity of speech and conduct they demand of her. We should refuse to walk, drive or associate with men who have lost self-respect. Women of the higher type should not associate with men of the lower type.

The speaker said as she thought of the Summer Schools of previous years and of the wonderful results she felt it was worth while. We cannot spend a week together in this way without glorious results.

Prof. G. F. Stewart gave a truly wonderfully powerful and illuminative address on "God in Human History" of which nothing but a full report could really do justice, so clearly did he show the lines of history converged to Calvary, and radiate from Calvary and how the wrong of men had been overruled for the glory of God.

Jottings of the School.

The women speakers fully sustained the reputation of the fair sex for gifts, graciousness and goodness. The school would freely accord them the accolade.

It is expected that the school will meet at Albert College next year.

It was not a printer's mistake that made it appear that Rev. W. P. Rogers tied for the championship in field sports with Rev. W. W. Jones. It was Raymond Rogers, (son of Rev. W. P.) who won. He promises to be even a better sport than his father.

The city press was cordially thankful for its generous reports.

The fellowship and sacramental service on Sunday morning will never be forgotten.

The Leaguers of the Quinte Conference support 17 missionaries at home and abroad, including George Denyes from Belleville District.

Dr. McLaughlin left early Monday morning for Hamilton Conference School.

Principal Baker, the Board of Management and staff were heartily praised for their kindness.

Some students of former Summer Schools are in khaki. At least one has made the supreme sacrifice.

Several prayer meetings were held each morning in the rooms of the delegates, conducted by themselves.

The group photo of the school is exceptionally fine. A cut of it will appear in Youth and Service, the only distinctly Young People's paper in Canada.

A Boys' Conference will be held next winter.

A booklet containing a historical sketch of the Quinte Summer School will be issued in a year or two. It has been held first at 12 O'clock Point, then Bobcaygeon, Chemong Park, Wellington and Albert College. All former students or delegates are requested to send items about any feature of these former schools, or any photos, etc., that might have value in the preparation and gathering of material to Rev. S. F. Dixon, Stirling, who has been appointed Historian.

Rev. Mr. Annis gave a searching talk Sunday afternoon.

Prof. McLaughlin's sermon on Sunday night was a continuation of and a summing up of the week's Bible study, with a powerful plea for a virile life. This was followed by a covenant and consecration service with a definite objective.

Rev. S. C. Moore, B.A., B.D., chairman of the Belleville District warmly commended the work of the school.

Six students wrote on the Teacher Training Course and more will do so later as the result of the classes. The teachers ably led the respective classes, both in teacher training and in mission study.

Rev. S. T. Tucker, B.A., leader of the Social Service Group at the school preached in the Tabernacle on Sunday evening.

The officers for the ensuing year are: Honorary Presidents, Rev. E. N. Baker, M.A., D.D., Albert College and Rev. R. A. Whittam, Peterboro; President, Rev. Wm. Higgs, Millbrook Ont., 1st Vice Pres., (Christian Endeavor), Rev. W. H. Clark, Cavan; 2nd Vice Pres., (Missionary), Rev. P. H. ANY WOMAN'S STRUGGLE FOR GOOD HEALTH QUICKLY REWARDED

A Simple Home Treatment Now Advocated that Gives Fine Results.

When a woman's face grows haggard and pale, when she is tired all day and ready to cry when night comes, she ought to know something is wrong.

Putting off only make matters worse. The best advice we can give any sickly woman is to test out the following treatment.

At the close of every meal, with a sip or two of water, take two chocolate-coated Ferrozone Tablets. This seems to be the best thing going for folks that are tired out, run-down and in need of a strengthening, building-up medicine.

Ferrozone's action aids the three principal functions of the body—digestion, assimilation, elimination.

By strengthening digestion it forms an abundance of rich, red blood—this gives good color.

By perfecting assimilation, Ferrozone supplies nutrition—this gives strength, vim, stability.

Elimination is assured because Ferrozone softens the action of the liver, kidneys and bowels—this guarantees the maintenance of vigorous health.

Ferrozone puts you on the right road—the one that leads to health.

Not a man, woman or child needing blood, vigor, endurance—not a person who is weak, nervous or sickly not a person in ill-health who won't receive immediate help from Ferrozone.

As a tonic and restorative, as a health-bringer and body-builder, Ferrozone is unrivalled. It cures because it feeds and nourishes, because it contains the elements that build up and strengthen. Try it yourself—sold everywhere in 50 cent boxes, 6 boxes for $2.50, or by mail from The Carthozone Co., Kingston, Ont.
