Because of these tremendous movements the Russians have not been able to reinforce their armies operating in Turkish Asia and the advance on Bagdad has been stopped and there seems to be no present prospect of a junction between Sir Percy Lake and the Russians. The Turks claim to have re-occupied Kermanshah and that the Russians are falling back before their counter-attack. The Russians have made some advance west of Erzerum.

A FINE NEW BUILDING ERECTED

Borden Hall Opened With Formal Ceremonies.

Substantial Structure Recently Opened—Built from Private Subscriptions—Serves Several Purposes

Conspicuous amongst the new buildings at Aldershot Camp is Borden Hall, which was recently opened with dignified formal ceremonies in the presence of Lt.-Col. W. E. Thompson, Commandant of the Camp and Officers of Staff, Lt.-Col. Allison H. Borden, commanding the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade, Lt.-Col. Parsons, O. C., 85th Battalion; Lt.-Col. Day, O. C., 185th Battalion, and other officers and the chaplains of the various battalions. Lt.-Col. Thompson, Camp Commandant, as chairman of the occasion, briefly remarked the notable spaciousness and substantial structure of the Hall, its pleasant site and value for the social life of the men of the Brigade. On behalf of the military authorities, he thanked Capt. Chaplain Ronald MacDonald for his labors in obtaining the subscriptions which made the Hall an actuality. Short addresses were given also by Lieut. A. L. MacDonald, 185th Battalion, and Capt. Ronald MacDonald, the latter formally conveyed the Hall in perpetuity for the use of the soldiers in camp who subscribe to the creed and discipline of the Catholic Church. He explained the purposes of the Hall and unveiled the entablature on the arch revealing the name "Borden Hall," the name being chosen, he said, to do honor to Lt. Col. Borden, commanding the Nova Scotia Highland Brigade. Music for the occasion was furnished by the 85th and 185th bands.

Spacious Structure

The building, which is in oblong bungalow style, is 70 feet by 30 feet with a 10 foot post and a pitched roof projecting over a spacious verandah. A room 30 feet by 10 feet is cut off the northern end for an officers' reading room. It is finished in Douglas pine. Next to this is a passage way across the building opening on the verandah. Here an altar is installed for week-day mass. A sliding door opens into the common reading room which is 55 feet by 35 feet. A writing ledge runs along the exterior wall of this room and a long table in the centre holds a copious supply of magazines, newspapers, etc., etc. Writing paper of excellent quality is furnished free of charge.

Thus far the building has already justified the expenditure which we understand is about $1200, for it has been constantly used by the boys of the Brigade and often beyond its capacity.

Mr. D. Chisholm of Antigonish is the obliging caretaker and secretary.
