Doctors Gave Her Up.

REMARKABLE EXPERIENCE OF MRS. SALOIS, OF ST. PIER.

La Grippe, followed by inflammation of the lungs, and then the Verge of the Grave—Her Whole Body Racked with Pain—Her Husband Brought Her Home to Die, but She is Again in Good Health.

In the pretty little town of St. Pier, Bagot county, is one of the happiest families in the whole province of Quebec, and the cause of much of this happiness is the inestimable boon of health conferred through the use of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. Mrs. Eva Salois is the person thus restored, and she tells her story as follows:—Like a great many other Canadians, my husband and myself left Canada for the States, in hope that we might better our condition, and located at Lowell, Mass. About a year ago I gave birth to a bright little boy, but while yet on my sick bed I was attacked with la grippe, which developed into inflammation of the lungs. I had the very best of care, and the best of medical treatment, and although the inflammation left me I did not get better, but continually grew weaker and weaker.

I could not sleep at night, and I became so nervous that the least noise made me tremble and cry. I could not eat, and was reduced almost to a skeleton. My whole body seemed racked with pain to such an extent that it is impossible for me to describe it. I got so low that the doctor who was attending me lost hope, but suggested calling in another doctor for consultation. I begged them to give me something to deaden the terrible pain I endured, but all things done for me seemed unavailing. After the consultation was ended my doctor said to me, you are a great sufferer, and it will not be long. We have tried everything; we can do no more. I had therefore to prepare for death, and would have welcomed it as a relief to my suffering, were it not for the thought of leaving my husband and child. When my husband heard what the doctors said, he replied then we will at once go back to Canada, and weak and suffering as I was we returned to our old home. Friends here urged that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills be tried, nothing then for some weeks I rallied, and from that on I constantly improved in health. I am now entirely free from pain. I can eat well, and sleep well, and am almost as well as I was in my life, and this renewed health and strength I owe to the marvelous powers of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and in gratitude I urge all sick people to try them.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills create new blood, build up the nerves, and thus drive disease from the system. In hundreds of cases they have cured after all other medicines had failed, thus establishing the claim that they are a marvel among the medicines of the medical profession. The genuine Pink Pills are sold only in boxes, bearing the full trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." Protect yourself from imposition by refusing any pill that does not bear the registered trade mark around the box.

A WOMAN'S WORRIES

Would be few were it not for Her Aches and Pains—Fewer Still to Men and Women Alike, Were the Great South American Remedies in Every House.

No case of rheumatism or neuralgia of so long standing that it will not succumb to the wonderful South American Remedies. Rheumatic Cure. Mrs. John Beaumont, Elora, Ont., says:—"For 15 years I have been an intense sufferer from rheumatism. At times confined to my bed. I doctored with all the best physicians, but with little or no relief. My recovery was almost despairing. I was induced by a friend to try South American Rheumatic Cure. After taking a few doses I was able to sit up, and when I had taken I was as well as ever. When it is remembered that the pain was so intense at times that I could not be moved in my bed I can but say that my cure has been a wonderful one."

No case of indigestion or all diseases are perhaps those of the kidneys, and it is only within a few years that advanced medical science has stepped in, and has successfully coped with the ravages of these dread disorders. The thousands of cases which have been helped and absolutely cured by the use of the great South American Kidney Cure is proof that the proprietor of the formula which gives to the world this valuable leader has made a thorough study of such diseases, and the cure speaks the great truths he discovered. A. Williamson, Customs Officer, Kingston, Ont., a prominent citizen of that town, lends his testimony to the good benefit derived from its use. "I am highly recommended to suffering humanity for all affects of the bladder and kidneys. It cured me when all else failed."

The dyspeptic—who does not pity him! Emaciated, weary, gloomy, suffering agonies in mind and body. And how many persons there are who have all of these symptoms, and neglect to give them the most needed, and in the most incredible time are drawn into the agonies of physical suffering. Such American Nerve never fails in such cases. It gives quick relief, and persistency in its use is always rewarded by a cure. "I suffered agonies from aggravated indigestion and dyspepsia," writes W. F. Jolger, of K. New, Ont. "I was induced to use South American Nerve as a last resort, and two bottles cured me of sufferings which had baffled every treatment before it. Sold by J. F. Lamb & Son."

MISS HELEN KELLER.

DEAF, DUMB AND BLIND, SHE IS YET WELL EDUCATED.

This Remarkable Young Girl is Now Preparing to Take a College Course—How She Prepared Herself—How She Means.

Helen Keller, deprived when nineteen months old of the powers of speech, hearing and sight, is now, at the age of 16 years, entering upon a course of studies which, she expects, will result in her receiving from Radcliffe College, the annex of Harvard University, the degree of bachelor of arts. She expects to reside in the same class, to pass the same examinations, and to enter in the same competitions with young women who are in possession of every faculty. She will enter Dr. Gilman's school in Cambridge this fall to complete her final preparation for Radcliffe.

Much was printed several years ago concerning this exceptionally gifted girl. She is developing into a woman of beautiful attainments. She is fulfilling all the promise of her younger years, when Richard Watson Glider and Edmund Clarence Stedman, poets and prose writers, and the scientific world was discussing her remarkable case.

Her father is an editor in Tusculum, Ala. He is a descendant of the Fairfaxes of Virginia, and her mother was a Massachusetts Adams. She inherited a taste for literature and the study of languages.

She lost three of her senses when an infant, and practically nothing was done for her education until she was taken in charge when 7 years old by Miss Sullivan, who has been her companion and teacher ever since.

The child learned to understand language by feeling the lips of the person who addressed her. She learned to talk by imitating the motions of the lips, larynx and teeth, which she observed in others. Her sense of touch became her eyes. She received impressions from the outside world by vibrations of touch, and by the spelling of words into her hand by means of the so-called manual alphabet.

Miss Keller has in this way learned to speak English, French and German, with almost equal facility. Since she has been pupil of the Wright-Hamson school in this city she has read many of the German and French classics by means of raised letters. Her clear, well-modulated voice she quotes Shakespeare, Schiller and Racine.

A Frenchman whom the girl met recently, heard her speak, and did not detect her inability to see and hear until she astonished him by putting her fingers to his lips to ascertain what he was saying. Her eyes are clear and bright. Her face is cheerful, and she has none of the hopeless look so common to those who are blind.

She has made progress in mathematics, although on account of her imaginative and poetic disposition she does not reach the average in the exact sciences. She has written some sketches which show an insight and observation which would hardly seem possible to one with such limitations. She has an exceptional gift of language and her productions are rhetorically perfect.

She will be accompanied during her college course by Miss Sullivan, who will interpret for her by a sort of telegraph upon the palm of the hand what the teachers are saying. She will sit in the class room, and will not be a woman beside her constantly holding her hand, it would be impossible to distinguish her from the wide-eyed and bright-faced young women around her. She has attained such perfection in using the voice, which she has learned to hear, that her accent and emphasis are entirely natural.

At the recent meeting of the "Association to Promote the Teaching of Speech to the Deaf," at which 300 delegates from the United States and abroad were present, Miss Keller, the deaf and blind girl, was present and delivered orally a short address, a printed copy of which was distributed. The president of the association, Dr. J. M. Smith, of the Indiana State Institute for the Deaf, said that he had never heard of a deaf and blind girl who could speak so well as Miss Keller. He said that he had never heard of a deaf and blind girl who could speak so well as Miss Keller. He said that he had never heard of a deaf and blind girl who could speak so well as Miss Keller.

FRANKVILLE.

MONDAY, August 10.—Farmers are now very busy at harvesting and report good crops.

Miss Etta Livingston, of Athens, is the guest of Miss Addie Richards.

Miss Gertrude Gallagher has returned home after spending a few weeks at Ottawa.

Miss Laura Mitchell will give a lawn party on Tuesday evening. About forty are expected to attend.

A number of our young men spent last week in Brockville. Among them were, F. B. Stewart, A. Hanton, J. C. Eaton, D. L. Johnson and A. Crumley. All report having had an excellent time.

Hair Restored to Natural Color.

I have used many preparations for restoring hair to natural color, but never had satisfactory results till I used Zulu Valer; It will restore any hair or beard to its natural color in three weeks. If it does not return your hair, money, so you take no risks. People who have never tried it can get a sample package which contains enough to restore any one's hair to natural color, by sending 21 cent stamps, to Wilson & Co., New Concord, Ohio.

The regular price is $2.50 per package. If it does not restore your hair to natural color or make any color of hair darker in three weeks, they will return your stamps. This proposition is so fair that thousands are using it. It is harmless, but never fails. Why can't big money be made selling Zulu Valer from house to house?

A Chance to Make Money.

I have a recipe, gray and peaches a year old, free as when packed. I use the California Cold process, do not heat or seal the fruit, just put it up cold, keeps perfectly fresh, and costs almost nothing; can put up a bushel in ten minutes; it is a sure thing, and will pay a dollar for directions when they will see the beautiful samples of fruit. As there are many people poor like myself, I consider it my duty to give my experience to such, and to help one of our kindred who are in a few days. I will mail sample of fruit and full directions, to any of our readers for 18 cent stamps, which are the actual cost of the samples, postage extra, to me.

WASHINGTON CORNERS.

MONDAY, Aug. 10.—We are very much pleased to say that Rob Morrison is able to be out driving and looking very much improved.

Mr. William Earl obtained a good supply of water at a depth of one hundred and seventeen feet, with a six inch hole drilled in a solid sandstone rock. He is about to erect a windmill.

Harvesting is in full progress, with a fairly good crop. Corn and potatoes are very promising.

On the 4th inst., Mrs. Jane Moulton presented her large lord with a young daughter, who seems to be a very welcome visitor, as all the rest are boys.

The New House Free to all. I read in the Christian Standard, that Miss A. M. Fritz, Station A, St. Louis, Mo., would give an elegant plated spoon to anyone sending her ten cent stamps. I sent for one and found it as good as I expected. I gave it to my friends, and made $13.00 in two hours, taking orders for the spoon. The spoon is a household necessity. It cannot slip into the dish or cooking vessel, being held in the place by a hook on the back. The spoon is made of silver, and is a very useful article. It is a household necessity. WILTSETOWN.

SATURDAY, Aug. 8.—Farmers are busily engaged securing their harvest, which is all ripe.

Mr. and Mrs. Towless visited Prescott and Odensburg recently.

We saw an account of the marriage of the pope's daughter, I suppose it is true. Her name is said to be, Miller, of Napanee, widow of the late Rev. W.W. Miller.

Miss Rebecca Rowson has returned home from New York, accompanied by a lady friend.

Rev. U. B. Brown and family have returned to their home after a week's visit with their parents.

Miss Jeanette M. Kelly has returned home after visiting at Charleston for a few days.

Miss Essie Stacey has gone on a visit to her friends at New Dublin.

CONQUESTS FOR MEDICAL SCIENCE.

A Bad Heart—Chronic Catarrh—Vanish at the Touch of Dr. Agnew's Wonderful Cures.

"I tried Dr. Agnew's Cure for the Heart and obtained immediate relief. I have taken four bottles and now am entirely free from every symptom of heart trouble, and I hope that the knowledge may induce others troubled as I was to give this most valuable remedy a trial," writes Thomas Potry, of Aylmer, Quebec. You can readily verify any testimonial quoted in commendation of medical science. Thousands have tested its curative qualities after having "doctored" for years, and were pronounced hopeless cases. If as a last resort it has proved such a boon, what suffering would be spared if, when the slightest uneasiness at the heart is experienced, Dr. Agnew's Heart Cure were tried.

CATARH— "I should not feel that I was doing my duty did I not recommend Dr. Agnew's Catarrhal Powder to every one," writes George Lewis, Shamokin, Pa., and think that an average of 80 to 90 in every hundred who use it will use it to a lesser or greater degree affected by this insidious disease. HERMAN SUDERMANN.

THE GREAT GERMAN REALIST AND MOST FAMOUS PLAYWRIGHT.

His Striking, Handsome Man Whose Play "Hans and Gretchen" the People Play—He is to Shudder—Read Him a Cry: Know Him an Optimist.

Herman Sudermann, whose problem play "Magda," is now causing people to shudder, is the German realist and most famous playwright.

Only as the shifting wind drives the mist to one side can the foot of the falls be seen. When one catches the view, it is that of a most beautiful picture. The gorge is narrow, and within this well the water shows a bright low of light. Above, the mist rises seventy-five or a hundred feet, and within this well the water shows a bright low of light. Above, the mist rises seventy-five or a hundred feet, and within this well the water shows a bright low of light.

Such are the Kakabeka falls; such the Kaminitiquia gorge. The hand of man has never been laid upon them. The setting of this gem is the forest primeval.

MONUMENT TO MOZART.

The Marble Memorial Recently Unveiled by the Emperor of Austria.

Emperor Francis Joseph of Austria recently unveiled a marble monument to Mozart in Vienna. The project to erect this monument was first conceived in 1883, and a committee was formed to see that the work was done. The monument was with many delays, but the monument was at last finished and put in place. It is a portrait of the composer, and is a work of art.

GASTON PARIS.

The Gentleman Who Recently Became One of the French Immortals.

Gaston Paris, who has recently been listed as one of the forty immortals of the French Academy, is one of the most profound philologists in all Europe. The honor which has just been conferred upon him is, perhaps, the only one that he has ever received. He is a man of letters, and is a member of the Académie des Sciences, des Lettres et des Beaux-Arts.

PRINCE VICTOR NAPOLEON.

A Descendant of the Great Napoleon, and His Notions of Royal Rights.

Prince Victor Napoleon, who has just completed his thirty-fourth year, is not a thorough representative of the imperial idea. His great ancestor was a man of the people. Victor is almost as royal as any prince of Europe. He is a descendant of the reigning houses of Wurtemberg, England, Italy and Austria. Thus, he can say, so far as his blood is concerned, he is quite as much a member of the royal caste as is the Duke of Orleans himself.

Speaking of Signor Crispien's request for a pension from the Italian Government, the London Globe says: "The British Government is not a thorough representative of the imperial idea. His great ancestor was a man of the people. Victor is almost as royal as any prince of Europe. He is a descendant of the reigning houses of Wurtemberg, England, Italy and Austria. Thus, he can say, so far as his blood is concerned, he is quite as much a member of the royal caste as is the Duke of Orleans himself."

THE KAKABEKA FALLS.

The westbound traveler who has crossed Lake Superior by a Canadian Pacific railroad late in delayed twelve hours at Port William before resuming his journey by rail. Taking advantage of this fact, six of us formed a party to visit Kakabeka falls, a bit of scenery which is now to be seen.

The Kaminitiquia river, which rises in the broken country northwest of the falls, empties into the lake at Port William, forming a good natural harbor. It was up this river that Gen. Wolsey took his troops when he went to Manitoba to put down the Red rebellion in 1870, and it was around the Kakabeka falls that the Red rebels were often seen.

A WATER TELESCOPE.

A SUBMARINE PEEPSHOW SEEN OFF NEWFOUNDLAND.

The Unique Invention of an Island Fisherman Which Daily Fills His Simple Mind with Neighbors With Food for Wonder and Speculation.

The principle of the water telescope, so named by fishermen to detect the presence of fish far below the surface of the water, has been successfully applied to the construction of a pleasure boat.

An eighteen foot naphtha launch with a glass bottom has been constructed by a Newfoundland genius and the experiment has proved a success to the extent that occupants of the boat can, while cruising about, see distinctly objects many feet below the surface of the sea.

A SUBMARINE PEEPSHOW.

used by the owner and inventor simply for pleasure and an amateur's study of the mysteries and curiosities of the waters of the bay. But Pierre St. Felix, the inventor and owner of the curious craft, expects to make a comfortable living out of it. He has had the idea for his boat ever since, as a fisher lad at Catalina, he made his first water glass by setting a bit of window glass in the bottom of a rusty tin can. He noticed how when he put this glass-bottomed can below the surface of the water, so as to avoid refraction, he could see many feet into the depths of the water. As he leaned over the side of his boat, looking into the water, he was stiff in the back, little Pierre thought what a good idea it would be if he could fix his glass in a frame, from which he could see the water without bending over. He kept his idea to himself, however, and it was not until the present year, when he is a grown man with many years of experience with the danger of the rough sea, that he sees the idea a reality, and one that is likely to carry him past the necessity of dangerous work forever.

The greater part of the eighteen feet of St. Felix's boat in the bottom, is taken up with the glass. It is arranged in three divisions, fitted close with strips of heavy leather at the edges to prevent leaking. The glass is an inch thick.

Hung along the length of the boat, so as to incline the glass on every side, there are fixed chairs, arranged in position so that a sitter may look downward without the slightest risk of injury. The chairs are made of iron, and are sixty miles north of St. John's, and every year many visitors have been in the habit of going there for no other purpose than to look into the water through the rough water glasses of the fisherman.
