Notes from Mrs. Mary Hunt's lecture given in College Hall on the evening of April 11th, 1892.—

One of the greatest questions of the nineteenth century is, What shall we do with Alcohol? Alcohol is the greatest enemy of man. Its use is a vice which involves other vices.

What shall I do with this jury? Six are on one side, four on the other side, one on both sides, and one won't vote. This jury represents the people in their relation to the Temperance question.

Some say—"What would our country do without the revenue resulting from Alcohol?" The following fact gives an answer—"For every dollar paid into the revenue through alcohol, the people have to pay thirty dollars to take care of its results.

Some say, "There is no harm in beer, it is liquid bread, cider is all right, just the juice of apples." Now this harmless beer contains three or four per cent. of alcohol, a little hops and decayed barley, and the rest is dirty water.

A picture—A young man, with a bottle of rum stands over an open grave, above the grave is the epitaph, "No drunkard can inherit the Kingdom of Heaven."

There is no truth in the saying, "Every young man must sow his 'Wild oats.' This wild oats notion is a fallacy. 'What sower ye sow that shall ye also reap.' Sow wild oats and the harvest is a broken constitution, and a dwarfed soul incapable of comprehending God. Science says, 'Plant right habits, and you get a right manhood.'

It was once thought that the moderate drinker's chief sin was his indifference upon others, but now science raises a warning voice saying "Moderate drinker, stop for your own sake! The largest share die as they live, and fill early graves, from broken natural law.

But to return to the jury. The first class in this jury are, lovers of drink, and moderate drinkers. Second class, brewers and distillers, who say, "As long as there is eight cents profit on a ten cent glass of liquor it will be sold. Third class, Politicians. They are listening for votes, and are always on the side which promises the most votes.

Fourth class consists of those who are interested but cannot act. They say, "God bless you, go ahead! I am so situated in business, politics, etc., that I cannot be decided in this matter.

A confidential brewer, not knowing to whom he spoke, told General Fink, the great Temperance worker and lecturer, that the greatest hindrance to their traffic were, the Churches, and the Women. Of the latter he said, "They never know when they are beaten, we put one down in one place, and two come up in another. They are our most dangerous enemy."

Women are successful as Temperance workers because of their Mother-love. Banded together in the W. C. T. U. which has reached nearly every quarter of the globe, their efforts are the outcome of "Organized Mother-love. They are moulding public sentiment.

Question—How can we get the lovers of liquor, and the moderate drinkers over on the right side? By instructing the young of our schools in "Scientific Temperance," for when a lover of liquor or moderate drinker falls, there will be a trained temperance man to put in his place. A bill has been presented by the women, to the legislators of nearly all the States of the American Union, asking that physiology and hygiene, with special reference to alcohol and tobacco, be taught in the public schools. Thirty five states now have this instruction in the schools. How did we have the courage for this work? Well, we did not

One of the greatest questions of the nineteenth century is, What shall we do with Alcohol? Alcohol is the greatest enemy of man. Its use is a vice which involves other vices.

What shall I do with this jury? Six are on one side, four on the other side, one on both sides, and one won't vote. This jury represents the people in their relation to the Temperance question.

It was once thought that the moderate drinker's chief sin was his indifference upon others, but now science raises a warning voice saying "Moderate drinker, stop for your own sake! The largest share die as they live, and fill early graves, from broken natural law.

But to return to the jury. The first class in this jury are, lovers of drink, and moderate drinkers. Second class, brewers and distillers, who say, "As long as there is eight cents profit on a ten cent glass of liquor it will be sold. Third class, Politicians. They are listening for votes, and are always on the side which promises the most votes.

Fourth class consists of those who are interested but cannot act. They say, "God bless you, go ahead! I am so situated in business, politics, etc., that I cannot be decided in this matter.

A confidential brewer, not knowing to whom he spoke, told General Fink, the great Temperance worker and lecturer, that the greatest hindrance to their traffic were, the Churches, and the Women. Of the latter he said, "They never know when they are beaten, we put one down in one place, and two come up in another. They are our most dangerous enemy."

A bill has been presented by the women, to the legislators of nearly all the States of the American Union, asking that physiology and hygiene, with special reference to alcohol and tobacco, be taught in the public schools. Thirty five states now have this instruction in the schools. How did we have the courage for this work? Well, we did not know the politicians, but we knew that Christ had said, "Suffer little children to come unto Me." We trusted in the God of nations. Women all over the land met and prayed for the passing of the bill. This bill has been presented in Halifax, and if it passes, no license will be granted after July, 1892, to any who have not passed satisfactory examinations on this subject.

Fasten the drink habit upon a boy and all his money-making powers are mortgaged to the brewer. A child's mind is as wax to receive and as adamant to resist. Let the light pour in and educate the mind. Mother-love, deathless, is knocking at the doors of legislation. If we save and train the child to-day, have we not saved the Nation to-morrow?

An Important Warning. To the Editor THE ACADIAN. Dear Sir,—The following paragraph, which recently appeared in the legal reports of the Toronto newspapers, is of vital importance to the people of Canada: Q. B. AND C. P. DIVISIONS. Before STREET, J.

FULFORD v. HOWE.—Howe, Q. C., for the plaintiff, George Taylor Fulford, of the town of Brockville, druggist, moved for an injunction restraining the defendants, S. L. Howe and W. A. Howe, from selling pills in imitation of those sold by the plaintiff under the name of "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People," and thereby infringing the plaintiff's trademark for such pills registered under that name, which the plaintiff alleges, by reason of his extensive advertising, is well known throughout Canada. Judgment granted for a perpetual injunction.

An old adage has it that "imitation is the sincerest flattery," but when imitation takes the form of palming off upon the public worthless, perhaps positively harmful drugs, in imitation of a popular remedy, it is quite time the public is aroused to a sense of the injustice done there. There is no other proprietary remedy in Canada to-day that approaches Dr. Williams' Pink Pills in the esteem and confidence with which it is regarded by the people. And justly so, as this remedy has to its credit cures in cases where even the most eminent men in the ranks of medical science had pronounced the patients incurable. These cases have been thoroughly investigated by such leading newspapers as the Toronto Globe, Hamilton Times, Spectator and Herald, Halifax Herald, Detroit News, Albany Journal, LeMonde, Montreal, and others.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills have achieved a continental reputation, with the result that we find dealers here and there imitating the public by selling, in their stead, for the sake of extra profit worth- less imitations. These imitations are sometimes given names approaching the original, while in other cases the dealer, while not openly offering an imitation, imposes upon the customer by declaring that he can give him something "just as good." In still other cases Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are openly imitated in size, color and shape, and are sold in loose form by the dozen or hundred as the genuine Pink Pills. Against all these imitations the public should be constantly on their guard. There is absolutely no other pill, or no other remedy, that can take the place of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills as a nerve tonic and blood builder. To purchase any imitation, any substitute, or any remedy said to be "just as good" is a worse than useless expenditure of money. The public can protect themselves against all imitations of this great remedy if they will remember that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are never sold in bulk, or by the dozen or hundred. They are always put up in neat round boxes about two and a half inches in length, the wrapper around which is printed in red ink, and bears the trade mark, "Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People." If offered to you in any other form depend upon it they are worthless imitations and should be rejected as such. If your dealer does not keep Dr. Williams' Pink Pills do not let him persuade you to take any substitute he may say is "just as good." Dr. Williams' Pink Pills may be had by mail, post paid, on receipt of price, 50 cents a box, or six boxes for $2.50, by
