In the vicinity of Belleville, Ontario, a couple of stove agents have been recently putting up a slick job on the farmers. They go to a farmer and try to sell him a kitchen range for $60.
The farmer doesn't want it. The agents persuade him that it is the best thing out and that they will take his old stove at $12 in part payment and also that they will board at his place for two weeks and pay him $10 a week for themselves and horse, which will take $32 off the price of the stove. The farmer concludes to take it and the crafty agent persuades him to sign a note for the full amount of the range, $60. This done, they make their exit and neither take the old stove nor wait to board for two weeks at $10 a week.

F. J. PORTER.
Wedding Bells.

A pretty wedding took place at the home of Geo. W. Borden, Esq., of this town, on Wednesday, when his daughter, Miss Laura S. Borden, and our popular young townswoman, Mr. J. Edward Bales were united in wedlock by Rev. Theo.
Trotter. The ceremony was performed at 12 o'clock in the handsome parlour of the bride's home—which was appropriately decorated for the occasion. The bride was handsomely attired in a gown of blue costume cloth, trimmed with velvet and crystal; and was accompanied by Miss Minnie Fordham, of Halifax, who was attired in a costume of the same color. The groom was supported by his brother, Mr. Percy Hale. Following the ceremony and congratulations a wedding repast was partaken of, after which the happy young couple were driven to the depot and embarked on the westbound "Innocent" amid showers of rice and good wishes from a host of friends there assembled, on an extended tour of the provinces. The groom's present to the bride was a gold brooch with diamond and sapphire setting, and a handsome brass lamp-stand with lamp; to the bridesmaid—an opal ring. The bride's travelling suit was of dark green with hat to match. Bunting was displayed in different parts of the town and at the station the Wolfville band played appropriate music while waiting for the train. The ACADIAN wishes the happy young couple every happiness.
