A curious case of alleged infanticide has been reported by the police. Some short time ago a well known character became the mother of what would appear to be an illegitimate child. A few days ago the infant was reported missing, but nothing serious was thought of it as it is not uncommon for children of this type to be handed over by the mother to the Indians to be cared for. The case was reported to the police, however, and officer Gullish went in search and found the remains of an infant in a heap of dirt near the house of the woman's father. The Coroner was immediately notified and later the remains were removed to Mr. Malby's undertaking shop. Dr. Desmond at once decided to hold an inquest and a Coroner's jury was summoned and sworn. The investigation was then adjourned until Wednesday at three o'clock, p. m. to take place at the Police Court in the Town Hall. In the meantime doctors will examine the remains.
