THE ELECTIONS

Of one thing the citizens may feel fairly certain, namely, that a substantial class of men has been elected to the City Council and to the new Board of Education. Those who have been elevated to office, generally speaking, are persons whose standing in the community entitles the ratepayers to assume that their municipal and educational affairs will be conducted with as good judgment and business ability as public men can give.

As we go to press the returns were fairly certain, namely, that a substantial class of men has been elected to the City Council and to the new Board of Education. Those who have been elevated to office, generally speaking, are persons whose standing in the community entitles the ratepayers to assume that their municipal and educational affairs will be conducted with as good judgment and business ability as public men can give.

If Capt. Lovelace sits in the Mayor's chair for next year the editor of The Journal, as his unsuccessful opponent, extends to him hearty congratulations. He is a soldier of honorable record and a man of considerable learning and fitness for such a position. He has had no practical experience in municipal councils but will soon adapt himself to the varied and exacting duties. The defeated Mayor feels quite satisfied to stay home and devote his time to his business and family. The past year has been a fairly trying one. The best efforts and thought we could give to the city were given without stint and we are quite agreed that the decision of the electors has been a blessing in disguise for one who should give all his attention to personal matters.

EDITORIAL NOTES

"Good luck and success next year" say our friends but we do not think there will be any next year, so far as running for office is concerned. A holiday and a rest will be welcomed for some considerable time.

Capt. Lovelace, new Mayor elect, is a soldier who won the M.C. at the front. He deserves well at the hands of his fellow citizens, at home and we wish him a Happy New Year.

The newly elected Ald. Murphy did not say much but he did say wood. The personnel of the new City Council is high, generally speaking. It will take the public only two or three months to find a lot of fault, however, of one kind and another.

The defeat of the proposed College site now permits the new Board of Education to select another site and either buy it or submit a by-law to the electorate.

MANITOBA TEACHERS WANT $1,200 LOWEST SALARY

WINNIP., G. Dec. 31.—At a meeting held yesterday the Manitoba Teachers' Federation decided to become a chartered organization.

Among the important recommendations brought into the meeting were that the minimum salary for qualified teachers be $1,200; that first class certificates be given only to university graduates; that teachers have the right to apply before a board of inquiry when disputes arise that it would be advisable to erect teachers' residences in the country towns and that women teachers should have the same remuneration as men teachers for the same work.

ENRICHING THE SOIL

Some Hints Upon the Wise Use of Artificial Fertilizers.

Fuller Use of These Fertilizers Likely—Their Application Must Be Handled Intelligently—Study Your Own Soil Closely—General Farm Hints.

(Contributed by Ontario Department of Agriculture, Toronto.)

THE use of artificial fertilizers in this country is bound to increase. These materials are, however, expensive and those intending to make use of them should make an effort to inform themselves regarding the conditions under which they will give the best results. Too many people are using fertilizers without fully realizing that they carry plants food and that the real object in applying them is to supply needed available food for the plant.

To intelligently make use of these materials there are three points to be considered. First the needs of the soil, second, the needs of the plant, and, third, the nature of the materials to be applied.

It should always be kept in mind that the soil carries immense amounts of plant food, but that only a small quantity of this is rendered available during the growing season. The acids formed by the decay of the organic matter in the soil is the chief natural agency operating to bring the storehouse of mineral matter into a form that may be taken up by the plant. The organic matter is also the source of nitrogen to the plant, and it increases the water holding capacity of the soil, as well as improves its physical condition. Consequently every effort ought to be made to maintain or increase the amount of decaying organic matter. Otherwise the crop will be grown largely from the added fertilizers and not from the plant food in the soil. It is for this reason that, if you commence to use fertilizers you must continue their use.

However, no matter how much we try to render available the immense store of food in the soil, we cannot bring it about fast enough to supply the needs, especially of heavy feeding crops, such as the mangolds, turnips and garden crops. Hence the need of manures. Stable manure cannot always be got in sufficient quantities to fulfill requirements, nor does it always furnish the needed plant food in the right proportions to develop the plant properly. To supplement the manure is the place of fertilizers.

Stable manure is essentially a nitrogenous fertilizer. Hence if used in large quantities it will force big leaf and stem growth and retard maturity. Consequently, if applied in large quantities, it will retard the growth of lettuce, spinach, mangold, etc., but it would not be so satisfactory for tomatoes, sugar beets, or other crops that must be brought to maturity. What these plants need is some stable manure and some mineral fertilizer to force early maturity. On the other hand, plants like lettuce, spinach, etc., are grown for their leaf and stem and maturity is not a necessary point, hence a soluble form of nitrogenous fertilizers may even be added after heavy applications of manure with good results.

The manufacturer of mixed fertilizers, seeks to prepare special mixtures that will be suitable for different crops, but the farmer or gardener should strive to inform himself regarding his soil and crop needs that he may be able to select the form of fertilizer that will bring about the growth desired, and he should study the fertilizer materials available that he may buy intelligently and economically.—R. Harcourt, A. College, Guelph.

General Farm Hints.

Put a plant or two of rhubarb in the cellar which should be kept at a temperature of 60 to 70 degrees in sand, which is kept moist and in the dark so that it will produce stems and no leaves. Do some reading on gardening work for this year, for more especially think over the failures of the last.

If the roads are in good shape, get your manure out and spread. A dressing of 5 to 10 loads per acre will keep the orchard in condition. If buying in the larger cities, order early as the car situation is serious enough to delay shipments of apples. Light pruning of apple orchards, taking out the small wood with the long-handled pruners, may be carried out during bright weather. Grape trimming may also be looked after when the weather is suitable.

Before feeding or selling any grain crops, make good provision for your own seed supply. Finish cutting out of black knot of cherry and plum. Inspect and oil windmill before winter.

If weather is fine and warm may continue to spray peach trees and give first application to trees badly infested with San Jose scale. On rough days during this and succeeding months it is well to go over all packages, barrels, boxes, etc., mending broken carriers, handling baskets.

Be sure pumps are in good condition. It is not too early to consider the question of getting help for the big crop which will have to be raised in 1920.

Depreciation of Machinery. Did you ever think of the relation of the farmer's bank account to the tool shed? Machinery depreciates faster in the weather than it does in use. The time saved by having a rust-free implement will soon pay for the shed.

Hydro-rail and other Hydro. laws received the endorsement of the ratepayers in a number of municipalities yesterday.

THEY MIGRATE

TO GET BIG MEAL

PARIS, Jan. 2.—Parisians who wished to meet the new year boldly, knife and fork in hand, migrated in automobiles across the borders of the neighboring departments of Versailles and Fontainebleau to escape restrictions imposed upon hotels and restaurants here. There was little ceremony in the hostilities of this city during the evening, and attempts of restaurants to make diners into suppers, so as to keep with the Prefect's ruling, were given little support.

THE MAKING OF A FAMOUS MEDICINE

How Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Is Prepared For Woman's Use.

A visit to the laboratory where this successful remedy is made impresses even the casual looker-on with the reliability, accuracy, skill and cleanliness which attend the making of this great medicine for women's ills.

Over 100,000 pounds of various herbs are used annually and all have to be gathered at the season of the year when their natural juices and medicinal substances are at their best. The most successful solvents are used to extract the medicinal properties from these herbs.

Every utensil and tank that comes in contact with the medicine is sterilized and as a final precaution in cleanliness the medicine is pasteurized and sealed in sterile bottles.

It is the wonderful combination of roots and herbs, together with the skill and care used in its preparation which has made this famous medicine so successful in the treatment of female ills.

The letters from women who have been restored to health by the use of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound which we are continually publishing attest to its virtue.

RECONSTRUCTION

Coming Events Cast Their Shadows Before

Not since the pre-Confederation days has the political life of Canada been surcharged with so much uncertainty.

Great events in Canadian politics are about to take place. The reorganizing and rehabilitating of great political parties is in progress. New leaders are appearing.

The order is changing. All things are becoming new.

THE next two years will be a momentous period in the political life of the country. Reconstruction is a greater task than Confederation.

How will you take your place in the affairs of the nation? What opinions will you form? How will you cast your ballot intelligently if you do not keep in touch and inform yourself on the great questions of the day by reading a daily newspaper national in viewpoint and international in scope?

This is the task and responsibility of The Globe—to give all the news, progressive views, and space for opposing opinions. Such was the threefold purpose of George Brown. His ideal was a Great Family Newspaper with a place in every home. That is The Globe's ideal to-day.

It is not a party organ, but a medium for the development of public opinion and an advocate of reform. It is the servant of the people from whose needs it draws its inspiration.

To be informed of the progress of events, you should avail yourself of The Globe's great news gathering organization. For an analysis of these developments, and clear, sober thought upon them, read its editorial discussions from day to day. They are written by close students of economics, politics, industry, commerce, social reform and religion.

And further, what The Globe has been in the past is a sure guarantee of what it will be in the future. The personality and ambitions of its founder ever dominate the activities of its publishers.

Therefore, nothing will be left undone to make The Globe the newspaper that George Brown would have it be and to earn a place for it in every Canadian home.

MEN WHO HAD ACHIEVED GREAT BASEBALL DIAMONDS, CINDER WRESTLING WERE CALLED BY

NEW YORK, Dec. 31.—Many prominent figures in the world of sport and athletics have been removed by death during the year now drawing to a close. Included in the list were men whose achievements on the base ball diamond, in the squared circle, in the padded mat, or on the cinder track made their names familiar to followers of sport. Some were stars of a past generation, while others were still active in their respective fields.

James A. Hart, one of the pioneers in baseball, and former owner of the Chicago National league club, passed away at his home in Chicago July

Another veteran lost to the game was James N. O'Rourke, a famous player in the early days and later owner and manager of New England minor league clubs.

Others who had been more or less prominently connected with the national game and who died during the year were:

Herman ("Germany") Schaefer, who had played with clubs in both major leagues, and was not only a great pastime, but the wittiest player and coach in the profession. "Cy" Seymour, who led the National league in batting while with the Cincinnati club in 1909.

Jake Stenzel, a one time star batsman of the Pittsburgh and Baltimore clubs.

Alexander ("Broadway Alex") Schuch, who had been a catcher for the New York, Brooklyn, and other clubs.

Schaffly Was One. Schaffly, who pitched for the New York team some 30 years ago.

Ernie Demarets, who pitched for Chicago Cubs in the days of Benson.

McKeen, famous shortstop of Cleveland team in the early '90's. The Curtis, at one time an outfielder with the Chicago Nationals. William J. Ball, a player with various Eastern and New England league teams. Over Gilmore, outfielder for the
