governed year after year, and generation after generation, by a host of lawyers, seems to me to be a very expensive absurdity. I lay it down as a rule strictly in harmony with the acknowledged principles of human nature, that Legislation will be deeply imbued with the spirit and interests of the Legislators, and although a lawyer Legielature may consult the interests of farmers to a certain extent, their chief study will naturally be their own interests : while, if we had a large majority of farmers and merchants in the Hou of Assembly, we would, upon the same principle, expect the greater part of the Legislation to b

the turn out gave quite a gala appearance to our town under the influence of bright sunshine every thing looked well, and every body appear horned cattle there was a decided improvement, two calves shown by Mr. WATKINS, spoke well | draw your tooth !" for the rising generation, and did him very great credit, we are informed that they were sold on the spot for £710s. This circumstance is pro to our agriculturists of the advantages to be deom attention to their young stock.

The sheep also evinced the careful husbandman, and did credit to their owners. The pige were such as would not have disgraced any part of the Province. That part of the show which most particularly attracted our attention was the room in which the grain, and domestic manufac tures of the District were collected, and it was with sincere satisfaction that we observed the marked improvement in those branches of agricultural industry. The wheats were of a very fair quality unsurpassed by any we have seen for some years. The Rye and Oats were also very fine, and the Indian Corn equal to any we have ever seen. The Maple Sugar, an article of which we consider ourselves no mean judge, was in grain and appearance equal to the finest mus-covado. The blankets and cloths shown, also gave decided evidence of improvement and spoke well for the wool of the District. The dairy department was as usual, in butter, well sup plied, but in cheese it was very deficient, is it that our farmer's wives and daughters are igno that our farmer's wives and daughters are ignorant of the mole of manufacture, or is it that they do not appreciate the advantages to be derived in a pecuniary point of view from making it a staple stricle, that this branch of domestic industry is so much neglected, there were only two competitors, and we trust, in this latter; particular, to heable next year to record a very such that the strict of the s particular, to beable next year to record a very great and decide! improvement. We conclude by referring our readers to the list of premiums obligingly furnished by the Agricultural Society's Secretary, Mr. Cuninghame.
