Ride for $5,000.

Across Africa to Berlin on Horseback.
BERLIN, July 26.—The colonial papers report that the ride from German South-west Africa to Berlin began between Herren Brugemann and Pretlag, who are making the East Coast via Victoria Falls and Mozambique. From there they will travel via the Isthmus of Suez and Asia Minor to Europe. Each rider is accompanied by a pack-horse.
The journey is expected to take from fifteen to twenty-four months. The riders have a bet of $5,000 on the result.

District Superintendent

Mr. John Vetch to whom we referred a couple of days ago has been appointed to the position of District Superintendent of the Western Union Telegraph Company at New York. He was an operator both here and at St. Pierre for years, and for three years was manager for the Western Union Co. on the New York Cotton Exchange.

Nutritive Hypophosphites

When a person feels "blue" — "all tired out" — "doesn't feel like doing anything" — cannot concentrate his mind on his work — feels weak mentally and physically — doubts his powers — complains of poor appetite and sleeplessness — suffers from headaches — then his nervous system is run-down and demands a good up-building tonic. Nervous exhaustion is a modern disease, caused by too close attention to business, overwork, worry, devotion to trying family cares overstudy, etc.
Nutritive Hypophosphites forms the best nerve and brain food known, and have restored thousands of sufferers to health. Large bottle, $1.00.

Stray Bankers.

Two fishermen of the banking school, Hazel, of Burgeo, J. Strickland and J. Buchland, were brought here yesterday by the s.s. Telconia. They were picked up Sunday morning 90 miles east of St. John's, were exhausted for want of food and could not possibly hold out much longer. Mr. Tasker Cook wired their friends at Burgeo of their safe arrival here and also made arrangements with the Commissioner of Fisheries, Mr. O'Dwyer, to have them sent home. They left the schooner to overhaul their trawls on the 25th of July. They were rowing back to the vessel when a thick fog settled down and they knew not in what direction to row. They waited all night hoping to hear the sound of the Hazel's fog horn, but in vain. When morning came they decided to row for land. They had only one cake of bread and a few small pieces, and with the little rain water that they caught in the sea, they managed to keep rowing on till Saturday, when Strickland gave up and lay down to die. His companion shortly after gave up the work of rowing as his strength had failed him. An hour afterwards the fog lifted and he saw with unexpressible delight the steamer Telconia steaming inward. He put his "Cape Anne" on a paddle and raised it aloft as a distress signal, and to his great joy a few minutes afterwards saw the steamer altering her course and bearing down upon them. The men when taken on board were well treated by Capt. Hoar and his officers. These are the two men about whom a Telegram was received by Mr. H. W. LeMessurier last Thursday and published in the Telegram.

At the R. C. Cathedral.

Rev. Fr. O'Callaghan preached another of his powerful sermons at the R. C. Cathedral last evening, taking his text from St. Paul to the Hebrews, 9-27—"It is appointed to all men once to die, and after death the judgment." The sermon was a most impressive one and brought home to the congregation the realities of death, judgment, hell and Heaven. At the conclusion Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament was imparted by Rev. Fr. Sheehan.

Had to Return.

Rene Bergeret who with another French sailor, Rene Sainz, left a Danish vessel at Twillingate owing to alleged ill-treatment, was captured by the captain and some of the crew between Twillingate and Dildo and brought back to the ship, Sainz, it will be remembered, arrived here by the Fogota on Sunday week, and he feared that Bergeret had succumbed on the road.

The Drowning Accident

Passengers by Saturday's express say that the lad, Geo. Sheaves, to whose death we alluded Saturday, was drowned in Mother Lake's Brook, Port aux Basques. He with his two cousins, aged 9 and 10, respectively, were picking berries near the pond when the boy went into the water against the entreaties of his little friends. He was drowned in 5 feet of water and before the eyes of the two children, who ran to the settlement and gave the alarm.

When Sleep Fails You

DR. CHASE'S NERVE FOOD will bring rest, comfort and vitality by building up the nerves.
Mr. Jas. Wesley Weaver, a veteran of the Peninsular War, Port Dalhousie Ont., writes:—"For years I was afflicted with nervousness and dread insomnia, so that I never knew for three years what a full hour's sleep was, never more than dosing for a few minutes at a time. Heart pain and headaches almost drove me wild. I had spells of weakness and cramps in stomach and limbs.
"Though I tried several doctors, I was money uselessly spent. Finally Dr. Chase's Nerve Food was brought to me and eight boxes cured me. I am simply wonderful what benefit have obtained from this treatment. Sleeplessness and headaches are warnings of approaching nervous collapse. You can positively remove these symptoms and prevent prostration or paralysis by the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. 50 cents a box, 6 for $2.50, at all dealers or Edmanston Bates & Co., Toronto. Write for free copy of Dr. Chase's Recipes."

Steamers Arrive.

S. S. BONAVISTA.
The s.s. Bonavista, Capt. Fraser, arrived from Montreal via Gulf ports at 2 p.m. Saturday after a run of 6 days. She left Sydney Thursday night and had dense fog and heavy sea almost until port was reached. She had about half a cargo including 55 head of cattle and 30 sheep. She sails for Montreal this afternoon.

S. S. FOGOTA.
The s.s. Fogota arrived here at midnight Saturday and demonstrated by her extremely quick round trip her superiority over the ships hertofore employed on the Fogota route. She had splendid weather on the run up and down and called at all the ports on the schedule, but did not call at Trinity going of coming, Saturday night she met dense fog from Cape St. Francis to port. She had considerable cargo consisting of fish in casks, salmon, lobsters, etc., and carried 40 passengers for round trip. Her passengers for here were Mrs. (Capt.) B. Barbour, Mr. and Mrs. Percie Johnson, Miss Crowley, Mrs. K. Kneel and several others.

S. S. SHENANDOAH.
The s.s. Shenandoah, of the Furness Line, arrived here at 3 p.m. yesterday from London after a run of 9 days. From the time of leaving the ship had head winds until about half the passage was made, and for about 3 days she had very calm weather, while Friday last for a time she experienced dense fog. She has 500 tons cargo for this port and considerable for Halifax, including a quantity of explosives. She sails for Halifax to-morrow.

S. S. TELCONIA.
The cable ship Telconia, Capt. Hood, arrived in port at 5 p.m. yesterday after a passage of 11 days from Penzance, Wales. While on her voyage she laid the shore end of the cable at Syron Cove, and on the voyage here had strong head winds with fog and heavy sea all through the voyage. She takes a supply of coal here and after going down to Cape St. Francis will pick up the end of the cable and splice it, then taking it to Harbor Grace, where she will land it for the Direct Cable Co., for which the ship is employed.

St. Patrick's Church.

At last Mass in St. Patrick's Church yesterday Rev. Joseph Pippy referred to the repairs now being made to the Church, and thanked the people of the West End for the generous manner in which they had contributed to the final repairs. He paid a well-deserved tribute to the Building Committee, and read a statement of receipts and expenditure of a very satisfactory nature. Father Pippy reminded his hearers that there was yet much to be done, and that a large sum was still required to finish the task undertaken, but he was sure the good people of St. Patrick's would rise equal to the occasion, and the object he knew all had at heart. He asked those who had subscribed sums but had not yet sent in their donations, to do so as quickly as possible, and he felt assured that the structure would have received thorough repairs before the coming of winter. Next spring the work of completing the tower and steeple will be begun.

Died Very Suddenly.

Mrs. James Fitzgerald, of Convent Square, who had apparently been in the best of health last week and up to two hours before her death, died at her home at 10 a.m. yesterday. She was taken ill of an internal malady which gradually became more acute, and died before a physician could be summoned. Mrs. Fitzgerald was well known and highly respected in the community. She is survived by a husband and four children, and Messrs. Thomas, Joseph and Denis McCarthy are brothers. To the bereaved family the Telegram extends its sympathy.

Powerful Searchlight.

The Fogota used her searchlight for the first time during her trip north last week. It is a very powerful light and enabled the ship to pick up buoys and enter harbors with more certainty than if she hadn't it. Saturday night it was foggy and very dark making St. John's, and the light was used with excellent effect, the ship entering port without difficulty.

MINARD'S LINIMENT CURES DISTEMPER.

Shannahan on the Audit

HE HITS "REFORM."

I went up to Tucker's to get Mrs. Tucker's opinion regarding the Municipal Audit, or rather that row which they had at the Council Rooms the other night.

Mrs. Tucker was quite clear in her remarks, and said that she read the report—word for word—in the Telegram. She noticed that there was quite a bit of a tumble on at the meeting, but she'd prefer seeing more accomplished. Mrs. Tucker says she doesn't mind that kind of a row, for as she says herself—"they'll be eating one another one minute and all smiles the next." She recalls lots of old rows that used to take place up in the House of Assembly. The crowd on the galleries would clap on their favourite, and he'd drink a lot of water and crush a lot of paper in his hand and drag on his collar, and call the other fellow everything but a gentleman; but the next thing you'd know there'd be a dance or some kind of a time at Government House, and the two buckaloons who fought on the floors of the House would be smoking cigars out of the one case and touching their glasses, saying "here's a long life to you."

Mrs. Tucker likes Mr. Mullaigh, for he is the kind of a man that you want in a quiet crowd. She notices he has fired off his black bow and settled right down to business. She thinks if he couldn't get the Audit he ought to get a list of the outstanding accounts that are owed by people who can afford to pay, and let us know who they are.

I said that was very uncharitable and she should have more regard for people who one time well off, but now through no fault of their own could not pay their taxes.

To this she said that she had just as much sympathy for that kind of people as I had. It wasn't that class of customers she was after, but the man who could pay and wouldn't pay.

But, said I, you know Tucker that there are lots of old amounts that can't be collected. This thing happens in every kind of business, and 'tis not unlikely that the same thing applies to the Council.

No one can tell me that, said she, for I know it already, but the idea of people who own property being allowed to go on for years, is too thin. One of the Councilors told me that there are many Water Street people who pay by the year. This is wrong for there should be no different sauce for the goose than the gander. Mullaigh, Ryan and Channings voted for an Audit they knew 'twould cost the town money to have it, but they voted for it and now the public mind will not be set at rest till something is done. All along the line among the middling class people we can hear a grumble. One man said to me, "why should I have to pay taxes and a merchant on Water Street be allowed to go scott free?"

Seventy thousand dollars is a nice sum; every taxpayer is interested. Every man who pays his share of the city taxation is interested, for if this amount was collected in how do we know but our taxation would stop going up. Municipal matters are demanding a great deal of attention. People are becoming interested in the right kind of way. This is a wholesome state of affairs and goes to prove that Mr. Mullaigh's work is not without its bearing good fruit. The day of being "milk and watery" in business, is fast disappearing around here, and every one has the greatest respect for the man or men who have the courage of their convictions and fight for what's right.

Well, madame, said I, you're better able to talk than ever, that 7 days in Lower Island Cove did you a lot of good.

That's true, said she, I knew there was something I was thinking about, that fellow who writes under the name of "Reform" is trying to be dramatic. I know him and I know he couldn't get excited if he tried; move along one leg hauled after the other, never did anything in his life for the betterment of his city; he gets up to tell us the town is filthy. Now I have seen this town worse and he has seen it worse if he coaxed to look down from his perch. It's no use driving a free horse to death, for every one knows our new Councilors are doing their best. Every new broom sweeps clean, we all know that, and we can only hope that our new Council will keep up with the pace that they have started out with. What trouble is it for a man like "Reform" to sit on a pivvity chair and with a good pen and plenty time write his epistle of the day. No trouble at all, simply pastime. But if he were to tell us some new way out of the difficulty then it would be worth while taking him serious, but so far his telling us that this town is not up to date is simply a waste of time. If a fellow asked "Reform" why he didn't stand for Councilor, he'd likely tell us that he hadn't time, a good excuse and very popular, nevertheless he has time to give lectures and attend meetings. People like "Reform" should remember that our Mayor and Councilors do not pretend to be above the average man in intelligence. They don't pretend to know it all, and are all working men. They offered themselves to the people. "Know it all" like "Reform" were either too indifferent or too lazy, or both, to stand. Being elected they have started out to do their duty, everyone can see that who's not prejudiced, and surely we should give them a chance to find out just where they are before we start in grumbling. 'Tis likely the Councilors know the condition that the town is in just as well and a great deal better than "Reform" does, and for him to try to give us palpitation of the heart by saying "our town 'stinks," is as they say in theatricals fallen flat, it didn't take. Try again "Reform" and the next time tell us something less thunderous or we will be awake another night dreaming of a slow, harmless man, who late in life got on a gait and tried to make the natives wonder at the supreme knowledge he possessed.
