ANTI-ENTENTE DEMONSTRATIONS AT ATHENS.

ATHENS, To-day.

A French marine patrol last evening arrested at the point of the bayonet seven youths who were hooting the Entente Powers. A huge crowd gathered for the purpose of rescuing them. The Greek military commander at Athens called out the troops who charged and dispersed the crowd. Greek patrols were immediately placed at various districts to control any attempts at anti-Entente manifestations. The French Admiral in command, informed the Premier that he would call at the Ministry in the morning, although it is thought possible that as a result of the British Minister in Greece had been a long interview with King Constantine the French troops may be with the finish division with the first patron of the Narayyuvaka and Guita-Lipa Rivers.

LONDON, To-day.

A sanguinary frontal battle is proceeding three miles north of the morning, although it is thought possible that as a result of the British Minister in Greece had a long interview with King Constantine the French troops may be with the control and a long interview with King Constantine the French troops may be with the control and a long interview with King Constantine the French troops may be with a long interview with King Constantine the point of the processor of General Sarrail. As a proof of his good faith the King is said to have declared forces of General Sarrail. As a proof of his good faith the King is said to have declared the opinion that it would be impracticable to attempt to apply conscription in Ireland. Premier Asquith, rising, admitted there had been a regretable mistake and a blunder in the rebellion and who had a long interview with King Constantine the forces of General Sarrail. As a proof of his go ble that as a result of the British Minister's audience with King Constantine the French troops may be withdrawn on the pledge of the Greeks to maintain order. It is known that the King has given the command that anti-Entente demonstrations must cease, as the very existence of Greece is at stake. It is difficult to say, however, whether in the present state of public opinion over the presence of the marines of the Foreign Powers at Athens and Piraeus even the King's orders will be obeyed by the excited populace.

CONSTANTINE'S PROTESTATIONS

Herbert L. Samuel, Secretary for Home Affairs, announced in the House to-day that there were still 576 Irishmen interned in connection with the recent rebellion. Redmond told the Commons that the inclusion of Sir, Edward Carson, Ulster Unionist leader in the Coalition Government when the Cabinet was reconstructed, meant to thousands of Irishmen the belief that they had been betrayed. He said that he had prayed that Premier Asquith leave ireiand out of the coalition; the Premier had refused and the result was fatal. Redmond moved the result was fatal. ient. Cecil Clift Killed in Action.

As we go to press we learn with sorrow of the death in action of Lieut. Cecil Clift, the sad news having been received in a private intimation. The toll of the last fighting in which the Regiment took part is growing and more precious young lives have been sacrificed. There will be general sorrow in St. John's at the news and sympathy with his afflicted parents. He was the eldest son of Mr. J. A. Clift, K.C., M.H.A., and both in his life here and in his regimental career Clift, K.C., M.H.A., and both in his life here and in his regimental career held a high record. He was among the first to join, with his brother Lieutenant Jack, and it was not long before his fine qualities earned for him his commission. He went through the arduous Gallipoli campaign with distinction, and was at the front in the historic days of last July, though he did not participate in the advance. He has now died in the great cause, and if death has come cruelly soon to a life of much promise, we can say that it could not have come more fitly. We record with profound regret the passing of Mr. William Cook this morning, after a protracted illness. Deceased was three score and fifteen years, an exemplary citizen, who was highly respected and esteemed and was particularly well known and liked amongst the business section of the commupnity. Indeed, "Cook the Butcher" was almost a household term. Born at Bally Haley, he was the son of the late Thomas Cook, farmer, and belonged to a good old stock, which is becoming fast depleted in this dountry. For over a half dentury he carried on a butchering business and only a couple of years ago did he retire. He was also identified with mining, lumbering and other industries during his career and in whatever business he associated himself with he was successful; but he achieved success by his own perseverance and entemprise. He had a most amiable disposition and always admired the hard worker. He was the oldest member of Tasker Masonic Lodge in St. John's, having been initiated at the inception of that fraternity here fifty years ago.
