PRODUCTION—
PRESENTED BY ADOLPH ZUKOR AND JESSE L. LASKY

This is the story of a girl you know. Pretty, fun-wild, anchorless—one of the million unheeding, unblushing, "Unguarded Women" of to-day.

PEPYS BEHIND THE SCENES.

Oct. 24th.—Waked betimes by the wind, and no sooner awake when there is a noise like to the sound of thunder and seems how the whole house is falling about my ears. But Lord, 'twould take more than that to make me go outside on such a night to discover the cause of it, so I to bed again, having fortified myself with a goodly portion of brandy. Anon, up and going outside to find a great beam has fallen from the front of the house but no other damage done, for which I am truly thankful. Comes Mr. McKay to see me this morning, and among other things do discourse concerning the land boom in Florida and what fortunes have been made from it, albeit methinks there has been as much lost as made. Povey tells me of the damage caused by the great wind storm, being many fences destroyed, and hay ricks blown down, but little else it seems, of any account, for which God be praised. This afternoon a great storm of snow, which turning to sleet, do make the walking mighty dirty, and I do have my feet wet and frozen ere I reach home. So to settle myself before the fire where I do remain till bed time.

Oct. 24th (Lord's Day).—Lay long, being a pretty cold day, albeit fine overhead. This afternoon, to walk with Povey about the pond, which I do find a mighty chill walk, being a cold wind, and takes all the comfort from my pipe. Povey do tell me among other things, how a Mr. Truscott do draw the winner of the Cesarewitch in a sweepstake, and like to win no less than £25,000 and maybe more. 'Tis on rare enough occasions that such big prize comes to Newfoundland, and I do trust that the next will be mine, having great need of it.

Professor W. Seeley

PHYSICAL DIRECTOR.

If you were dying to-night, how much money would you give to live a few hours longer? If you were going to have an operation, how much money would you pay to prevent the operation? If you knew your child was going to be operated on, how much would it be worth to you if you could prevent the operation. Would you pay the small sum of $10,000, just as you go up to the fact that you do not know very much about taking care of your body and get some one to teach you, there will be less cutting and carving of the human body. You want to make a little effort and put something in life and then you can enjoy and take something out of life. Don't sit down in the corner and whine if you are not feeling well, don't sit down and wait for things to move over to you, get up and get what you want. I can sell you, a well developed, strong, healthy body for the small sum of $10,000. Are you ready to receive it? How long do you want to think it over? How much do you value $10,000? Which would be the better bank to put $10,000 in, a bank built out of wood or bricks, or your own body? Don't fool yourself by thinking you are strong enough. It is impossible to be well developed, strong and healthy, unless you exercise your muscles. Every muscle is fed by blood, when it is exercised. Ladies and gentlemen, boys and girls, if you are interested in your future life and health, I can teach you if you will let me, and please don't keep waiting from day to day. As soon as I go back to U.S.A., the same course will cost you $30,000. Am just making you a present of $30,000, would like you to present it in N.F. very much. Special notice to all pupils: I will be in St. John's Saturday and Monday, Oct. 24th and 26th, 1925.

MISS OTILIA LEITLAND.

Writers at Locarno Boycott Mussolini

Alleged That Italian Premier is Muzzling Press of His Country.—Pale and Haggard.—Asks English Labor Correspondent is Communism Still Going Strong.

Locarno, Switzerland, Oct. 18.—Allegations that Premier Mussolini was muzzling the Italian newspapers caused a majority of the British and French, together with some of the German correspondents, to boycott a press meeting arranged by the Italian delegation to-day to permit the fascist chief to give his views concerning the security conference.

Nevertheless the hotel room set aside for the purpose was filled when Mussolini entered. His appearance was a distinct shock to those who had not seen him since his short visit to Switzerland during the opening days of the Lausanne conference in the summer of 1922. He was pale and haggard, and seemed to have difficulty in giving clarity to his statements, which he had committed to paper.

Proud of Italy's Part.

His most important utterance was that adoption of the Rhine security pact meant the stabilization of general peace throughout Europe as well as along the Rhine. This peace, he declared, would be confirmed by Germany's entrance into the League of Nations. The Rhine pact would also permit the peoples of Europe to settle their pressing economic and financial problems.

Signor Mussolini spoke proudly of Italy's part in the conference, saying that when the negotiations became delicate the Italian had contributed to the attainment of harmony. He was convinced that all the delegations recognized the remarkable importance of Italian adhesion to the pact, which adhesion was given despite the fact that Italy had no common frontier with Germany.

Attaching to Italy's frontier with Austria and to the question of any annexation of Austria to Germany, the Italian premier declared the treaty of Versailles exactly defined the Austrian situation, and made it inalterable.

No Question Asked.
The Italian statesman then asked if anyone wished to put questions to him. None being immediately forthcoming he arose and said smilingly:

"All right, this meeting is adjourned."

When he emerged from the conference, he found the hotel lobby filled, the crowd including the boycotting correspondents. Hailing the correspondent of an English Labor paper, he asked: "Is communism still going strong?" to which the journalist replied: "I am not a communist." Premier Mussolini rejoined, "Pardon me, I am mistaken then." "Yes, as you often are," came a voice from the ranks of the boycotters. The premier halted as if to make some retort, but either could find no suitable one or thought better of it, and walked on.
