With his office staff of stampers, checkers, messengers, typewriters, indexers and stenographers, Registrar Carson on the fourth floor of the Southern building has been handling a mass of reports for exemption and 1,025 6-14 claims for war service.

The increasing pressure of work in the registrar's office will soon have to put in night sessions as the volume of work is increasing hourly.

Assistant Registrar McCausland yesterday had 4,000 claims on hand ready to be scheduled, and it was not possible to speed up to keep the vast staff of assistants busy.

It is a question if the government will obtain the thousands of men in Class A in fifty days, as many of the men in Class A by the medical board, and until these men have been passed upon by the authorities it is not possible to make an estimate of the numbers in the eligible class.

Many of the men who have registered in Calgary are farmers, and these are the men that are needed at home. A number of claims for exemption have been filed by married men who may be the sole support of families and mothers and other relatives.

As a matter of fact, no married men are in Class A, but the files are full of claims from men who are not married.

Others who file claims are American and other alien soldiers, and no one is required, only those who are British subjects being wanted.

Going Out as Farmers
Reports have reached the registrar's office that many men who should be in Class A are flocking into the country to take up farming.

A number of men are taking jobs on farms and filing claims for home-stay in the land office, in vain hope of evading the military act. These, the registrar says, will all come into the act, and will have a chance to work the acres when they come back, while the time they serve in the trenches will apply on the homestead.

Others are mutilating themselves in various ways to fall in, passing the medical boards. Three of these in one boarding house treated their knees with a certain dope which produces water under the knee cap. Another, from the same boarding house, attempted the same subterfuge, and the dope did not work, with the result that he was discredited.

This is a favorite trick with army shirkers and well-known to army physicians, and those attempting this subterfuge in England are subject to heavy punishment.

A number of employers are now asking for exemption for their employees, claiming that they are badly needed in their businesses. The registrar remarks that these men are also badly needed in the army.

Hard on the Mothers
Many mothers are asking exemption for their boys, but the need of men at the front forbids anyone being excused on sentimental grounds, and many mothers turn away with tearful eyes at the thought of losing the boys they have raised so tenderly and shielded and protected from the harshness of the outside world.

All these sentimental considerations, however, are brushed aside by the registrar; all must give of the best they have at the call of the British Empire, none who can serve, may be exempted, no sentimental considerations, however, are brushed aside by the registrar; all must give of the best they have at the call of the British Empire, none who can serve, may be exempted.

Some claim their homes in the east and their exemption slips have to be mailed to their residential towns, many of which have come west to work on farms all the winter.

A lot forgot to attach their medical history sheets to their reports, with the result that when they report for service if their medical history sheets are not attached, transportation is sent them to go before a medical board, where they have already reported. In order to prevent this, duplicate sheets are kept by the registrar and attached to the report.

One claimant for exemption gave his reason as religious grounds and filled the religious question as having none.

NORWEGIANS TELL OF MURDEROUS WORK OF GERMAN NAVY

Newspapers Demand Deportation of Germans From Norway

Christiania, Oct. 23.—The Norwegian newspapers bitterly denounce the "murderous attack" of the Germans in the convoy action last week in the North Sea. The newspapers in Berlin, where survivors of the attack were taken, demand the deportation from Norway of all Germans employed by the German general purchasing agency. These journals call the attention of the authorities to the danger to Norwegian trade from "this German gang, not only now when many of them are common spies, but also in the future."

The Christiania newspaper Verdens Gang says the affair was characteristically German, brutal and with exceptional cowardice. The Germans, having put the British warships out of the game, acted against the peaceful merchantmen as if they were the entire British navy. "It was the most dastardly deed any navy can boast of," says the Tidens Tegn. "It outrivals all other German crimes."

SENATOR ROBERTSON APPOINTED TO THE NEW UNION CABINET

Labor Representative
It is anticipated that the recent legislative of the trades and labor organizations will, in the early future, enter the government as parliamentary secretaries. The department of labor in which position he will be able to render important service to the public interest. Such parliamentary secretary, when appointed, will naturally be a member of the sub-committee on labor and labor conditions also allied to the army.

Hon. Mr. Robertson, since his appointment to the senate, has taken a high position and his wide experience in matters relating to labor conditions and his close study of public questions have been of great advantage in the senate's deliberations.

MacLean Takes Office
Ottawa, Oct. 23.—Hon. A. K. MacLean was sworn in as a member of the privy council today and he has become a member of the union government. He has had a long experience in public life and he has a very prominent position in the Liberal party during the past ten years.

His experience has not been confined to the federal parliament as, for some time, he was a member of the provincial legislature of Nova Scotia. His recognized ability, his high character and his strong devotion to duty make his appointment to the government of great importance.

For the present Mr. MacLean will be without portfolio, but it is anticipated that in the not distant future he will undertake the administration of an important position.

In the meantime he will find full scope for his activity and energy in the vice-chairmanship of a permanent committee of the cabinet, which is to be known as the construction and development committee. The wide range of important subjects committed to the consideration of the committee renders the position of vice-chairman one of great importance and usefulness. The prime minister is chairman of the committee, but the enormous demands upon his time and energies will not permit him to give necessary attention to the very important duties involved in the direction of the committee's activity. These duties will, therefore, devolve almost entirely upon Mr. MacLean and will give him the opportunity of public service of far-reaching importance.

Some claim their homes in the east and their exemption slips have to be mailed to their residential towns, many of which have come west to work on farms all the winter.

A lot forgot to attach their medical history sheets to their reports, with the result that when they report for service if their medical history sheets are not attached, transportation is sent them to go before a medical board, where they have already reported. In order to prevent this, duplicate sheets are kept by the registrar and attached to the report.

One claimant for exemption gave his reason as religious grounds and filled the religious question as having none.

GERMANS LOST OVER ONE-HALF OF THE ZEPPELIN FLEET

Latest Raid Puts One-half of Effective Zeppelin Fleet
Out of Action; Heavy
Blow to Huns

Washington, Oct. 23.—Germany probably lost one-half of her total effective fleet of super-Zeppelins as a result of the raid of October 20 over England, according to official cablegrams received here. All France is exultant over what the dispatches declare to be the greatest defeat administered to an air fleet since the beginning of the war. The gratification is more intense because it is now known that the German raid was an attempt to carry out a feared threat of vengeance made four days before.

On that occasion the German government sent out a warning to both France and England of dire punishment to follow what the Germans declared to be unwarranted and inhuman attacks by British and French aviators on peaceful German towns. Reprisals were threatened in an official German communication which, in part, read:

"For every brick which falls from peaceful German homes whose buildings have been destroyed in Paris."

The official French report of the attempted German raid is as follows:

First Brought Down
The first Zeppelin brought down fell at St. Clement on the borders of the forest of Mondon, 10 kilometres from Lunville. It was seen at 8.30 a.m. Journeying with two other Zeppelins. It was at once attacked by one of our army's defense sections. At first a series of shells were fired at the Zeppelin. It was then brought down by a height of 5,000 metres. In a fresh attack by the anti-aircraft guns the Zeppelin struck the outside envelope and the Zeppelin caught fire. It remains a mass of metal and Indian rubber and broken propellers. The bodies were horribly mutilated, were found near the Zeppelin. Others must be buried under the ruins, which are still burning. They could not have been any bombs left in the Zeppelin as no explosions were heard. The apparatus had four propellers.

About 2.30 p.m. Zeppelin No. 49 was forced by our aviators to come to earth near Bourbonne-les-Bains. It is intact. The commanding officer and 17 men of the crew are prisoners.

"A little later the third Zeppelin, the L-50 came down on the borders of the forest of Montigny-le-Roi and two officers and 14 men of her crew were captured. Two of the crew were slightly wounded. The Zeppelin's crew detached a car which they entirely destroyed.

"The Zeppelin, without ballast, went off with four men. From the declaration of the prisoners this Zeppelin left Oldenburg for London October 19, but was unable to reach the English capital.

"Two Zeppelins entirely destroyed were attacked by our aviators and by our anti-aircraft guns and came down in the valley of the Saenne, alighting in the region of Sistrout, the crews having burned their Zeppelins, attempted to escape, but were taken prisoners.

"Two other machines were seen in the north, one landed at La Rance, in the lower Alps. The other was seen by the aviation center at Frejus, drifting toward the sea in a vertical position and disabled.

"Thus probably the Germans lost five of their Zeppelins, which were all of the new type, from 234 to 244 metres in length and carrying about 100 passengers and from 1,500 to 2,000 horsepower."

Summing up the extent of the disaster to the German air fleet, the report says that Germany altogether has constructed probably one hundred Zeppelins of which 16 were destroyed before the war. The loss officially reported today is six in 1914, 16 in 1915, 25 for 1916, and three for 1917.

Thus the minimum of 66 Zeppelins have been destroyed, to which must be added half a dozen more lost by accident and the German air fleet is now reduced to machines loaned to Bulgaria, Germany now has on the western front only 25 super-Zeppelins.

The great air fleet concentrated against England in Belgium and northern Germany has never amounted to more than 15 Zeppelins.

ARRESTED AT HIS WEDDING ON A FORGERY CHARGE

Toronto Groom Has a Close
Call; Cashed Cheques for His Wedding Expenses

Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—The wedding of David G. Gardiner, of Toronto, to a local actress was interrupted yesterday by James Melville, a detective, who arrived with a warrant for his arrest or of the bridegroom charging him with forgery.

Gardiner was supposed to be an advance agent for the sale of a new automobile, and carried letters purporting to be authority from them. He is alleged to have cashed checks for payment of wedding expenses and clothing, and is reported to have such checks upon him to the value of $100.

He was arrested in his wedding clothes while waiting for the clergyman at a local hotel, where the wedding was to be performed.

GOOD INVESTMENT FOR ENEMY MONEY

U.S. Will Invest German
Wealth in Liberty
War Bonds

Washington, Oct. 23.—Subscriptions to many million dollars' worth of Liberty bonds will be one of the first official acts of Mitchell Palmer, newly appointed enemy property custodian. On opening offices and assuming his new duties today, Mr. Palmer found scores of letters reporting money, credits or other property held by American interests for alien enemies. These will be tabulated late this week and a Liberty loan subscription will be made.

Many officials estimate that enemy property subject to custody of the government custodian amounts to hundreds of millions of dollars.

TO SUSPEND TARIFF
Winnipeg, Oct. 23.—Hon. Valentine Winkler announced this morning that he received unofficial assurance that it is the intention of the federal government to suspend the tariff on sheep coming into Canada from Montana. The minister was sure that if the information proves to be correct farmers of the west will benefit greatly by being enabled to buy the Montana sheep at the available list for farmers, these animals having been supplied by Manitoba breeders.

Country Candidate Showing the Way

Yesterday's subscription reports promise to book the chances of many candidates.

All the live ones in the city visited the contest office from one to five times yesterday, but their visits were very short, as they all felt that every minute must be devoted to subscription getting. Some were after more receipt books, others wanted to know how they stood in regard to even clubs and others turned in reports.

At the close of all the other club offers—the end of the contest week—the candidates in Districts Nos. 2 and 3 always held up their end, and it is more than likely they will do so in the mail to be received today and tomorrow.

At the very earliest the checking up can be done for the $50 special prize, the result cannot be published before Friday morning. We will follow the usual rule in these affairs and not give out the findings personally. Look for the winner's name on Friday morning. But don't let up the least bit in your hustling for subscriptions. There are only four more weeks of the contest period, and if you want to win one of the autos you will likely need all the votes you can get.

THE LAST EXTRA VOTES
Extra votes will be given for three more weeks. The last week of the contest no extra votes will be given.

From tomorrow until next Tuesday for each and every even $25 worth of subscriptions 95,000 extra votes will be issued.

For the same size club during the week from Wednesday, October 31, to and including Tuesday, November 6, 85,000 extra votes.

And for the week ending November 13, for the first $25 club, 75,000 extra votes, and for each additional dollar, 3,000 extra votes. Thus candidates will get extra votes for every dollar they turn in after the first club.

CANDIDATES IN THE CONTEST

The standing of the candidates, as shown below, includes such votes as were accepted for publication up to Monday noon. Votes will be added Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays.

To insure accuracy a Burroughs adding machine is used in computing the votes.
