Toronto Proud of Paul Peel.

The awarding of the gold medal for especial excellence to Paul Peel, of this city, by the Paris Salon causes the Toronto Globe to devote nearly a column to a laudatory sketch of the artist. Among other things it says: "Indirectly, Toronto can claim some share in the young artist's success, as this is the home of two of his sisters. Miss Mildredt Peel, who is employed by the Education Department modeling busts of public men, has established her reputation as a sculptor and has also done some good work in painting. For the Ontario Government's collection she has modeled busts of Sir Thomas Galt, Sir Adam Wilson, Sir Alexander Campbell, Lord Dufferin, Lord Stanley, etc., and has just returned from Montreal, where she was engaged in making a bust of the late Hon. John Sandfield Macdonald. The other sister is married to Mr. R. B. Belden, of the Belden publishing firm, and resides on Yorkville avenue."

Gilmore on Saturday.

To-day's Globe referring to the Gilmore concerts yesterday says: Gilmore's band has long been famous throughout the United States and Canada as the great military band whose excellence exceeds that of all competitors in its field, and its popularity has been no less general than its fame. Mr. Gilmore has mingled classical and popular music with such a liberal hand in his programmes that all tastes would be able to find some features which would appeal to their sentiment, and as a result every one went away from the "Bustinian solar of the Gilmore was the "Benediction o Avenue Rink on Saturday afternoon and evening. Preparations are being made for large crowds.

SHOWING HIS HAND. Mayor Taylor on the Stump-Anythin to Beat Mowat.

the campaign was held at Ballymote last night. The principal speakers were Mayor Taylor and Mr. Newton Rowell, a young laysor and air. Newton rowest, a young law student, who proved kimself more than a match for his Worship. The Mayor launched out by assuring his audience in the most emphatic terms that he was not a Tory, that he was neither a Reference of the company of the co Tory, that he was neither a Reformer nor a Conservative, but that he was an Equal Rights man, but he was so lavish of his commendations of Sir John that he left no doubt on the minds of his audience of his true character. He complained bitterly because the ADVERTISER had said that at the next election he was the part in full force in support of would be out in full force in support of Carling. It will be interesting when the Dominion elections come round to note it his Worship is equal to the job of swallow-ing his own tongue. He raved about the Jesnits' Estates Bill, but what connection his Worship is equal to the job of swallowing his own tongue. He raved about the Jesuits' Estates Bill, but what connection that had with Provincial politics he failed to make clear. He then discussed the timber limits question and endeavored to show that the Dominion timber limits were not so valuable as those of Ontario. From this he branched off to separate schools, and succeeded in convincing the audience that he wasnotacquainted with the question. The license commissioners next came in for a scathing. He told his audience that the commissionershad added two unnecessary licenses to London and that it was a political engine for compelling hotel-keepers to vote Reform. But strange to say, this Equal Rights man neglected to state that one of these licenses was given to a Conservative or that the commissioners had cut off five licenses. He next referred to the ballot and charged that it was not properly assert ballot. The most of his speech, which was drawn out for half an hour, was composed of reading tedious extracts from campaign literature.

Mr. Rowell then followed and in a masterly speech discussed the questions of the day in a manner most interesting to his audience and certainly instructive to his Worship. He took up the various points referred to by the Mayorand answered them in a manner that left nothing to be said.

Although Mayor Taylor posed as an Equal Righter, his conduct soon proved the insincerity of his claim, for although Mr. Rowell had never interrupted him once, he frequently interrupted Mr. Rowell.

Mr. Rowell held the attention of the audience for an hour and a half, after which Mayor Taylor absolute in Manitoba, talked Riel, the rebellion, the Catholic schools in Manitoba, and went back to the Jesuits' Estates Bill, until someone in the audience in formed him that Oliver Mowat did not rule in Manitoba and had not passed the sincerity of his Equal Rights principles, he left, refusing to listen to Mr. Rowell's retply. The audience did not fail to remark that it was strange to see the Mayor lett, retusing ply. The audience did not fail to remark ply. The audience did not fail to remark that it was strange to see the Mayor of London afraid of a boy. However, he shortly came back, and, looking in at an open window, shouted at Mr. Rowell, who was speaking, after which he got into his conveyance and started for London, a long a wiser man.
