CITY PREPARES TO MAKE WORK FOR WORKLESS

Will Start Pine Lawn Sewer System Within a Month.

SPENCER GIVES FIGURES

Says Practically All 400 Applicants At Bureau Are Londoners.

The unemployment committee of the city decided on Thursday afternoon that the labor situation in the city was such that relief work should be undertaken as soon as possible. Such a recommendation will be sent on to the city council at its next meeting. On Tuesday night the council designated the Pine Lawn sewer installation as work to be carried on for this purpose and it is likely that a start will be made within a month. The Provincial Government has indicated that it will assist the city in meeting the increased cost of any work of this nature undertaken.

J. C. Spencer of the Ontario Government Employment Bureau stated that the applications at his office for work number 400. The list was growing rapidly. The change this week when the snow appeared was most noticeable. It resulted in the cutting off of outside work. He expressed the opinion that the list would grow rapidly from now on. During the last month and a half the city had been particularly fortunate in having so much work going on, he said, but this week saw a reversal of this condition, and today the bureau was not placing any men. He pointed out that there was not a farm job on the list in the past few days, and that when the farm work passes, he thought they were getting near the end of their resources.

Rev. Mr. Harris, director of religious education in St. Andrew's, told the gathering about the activities of the church in that direction, and urged the members to take as one of the main objectives of their organization, the assisting of the church in its endeavors to reach the younger members of the congregation.

"The program," said the speaker, "in this work is divided into four phases, social, mental, physical, spiritual, and religious education means the development of these in a scientific way."

Rev. D. C. MacGregor, the pastor, in his address, explained the great opportunities for brotherhood energies in the world of today, when movements were on foot to bring universal peace. "What the next 25 years brings forth depends on one institution, the Church of the Living God. If it fails, humanity is doomed," said the speaker. In conclusion, he urged that they maintain the brotherhood ideals. "We must give the world a living illustration of what we mean by brotherhood," he declared.

In addition to the address, a small musical program was provided, and several business matters were disposed of at the meeting. It was decided to hold a similar meeting every month.

LOSES EYE TYING HEIFER TO STALL

William Bartlett of Springbank Now in Victoria Hospital.

William Bartlett, a farmer, living on Brick street, near the Springbank reservoir, had his left eye so badly gouged by a calf early Thursday morning, that it was found necessary to remove it. Mr. Bartlett went to the barn at an early hour to do the milking, and in endeavoring to pull a calf into a stall, he put his arm around the animal's neck. The calf jerked her head sideways, and the point of her tiny horn struck Mr. Bartlett in the eye.

He walked to the house, notified the members of his family of the accident, and had the injured optic bandaged. He then went back to the barn, and although in great pain, finished milking. The pain finally became so great that Mr. Bartlett was rushed to Victoria Hospital, where Dr. John Hunt removed the injured eye.

Mr. Bartlett's condition was reported as being favorable by the hospital authorities Friday.

WILL CLEAR SIDEWALK AROUND VICTORIA PARK

In the future it is the intention of the parks commission to pay more attention to the clearing of sidewalks on either side of Victoria park than the paths through the grounds itself.

While not too great a period is expended in plowing a way through the park, it is recognized that no matter what is done in that direction, the walking is never actually good, and it is thought better to insure that the sidewalks on either side are better cared for than they were on Friday morning, for instance.

WILLIAM FREDERICK, 553 South street, reported to the police that his bicycle was stolen from in front of his house on Thursday evening. The bicycle was a Branford Red Bird, No. 103878, and a 1921 model.

Mr. Harris expressed the opinion that there would be more hardship apparent later on. He said that the city was not working for only a grub stake during the summer and couldn't get much ahead.

Engineer Brazier stated that the work on the West London sewer would last until about the first of the year. He did not think the city was able to get the Pine Lawn sewer under way before a month's time. His department was also working on plans for storm water sewers and these were nearly ready. He said that there was a need right now for work to care for the unemployed. He stated that if there were cases where there was actual need, he would be able to take care of a small number on the West London job.

he gave credit for her present standing as a nation.

With a plea to the youth and men of the country he closed his address. He told of the conference in Washington which opens on Saturday, but he said: "The nations of the earth will not sweeten, better, husband and sons of Canadian and French women."

The decision to sell poppies for Armistice Day was in a substantial measure influenced by a desire to help the French women and children who have suffered so much deprivation to add to their incomes. In addition the G. W. V. A. purposes endowing a cot in the Sick Children's Hospital.

Between $700 and $800 has already been taken in, according to Mrs. John McLean and Mrs. J. B. McKillop, poppy day conveners. The sale of poppies is being continued both by taggers and in several of the stores, Gray's Limited, Colerick's, Boughner's, Wendell Holmes, Boomer's, Peters', Smallman & Ingram's and Kingsmill's.

Placing Crosses.
Over more than one memorial tablet erected to a lad who did not come back, loving friends have placed crosses and wreaths of poppies, and it is expected that many more will be used in this way before the end of the week.

Poppies, it is stated, will figure prominently in the decoration of churches for Armistice Day services postponed until Sunday, Nov. 13.

Uniforms May Be Worn.
Just as on Armistice Day, 1918, pent-up anxiety found relief in the spirit of carnival, so the joyful side of the memorial day will be emphasized in the Armistice night ball in the Winter Gardens, held under the joint auspices of the Princess Patricia and Campbell Becher chapters, I. O. O. E.

The patriotic note will be struck in the streamers of red, white and blue which float from the ceiling of the ballroom, the immense Union Jacks and the flags of the Allies everywhere in evidence.

Special permission has been granted by Major-General H. A. Annet, O. C. M. D. No. 1, to men desiring to go to wear their military uniforms, and it is expected that these will be a striking note of contrast to the civilian dress which during the last three years has once more become the general wear.

Many visitors from out of town are coming in to share the festivities, parties from Detroit, Windsor, Hamilton, Toronto, Ingersoll and many other points.

A special party was given Thursday night for the patients at the Westminster Hospital as their share in the armistice celebration.

A Norse finger ring, supposed to have been brought by the Vikings about 800 A.D., has been found in the ruins of Whaley, Shetland islands. The ring, which is in perfect condition, is of thick-plated gold wire, the neat joining of the ends suggesting skilled workmanship.

yet totally prevent war and stop preparations for war. It must still remain a fact that England is an island, that Japan is an island, and that France is a state which exists between Canada and the United States does not exist between all nations. The world is still unsettled.

Fears Emergencies.
"For this reason Canada must be prepared always for emergencies, which might arise at any time. The war proved how unexpectedly emergencies can arise."

"I do not plead for a large military force, but I do ask the young men of our youth each year to spend a certain number of days in military training."

"They must be ready and willing to maintain the splendid traditions of their grandfathers derived from the war of the past, from the war of 1812, the Fenian Raids, and the Northwest Rebellion, and to keep alive the records and fame of brothers and fathers on the fields of France."

To the Kiwanians, the speaker made a plea that they build the three words, "Adaptability, Application and Courage," into their daily lives, and thereby to help build on a sure foundation the future of this city and Canada.

Win Weekly Prizes.
The Kiwanians attended the luncheon in full force. In the drawing for the booster prizes the winners were Kiwanians Joe Firth, Jack Tennant and Roy Williams.

It was announced by the secretary that a bylaw changing the executive force from the four officials and the chairman of the thirteen committees to a committee consisting of the president, vice-president, secretary and treasurer, five directors and the chairman of the committees, was under consideration.

Each of the five directors will supervise two committees to insure their proper functioning. The bylaw will be voted on by the club in two weeks' time.

Help Peterboro Club.
Kiwanian H. B. Muir made a plea that members of the London club should give personal support to the Peterboro Kiwanis Club, which in the course of formation, under the guidance of Kingston Kiwanians.

Peterboro club, he said, was to celebrate its charter night on Wednesday next, and asked that several Londoners attend the gathering. The train leaving at noon for the east, it was announced, would make connections with a special train leaving Toronto shortly after 5 o'clock. Efforts are to be made to make up a party consisting of members from the clubs of the district.

STAGE SET FOR VISIT OF HON. R. B. BENNETT
The stage is all set for the National Liberal and Conservative "pow-wow" in the Masonic Temple Saturday evening. London Conservatives are pinning great hope on Premier Meighen's new minister of justice, the Hon. R. B. Bennett, K.C., of Calgary, who is scheduled to "do all the talking." Seemingly, Mr. Bennett has enjoyed a certain distinction in the past as a member of the House of Commons, having been selected at certain intervals and for certain reasons to talk at some length.

CHILD STAR TO AMUSE ORPHANS

Dorothy Waters, the 7-year-old movie star, who is appearing in person at the Allen Theatre this week, paid a flying visit to The Advertiser office this morning. She announced her presence long before anyone saw her by her shrill little voice uttering protest at the "many stairs" she must climb to reach the editorial sanctum, and exclaiming: "Oh, Mary Picklefoot!" as her gaze lit upon the movie star's picture which, among many others, adorns the walls of the office.

The juvenile actress is an exceedingly lively little soul, who takes delight in travelling about with her mother and always insists on entertaining some of the shut-ins of the cities which she visits. The returned soldiers are favorites, and she loves to dance and sing for the children of the orphanages wherever she goes. This morning, she declared, with much glee, that she was going out today to call on the London long.

Planet Mercury has a year 88 days long.

She likes the movies better than vaudeville, because "it's easier work with the movies and you get such lovely lunches and lots of automobile rides and rides on horseback."
