CANADIAN FIRE LOSSES SHOW LARGE DECREASE

BRADSTREET'S REPORTS TRADE SATISFACTORY

London.—Reports to Bradstreet's say that retail trade here is very fair for the season of the year. In some quarters it is claimed to be well up to that of a year ago. Wholesale trade is moderately active, most of the business passing being for future delivery, there being but a moderate sorting trade passing. Manufacturers of steel and metal goods are fairly busy, and the outlook generally is bright in this respect. Collections are fair.

Windser.—There is little in the way of fresh development to report this Windsor.—There is little in the way of fresh development to report this week. Retail trade is as yet only fair, while wholesale trade is moderately busy. Merchants are looking for better business when the spring opens up. Manufacturing concerns are busy, particularly the automobile industry, where the promise of an active season is good. Collections are fair, Chickens, old, lb.....

Chicago, Feb. 16.—Absence of any renewal of yesterday's heavy selling led to a moderate upturn of prices in the wheat market today during the early dealings. The fact that rural offerings of all kinds of grain were light tended further to restore some measure of confidence among bulls, and so, likewise, did the indifferent response which the Liverpool market made to declines in America. Notice was taken, too, of a reduction in estimates of the Argentine exportable surplus of wheat. The opening, which varied from unchanged figures to 1/2c higher, was followed by gains all around, and then something of a reaction.

Corn and cats were firmer with wheat. After opening 1/2c to 1/2c higher, the corn market scored a slight additional upturn.

There is much speculation as to the coming Saturday market, owing to the conditions existing. It is hoped that before the day is over that efforts will be made to clear away the drifted snow so that a great deal of the trouble will be removed. Unless this is done, it may be that before long there will be a shortage in supplies.
