

DELAYED DISPATCHES.

Europe.

LONDON, Aug. 14.—Prince Arthur sailed for Halifax to-day.

The Times has an editorial on the cotton supply, charging that Manchester alone is responsible for the scarcity. With all its wealth, enterprise and confidence, it never invested a penny in a cotton field in the outside world, and therefore concludes that cotton planting don't pay. If Manchester spinners would establish a cotton company with a large capital in the heart of India, things would be different. The association urges the establishment of vast cotton fields in Ethiopia, but the recommendation is thought interesting only to growers, and has little effect in causing more cotton to be grown. If India is to be our feeder, she can be so only on terms of free trade. Cotton growers must be prepared for the rival American industry. In the competition of the world in such a race, India must have great advantages, which, if increased by judicious action of the government, it is probable that Indian agriculture and British industry might be established on a broad and permanent prosperity.

The Post has an editorial on the subject of the sale of Cuba to the United States. The writer says: "We entertain suspicion that the best thing Spain can do is to close with America in respect to Cuba. She gains nothing by Cuba in its present condition, but loses a sum she can't afford."

The Oxford boat club causes a favorable impression. It is said, with little practice, they are the most finished crew ever on English waters.

ST. PETERSBURG, Aug. 13.—The assertion recently made by some journals, that the Porte had information of a letter compromising the Viceroy of Egypt in respect to his relations with the Czar, are pronounced utterly false. No such letter exists. The only correspondence exchanged in regard to the Viceroy was a notice sent by the Austrian Government to St. Petersburg that it was the intention of Ismael Pasha to visit the Russian Court. To this a favorable reply was returned by the Czar.

Further Accounts of the Anticipated Earthquake in Peru—Panic among the Inhabitants.

The Lima correspondent of the New York Tribune, speaking of the prophecies of the German astronomer as to the coming earthquakes, says:—

The people of Peru are all greatly agitated just now over the predictions of a German astronomer living at Valparaiso. He has prophesied the coming August three terribly severe shocks of an earthquake, on the 9th, 10th and 11th of August, and that Lima and Callao will be partially destroyed, and the 30th of September Chili will be destroyed, and the 30th of October Callao and Lima will be utterly submerged and destroyed. He bases his prediction upon some startling comet and meteoric collision, and his words have greatly frightened the residents of both Lima and Callao. It is said he foretold the visitation of San Francisco and London, England, by the earthquake, and people who laughed at his prophecy were sobered when the earthquakes really did visit those cities as he foretold, and began to think that the prophet was a veritable one, and could foretell coming events. There are plenty of foreigners who believe his predictions, in regard to Peru will be fulfilled to the very letter, and some are even making preparations to remove from Lima and Callao, and escape the inevitable destruction. To give weight to the astronomer's prophecy, an astrologer in London has foretold the same event, and given the same months as the German prophet, but not the days of the month. To a people so ignorant, superstitious and easily frightened as the Peruvians, this forthcoming destruction seems horrible; and on the streets, in the houses, in the shops and churches, even, you hear nothing else talked about. Even the priests are reading Latin prayers to avert the threatening calamity, and the women are beseeching their brothers, husbands and fathers to remove with them from the danger that impends. I was greatly amused, last Saturday morning, at seeing and hearing an old crane, who sells fruit in one of the streets of Lima, and whose stand is beside the crumbling stone steps of the cathedral. She had evidently just heard of the threatened destruction of Lima and her apartment, and she was muttering prayers, imploring Divine aid and selling fruit in the same breath in a most laughable manner. Her manner of speech and gesture could not be correctly portrayed on paper, but described as well as I can, she went on something in this style: "For the love of God, don't send the earthquake; two cents a piece, Signor, don't destroy this beautiful city; five for a media, Signora, and spare the good Catholics, and the good Archbishop; buy some nice oranges, Signorita? we will offer these many prayers, oh! Virgin Mary; here's your nice, fine bananas; spare us, Holy Mother!" etc. And all this gibberish, spoken in the same breath, and without a pause, and with the most Spanish emphasis and grimaces; made a most ludicrous effect upon the bystanders. But, jesting aside, the people of Lima and Callao are greatly frightened at the coming prophecy; and if the 9th, 10th and 11th of August bring the heavy shocks foretold, there will be no one remaining in either city to await their destruction, September 30.

A Fragrant Cosmetic.

To preserve the soft, clear color of the skin, even to an advanced age, take of the genuine MERBAY & LEMAR'S FLORIDA WATER one part, of pure water three parts; mix, and bathe the face, neck and arms five or six times a day. Beware of the pernicious counterfeits; always ask for the Florida Water prepared by the sole proprietors, Lauman & Kemp, New York.

What a Sermon Should Be.

It should be brief; if lengthy, it will steep our hearts in apathy, our eyes in sleep; The dull will yaw; the chapel-lounger close, Attention flag, and memory's portals close.

It should be warm; a living altar coal, To melt the icy heart and charm the soul; A sermon full of harangue, however rare, Will never rouse the soul, or raise the dead.

It should be simple, practical, and clear; No fine-spun theory to please the ear; No curious lore to tickle lettered pride, And leave the poor and plain unaided.

It should be tender and affectionate As his warm theme who wept lost Salem's fate; The fiery laws, with words of love alloy'd, Will sweetly warm and awfully persuade.

It should be mainly just, and rational; Wisely concealed, and well express'd without. Not stuffed with silly notions, apt to stain A sacred desk, and show a muddy brain.

It should possess a well-adapted grace To situation, audience, time, and place; A sermon form'd for scholars, statesmen, lords, With peasants and mechanics ill accorded.

It should with ev'ngelic beauties bloom, Like Paul's at Corinth, Athens, or at Rome; With some Epictetus or Sterne's theme, A gracious flavor in the gospel theme!

It should be mixed with many an ardent prayer, To reach the heart, and fix and fasten there; When God and man are mutually address'd, God grants a blessing, man is truly blest.

It should be closely well applied at last, To make the moral and security fast; Thou art the man, and thou, alone will make A Felix tremble and a David quake!

A CHRONICLER, who is probably on familiar terms with the court washerwoman, has lately furnished a Paris journal with some curious details concerning the Imperial laundry. This is a very important department, indeed, for when the Emperor receives the visits of foreign potentates, etiquette obliges him not only to provide lodgings, carriages, and servants for his guests, but his hospitality must also extend to sheets, napkins, towels, and table-cloths. In the Crown linen department, which is quite distinct from the private lingerie of their Majesties, are still to be seen damask towels which have been used by Louis XIV. They are of a rather coarse texture; but bear, woven in the stuff, the image of the grand monarch seated on horseback, and wearing the tremendous wig of the period. Among what may be called the archaeological treasures of this collection also figure drawers which had the honor of being once worn by the same mighty personage, and the sheets in which Louis XVIII. died Napoleon I. used to sleep in fine Dutch linen; but the Bonbons of the Restoration were content with nothing less than Cambrie. The present Emperor is satisfied with ordinary sheeting. The Crown department contains 80,000 articles, including 5,000 sheets and some table-cloths for a dinner of 280 persons. The latter, when folded, form a little monument in themselves. The washing bill amounts to about 120,000 francs a year.

PAIDEE YOUR OWN CANOE.—Judge S. gave his son a thousand dollars, telling him to go to college and graduate. The son returned at the end of the Freshmen year without a dollar, and with several ugly habits. About the close of the vacation, the Judge said to his son:—

'Well, William, are you going to college this year?'

'Have no money, father.'

'But I gave you a thousand dollars to graduate on.'

'It's all gone, father.'

'Very well, my son; it was all I could give you; you can't stay here; you must now pay your own way in the world.'

A new light now broke in upon the vision of the astonished young man. He accommodated himself to the situation; he left home, made his way to college; graduated at the head of his class, studied law, became Governor of the State of New York, entered the Cabinet of the President of the United States, and is none other than William H. Seward.

FENIANISM IN NEW ZEALAND.—A Mr McKay writes that the Fenians have been stimulating insurrection among the native Hanus. He reports: First of all, it was said that these persons were of a different nation from the English or Scotch, and were of the same people as shot the Queen's son in Australia; that if the Hanus give them over the land, they would give £1 per man, a share of the proceeds, and would keep away all other Europeans, and assist the natives against the Government. While this was being stated to the natives, another man came up and gave the natives a flag, and that flag was sent on to the King's place at Tokangamuta by a native named John. The same party had certainly books, with plates and engravings representing different things which have taken place at home and in the Australian colonies within the last few years. This man had also a suit of uniform and a sash, with the letters I. R. on it.

HOLLOWAY'S PILLS.—The changes of temperature and weather frequently upset persons who are most cautious of their health, and most particular in their diet. These corrective, purifying, and gentle aperient Pills are the best remedy for all defective actions of the digestive organs; they regulate the appetite, strengthen the stomach, correct biliousness, and carry off all that is noxious, from the system. Holloway's Pills are composed of rare balsams, united with the finest matter, and on that account are peculiarly well adapted for the young, delicate, and aged. As this powerful medicine has gained fame in the past, so will it preserve its in the future by its renovating and invigorating qualities, and its infallibility of doing harm.

Many years ago, the writer of these lines and an invalid physician, while visiting the Island of St. Croix for their health, experienced and witnessed many surprising and beneficial effects of the Rum there produced upon many of the invalids who were (like ourselves) seeking health; and, upon inquiry and investigation, obtained a full history of its medicinal virtues. He was delighted and surprised, and after his own recovery, which soon occurred, determined, if possible, to procure the sole right to manufacture and sell it in the United States.

The result of his labors was a glorious success for himself and suffering humanity, for the celebrated PLANTATION BITTERS was thus made known to the world. PLANTATION BITTERS being an article of real merit, founded upon new principles, and relying wholly upon the vegetable world for its medicinal effects, worked a rapid revolution in the history of medicine, and became a household word all over the civilized world. The cabalistic S. T.—1860—X. was a talkman of health, and the demand for the PLANTATION BITTERS soon far exceeded the abilities of the proprietors to supply.

Notwithstanding the large importation of St. Croix Rum, made expressly for the compounding of these Bitters, the quantity was inadequate. It therefore became necessary that arrangements upon an extensive scale abroad should at once be made, and an agent was dispatched to St. Thomas for that purpose. He was fortunate in securing and leasing several plantations on some of the largest and most productive estates on the island. Houses, stills and presses were erected as if by magic, which utterly astonished the natives. The services of experienced men and natives of the island were procured, and very soon the proprietors of the PLANTATION BITTERS were in a position to supply their laboratory with all the perfectly pure St. Croix Rum needed in manufacturing the GREAT DYSPEPTIC TONIC AND INVIGORATOR. The above cut represents the natives crushing the sugar-cane and otherwise preparing it for the stills and presses. As an antidote to Fever and Ague, Intermittent and Malarious Fevers, Dyspepsia, and other kindred diseases, the use of the PLANTATION BITTERS is unsurpassed in the history of the world. Over five million bottles are disposed of annually. They are adapted to old and young, male and female. They are agreeable in taste, and always produce an immediate beneficial result.
