The Cost of Paper.

The consuming public is so used to receiving the information that every kind of raw material has been advanced in price by those who control the supply, that buyers of printing will not be greatly surprised to hear that nearly all kinds of paper have been advanced in price from eight to ten per cent. One week printers receive notice that wood pulp boards have gone up, another week that all book papers have advanced, then comes notification that coated or enamelled papers have been raised in the price, that card board stock is on the incline, and that print paper is to be elevated a notch. This demand for advanced prices in the cost of paper must necessarily fall upon the consumer at large, for the printer has already all the burdens he can possibly carry in the general advance of labor and supplies. Buyers of printing may therefore, reasonably look for an increased cost in all kind of printed matter, and the duplication of orders at former prices is scarcely to be expected to continue.—Montreal Gazette

Sheep and Dogs.

Many farmers urge the objection to the raising of sheep, that the dog nuisance is too great. One man in Ontario County says that his flock of 18 lambs has dwindled to two, and he is going to quit.

No doubt there is a big loss annually to the farmers through the dog nuisance. The attacks are generally made at night, when it is impossible to see the intruders. Many vigilant farmers have used the rifle to advantage, but it is tiresome work and needless worry. Nova Scotia is having serious thoughts over the same question. Dog taxes have been levied by many townships, yet still the nuisance continues.

The fact is, man likes a dog. Certainly they are friends of man and the keeping of them will continue, sheep or no sheep. It is needless for anyone to expect legislation to unnecessarily oppress the owners of dogs. They have a right to a hearing and the tax that prevents useless curs from becoming too common answers all purposes.

How, then, shall we raise sheep? The question must be looked at in the most sensible way. As in the production of everything in agriculture, there is drawbacks, and the survival of the

BOVRIL

Contains the life-sustaining elements of B E E F

Beef extracts contain only the flavor and stimulating elements of beef—the nutritive values are lost in the making. Baron Liebig, the inventor of beef extracts, admitted that. He said "It is but a condiment and stimulant, containing no matter capable of sustaining life."
That is where BOVRIL differs from beef extracts.
BOVRIL does contain the nourishment and life-sustaining elements of beef as well as its rich flavor.
BOVRIL gives strength and nourishment to the invalid. With its help you can make left-over scraps into delicious consommés, bouillons and soups with very little trouble.

industry depends upon the success of battle against the evil. We must have sheep, because they pay. We will always have dogs. Therefore, we must take care of our sheep.

The plan, often rehearsed by Joon Campbell, that veteran sheep breeder of Victoria County, is along the right lines. Take care of the sheep by building a little enclosure, cheaply, made of wire, wherein the sheep can be put at night. These enclosures can be made dog proof, and they can be so placed on hills and on poor spots of the field as to make the land richer at the same time. The labor of attending to this is slight, and after it is done for a few times the sheep come in at night of their own accord. There is more money in sheep than in many other branches of farming. If our farmers' institutes and granges would discuss this question more, and the raising of sheep better understood, the farmers of Ontario would be a long way better off.

Canada Putting Barbed Wire on the Tariff Fence.

In these days of skepticism and heresies, religious, social and fiscal, some are having the light let in upon them and some are opening the windows for themselves. The Grand Rapids Herald, owned by Senator William Alden Smith, publishes a cartoon representing Uncle Sam scaling a high board fence, representing the tariff barrier between this country and Canada, with a huge pack of goods on his back. The inscription is almost appalling, from the standpoint of the average United States senator, for it reads: "Our trade with Canada has increased millions of dollars' worth during the past year. What would it be with the tariff fence removed?" The answer is so obvious that should the offending senator be arranged by his associates on a charge of rank heresy, he could offer no defense.

The answer is coming in another way and a very effective form, for Canada, instead of seeking modification of the tariff, is inclined to put barbed wire on top of the fence. Not only is she inclined to manufacture the things which she has been accustomed to buy from the United States, but she is preparing to do it with American capital in Canada, furnishing employment for Canadian labor and taxable property for the support of the government. American saw-mills have had to set up in Canada. Now she is on the verge of forbidding the export of wood pulp so that American paper mills which are dependent upon Canadian wood must pull up stakes and remove their plants to the Dominion. This promises to cause quite an exodus in the next quarter century, and every paper plant of much size represents an investment of $500,000 to $2,000,000. And what sort of a road is the American publisher going to travel in the meantime while this readjustment goes on?—Detroit News.

The Doctor of the Future.

Dr. Ewart of London, sighs with so many of his brethren in Great Britain and the United States, over the many physicians and the too few patients. The doctors have seen their best days, he thinks; the profession must "become more and more the servant of the State." No doubt Government must be everything and feel all pulses and look at all tongues. Physicians will be directors of gymnasiums and sports or sanitary constables. Everybody's diet will be prescribed by the Government. There will be good health laws, and violators of them will be fined or imprisoned or both. What will become of the specialist? Is he not a monopolist? He must go.—New York Sun.

Old Church Burns.

Montreal, Nov. 8.—The old and historic church at Longue Point, a suburb of Montreal, was destroyed by fire last night. When the caretaker passed through the sacred edifice at 7 p. m. he saw nothing unusual, but an hour later the whole structure was discovered to be on fire by the villagers, and their feeble efforts could do little to stop the flames. The loss will be $75,000, on which there is an insurance of $16,000. Some fifteen years ago the same church was partly burned. It was one of the oldest churches in Canada, having been built in 1729, and contained several valuable vestments and a silver altar service that was brought out from France. When the church was burned nothing of this was saved. The church ornaments alone were worth many thousand dollars, and were made more valuable by their historical associations.

The Very Latest.

A young married woman entered a shop and asked to be shown some tablecloths. The salesman brought a pile and showed them to her, but she said she had seen those elsewhere—nothing suited her.
"Haven't you something new?" she asked.
The man then brought another pile and showed them to her.
"These are the newest patterns," he said. You will notice that the edge runs right round the border and the centre is in the middle."
"Dear me, yes! I will take half a dozen of them."

For Stealing Harness.

Fred McKinnon, a young farmer of Moore township, was arrested by Provincial Detective Sarvis and brought before Magistrate Robert Fleck Friday charged with the theft of some harness from George Andrews and Ernest Brewer neighboring farmers. Evidence was taken and McKinnon was committed for trial.

Learn Dress-Making By Mail

in your spare time at home, or TAKE A PERSONAL COURSE AT SCHOOL

To enable all to learn we teach on cash or instalment plan. We also teach a personal class at school once a month. Class commencing last Tuesday of each month. These lessons teach how to cut, fit and put together any garment from the plainest shirt waist suit, to the most elaborate dress. The whole family can learn from one course. We have taught over seven thousand dress-making, and guarantee to give one hundred dollars to any one that cannot learn between the age of 14 and 40. You cannot learn dress making as thorough as this course teaches. If you work in shops for years. Beware of imitations as we employ no one outside the school. This is the only experienced Dress Cutting School in Canada and excelled by none in any other country. Write at once for particulars, as we have out our rate one-third for a short time.

MR. J. G. Burgess has been urging upon the Petrolia school board the necessity of two examinations for promotion each year, instead of one as it now is. He has a letter which he obtained (through his solicitor) from the Deputy-Minister of Education of Ontario, which plainly states "That each teacher is required to give one promotion at the end of each term." There being two terms in each year, makes it quite clear that we should have two examinations each year in our public schools, as Mr. Burgess has contended.

THE English market is apparently overflooded with horses of all kinds, for buyers there shipping horses to Canada now. The American markets are closed to the Canadian breeder on account of the $30 a head demanded as duty, and there is no demand for horses in the only other market left—the Northwest. The crops were not up to the standard out in that country, and the farmers won't buy a horse at the present prices of feed. Local horsemen predict that the horse market will slump greatly unless a change comes soon in the price of feed.

ACTION is to be taken by the authorities to prevent the promiscuous distribution from house to house and through the mails of samples of patent medicines. An analysis of all such medicines is demanded before distribution. A leading jeweler of Toronto, was snatched from death by the prompt use of the stomach pump, his violent illness being caused by taking a small tablet sent him through the mails as a "sample." There is also great danger to children, who are attracted by the sugar coating on these tablets and pills.

ONE of our exchanges tells of an old German who had a boy of whom he was very proud, and decided to find out the trend of his mind. He adapted a novel method by which to test him. He slipped into the boy's room one morning and placed on his table a bottle of whiskey, a bible and a silver dollar. "Now," said he, "when dot boy comes in if he takes dot dollar he's going to be a beezin's man; if he takes dot bible he's going to be a preacher; if he takes dot whiskey he's no good, and going to be a drunkard." Then he hid behind a door to see which his son would choose. In came the boy whistling. He ran up to the table picked up the bible and put it under his arm, then snatched up the bottle of whiskey, took three or four drinks, picked up the dollar and put it in his pocket, and went out smacking his lips. The Dutchman poked his head out from behind the door and exclaimed: "Mein Got, he is going to be a politician."

Sea Powers of the World.

The United States is second in the relative order of warship tonnage among the sea powers, according to a statement just issued by the office of naval intelligence, Navy Department. But she will yield second place to France when the ships now under construction by both countries are completed. Great Britain is still the leading sea power of the world, and Japan is fifth. Great Britain leads in the number of first-class battleships, having 52, while the United States has 22, France 19, Germany 22 and Japan 11.

Identified.

The visitor had already spoken at considerable length when he said to the children, whose attention had begun to wander. "And now I want to tell you of a boy I once knew."

"He had a good father and mother," the visitor continued, when he found several pairs of eyes had returned to their survey of his face, "and they did all that lay in their power to make him happy. But the boy was thoughtless and selfish; he frittered away his time and never thought of the future."

"Today, instead of filling an honorable and useful position in life, where do you suppose he stands, children, as a man?"
"He stands before us!" shrilled all the little boys and girls, in prompt and joyous unison.

Health is Queen of Beauty.

There is just one royal road to beauty and that is good health. To try to mold a beautiful figure and a pretty face out of an unhealthy body is as impossible as it would be for an architect to build his foundation on a bed of sand. Before you try your beauty exercises to reduce the hips and waist and to fill out the hollows of the neck, stop and think if you have the physical foundations to build on. If you find you are anaemic, exhausted and tired, postpone the beauty exercises and spend your time resting and getting strong. Sleep as much as you can, take long walks, drink lots of water and do not eat many sweets.

A Woman in a Street Car.

"The other day," said a man passenger in a street car, "I saw a woman in a street car open a satchel and take out a purse, close the satchel and opened the purse, and take out a dime, and close the purse, open the satchel and put in the purse. Then she gave the dime to the conductor, and took out a nickel in exchange. Then she opened the satchel and took out the purse, closed the satchel and opened the purse, put in the nickel and closed the purse, opened the satchel and put in the purse, closed the satchel and locked both ends. Then she felt to see if her back hair was all right, and it was all right, and she was all right. That was a woman."—Ladies' Home Journal.
