THE COST OF GROWING POTATOES
 Experimental Farms Note

In potato growing provinces like New Brunswick there is always more or less discussion as to what it should cost to grow a good crop of potatoes and statements vary from as low as $40.00 per acre to as high as $125.00. Naturally there will be much variation in cost according to local conditions and especially to the ability of the land to produce without expensive fertilizing. It should be borne in mind that it will usually cost the potato specialist more to grow his crop than it will the farmer who follows mixed farming and makes his potato crop merely one of his many activities.

With a view to getting actual figures under average conditions in New Brunswick, a careful record has been made at the Dominion Experimental Station, Fredericton, for the past two seasons with an acre of land set apart for this particular purpose.

Neither rent of land nor depreciation of machinery was included in the calculation, for these two are items that are largely in the hands of the individual grower. As a general rule, however, it would be fair to charge as rent, 10% of the value of the land, and special potato machinery will depreciate from 25% to 50% per year if used steadily for ten days each season. In 1915, the depreciation of the potato digger alone, used at the Experimental Station, was $6.00 per acre.

In 1915, the acre was planted with Green Mountain, Irish Cobbler and Empire State. Seed, cultural operations and harvesting cost in all $67.93. Eighty barrels of 165 pounds each of marketable potatoes were obtained and sold at $1.75 per barrel making a profit over cost of production of 90c. per barrel. Seven barrels of culls were sold for $3.50, so that the total profit for the acre amounted to $75.50.

This land was rather wet naturally and during the very rainy weather of June and July was several times flooded, causing missed hills and inferior plants generally. This land was originally cleared many years ago and after cutting hay for thirty years it was allowed to grow up to spruce, birch and alder. It was again cleared in 1913 and grew buckwheat in 1914.

In 1916, an acre was planted with Green Mountain seed. The total cost amounted to $82.33 the increase over 1915 being due to high priced seed, higher priced fertilizer ingredients and very dear copper sulphate.

One hundred and twenty barrels of marketable potatoes were harvested and could have been sold at $2.25 per barrel, making a profit per barrel over cost of production of $1.56, plus six barrels of culls at 50c, $3.00, making a total profit of $190.20.

Market price when potatoes were dug was $2.25 per barrel. Later they could have been sold at $3.25, but are held for seed.

This land grew hay for many years and was broken up and grew potatoes with 750 pounds fertilizer in 1913, corn with 18 tons barnyard manure in 1914, oats without manure in 1914, oats without manure in 1915. This land is on a slope, fairly well drained and except for washing out slightly between the rows felt no bad effects from the June deluge.

The Penny Savings Bank

The Penny Bank has been in operation long enough to demonstrate its value and utility. It has passed the experimental stage. Instead of becoming, as some supposed it might, a fosterer of the miserly spirit, it has actually been the reverse, many instances showing that the saving of boys and girls have been put to splendid use. During the depression in Toronto in 1907-'8, the bank accounts of many children, small though they were, saved the day for almost destitute families and there are not a few cases where the Penny Banks have proved the salvation of families in times of sickness. It has often given boys a start in life, which they otherwise would not have had, and has served to counteract vicious tendencies. It has been the enemy of the cheap candy store, where so many boys and girls get into the habit of selfishly squandering their money. It has in short been a splendid supplementary force in education.
