A Great Drawing Team

By Augustus Bridle
A good drawing team is just as much of a joy to the man that owns it as it used to be in the bush-log days. We talk a good deal—some of us—about the great horse we used to handle the ribbons over in the bush, lifting out great loads of elm logs, sometimes 1,500 feet or 2,000, sometimes more according to the man who is telling it, from the stump to the skidroad and the concession line.

Certainly some of those teams could draw; and surely some of their drivers did use to be able to talk about it. But there are more good average hauling teams in the country than there were in the bush days. Farmers have gone in for specializing on draughts and roadsters, because they understand that a poor team is bad economy when work is to be done in a hurry. Getting stuck with a load in the field is a dead waste of time and temper. We used to be stuck often in the old days with some of those poor teams picked up any old way at an auction sale. But a good span of Clydes or Percherons nowadays is a real piece of insurance against wasting time with stuck loads. The only thing that happens in that line with such horses is a broken harness or a snapped doubletree.

Of course a good deal depended on the driver as it does now. One of the best drawing teams ever known in an Ontario county would pull like a tractor engine for the boss, but when it came to the hired man they see-sawed and jumped in the collar like a pair of balky Texas steers. When the boss pulled the lines over them and yelled, "Git down together"—they got down, those Bob Hunters, and lifted the load—heavens, how they could lift it! No matter what the load was, grain, or logs, or gravel; it came out of the hole on to the high-road, just by the simple knack of getting down together.

Just now the greatest hauling team ever known in Canada are engaged in lifting the biggest load that a team ever stood in front of. The load is, $150,000,000 of Canadian Victory Bonds.

That's a tremendous load. The load is there all right. Canada has the money; twice as much, ready to pile up for victory. It's a matter of lifting the load. It's a matter of what team is to do it, and who will be the driver.

What's the best team for this job? The Canadian Farmer and the Government of Canada.

If those two can't lift a great part of that load, you might as well leave it alone.

Who is the driver? A great boss named Victory. Victory. VICTORY!

The Price of Hogs

MR. EDITOR: In reply to an article which appeared in your paper a short time ago in regard to the price paid by me for hogs that week, I will give you a statement of the price of hogs on Toronto and Buffalo markets at that time. The best Toronto was bidding was $16.75 f.o.b. and Buffalo $17.75 fed and watered. On that day I paid $16.80. Up to Tuesday noon the best bid I could get from any of the packers was $16.75 f.o.b. However, on Tuesday evening I sold them to Mathews-Blackwell Co., Toronto, for $17.00—less half of one per cent. I loaded 154 hogs, the bank paid out $5,784.42, and I received in return $5,736.05, leaving a net loss to me of $48.37 for that particular lot of hogs which were bought so cheap. I still have those telegrams and bills in my possession, which any of those who were dissatisfied can come to me and inspect. In regard to the Kerwood buyers, they had their hogs sold at the week-before prices, and stated to some of the farmers that they could not have paid the high price only for that reason. The Forest buyer told me that he paid $17.75 expecting to get the former Buffalo prices, which he failed to do. Chicago market dropped $3.00 per cwt., which sent all the other markets down. I advised several whom I met after I found out that the Kerwood people had their hogs sold at the week-before's prices to take their hogs to them. W. W. EDWARDS.

CLARENCE GIBSON KILLED FIGHTING IN FLANDERS

Son of Major Gibson Meets His Death in Recent Battles

(Moose Jaw News, Nov. 5)
Pte. Clarence Gibson, son of Major Dr. Gibson, 202 Athabasca street east, was killed recently in action in Flanders. Word to this effect was received by his parents yesterday. He was evidently in the severe fighting around Passchendaele ridge. It was his first time in the trenches. Deceased was 21 years of age, was born at Watford, Ont., and came to the city six years ago. He was very prominent in athletic circles and, before enlisting, was a clerk in the Railway Mail Service office. He went overseas with Lieut.-Col. Pickett's battalion and was subsequently transferred to the 46th. Clarence Gibson, familiarly called "Doc" by the boys, after his father, was one of the best known youths of his age in the city. He had his father's strong love of athletics, and, although not naturally the most rugged of physique was really one of the best all-round local athletes of his age. He played lacrosse, rugby, hockey, and also did a little curling. His best work was possible done in hockey; for while he did not make the first team, he had the earmarks of a first-class forward. In temperament he was reserved and of most agreeable disposition. Little did those who knew him think, in the summer of 1916 that he would meet his death fighting in Flanders.

RHEUMATISM CURED

In the days of our fathers and grandfathers rheumatism was thought to be the unavoidable penalty of middle life and old age. Almost every elderly person had rheumatism, as well as many young people. Medical science did not understand the trouble—did not know that it was rooted in the blood. It was thought that rheumatism was the mere effect of exposure to cold and damp, and was treated with liniments and hot applications, which sometimes gave temporary relief, but did not cure the trouble. In those days there were thousands of rheumatic cripples. Now, medical science understands that rheumatism is a disease of the blood, and that with good, rich, red blood any man or woman of any age can defy rheumatism. It can be cured by killing the poison in the blood which causes it. There are many elderly people who have never felt a twinge of rheumatism, and many who have conquered it by simply keeping their blood rich and pure. The blood-making, blood-enriching qualities of Dr. Williams' Pink Pills is becoming every year more widely known, and it is the more general use of these pills that has robbed rheumatism of its terrors. At the first sign of poor blood, which is shown by loss of appetite, palpitation, dull skin and dim eyes, protect yourself against the further ravages of disease by taking Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. They have cured thousands of people—if you give them a fair trial they will not disappoint you.

You can get the pills through any dealers in medicine or by mail at 50 cents per box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

BIRTH OF A NATION

At the Lyceum Monday next, Matinee and Evening

The magnitude of David W. Griffith's feat in staging "The Birth of a Nation," is almost appalling—at least to the devotees of the older forms of theatrical entertainment. Where now are the little groups of actors, the pinchbeck scenery and the petty properties of the so-called "legitimate" drama? By comparison with the new art, the "legitimate" measures to the mountain like a molehill. Instead of scenery for his background, Griffith has used Nature. For subject he has covered 150 years of American history. Eighteen thousand people have done his bidding and in the hair-raising rides of the KuKlux Klan three thousand riders and horses sweep over the dusty roads.

No wonder that this magnificent historical spectacle is the talk of the country. It has established an entirely new art in the realm of the theatre—the art of pantomimic screen spectacle with a musical score perfectly synchronized to the action.
