Our Queen has long been "a widow indeed;" but her personal sorrows have but little interfered with the performance of those important duties which (as the monarch of a mighty Empire) has devolved upon her. While the heart was beating and agitated with poignant private grief, the sceptre in her hand was firmly held, and wielded with queenly energy.

At the time when the pressure of her grief was, heaviest, her spirit was measurably consoled with a soothing consciousness that her many mil

KILLED IN A BEAR TRAP. — Yesterday Mr. B. Stapleton received a despatch from Coroner McLaughlan of Bathurst stating that a Norwegian sailor had been found.

Chests and & Chests Choice blk. Tea dead in a bear trap in the woods, on the road between Miramichi to Bathurst. It is supposed the poor fellow mistook the trap for a log hut, and when he entered trap for a log hut, and when he entered must have unavoidably sprung it, and brought the heavy logs down upon himself Mr. Stapleton has since learned that a Norwegian sailor belonging to the barque "Arthusa," ran away from that vessel on Wednesday and intended to go Bathurst. Hans Jorgen is the name of the sailor, he is 22 years of age. It is thought that Jorgen is the man found.—
