

I N D E X.

Louisiana. Fruit trees of that country, ii. 223. Its forests, ii. 345. Where the settlements ought to be placed, ii. 298. Cause of the unjust notion entertained of it in France, ii. 300. Desertions frequent in Louisiana, ii. 353.
Licenses, abuse of, i. 127.

M.

Maiz. The corn of Canada, ii. 122. Of Maiz bread, ii. 124.

Maladies, the ordinary, amongst the Indians, ii. 172. Their extravagant notions about them, ii. 177.

Magdalen, Cape of, i. 79.

Magicians, their punishment amongst the Indians, 42.
 34.

Malhomines, or wild-oat men, an Indian nation, ii. 61.

Marameg, river; its mines, ii. 219.

Marriages, of the Indians, of the plurality of wives and husbands, ii. 48, 49. Particular laws relating to marriage, ii. 49. In what manner marriages are contracted, ii. 50. Ceremonies usual in it, ii. 52.

Marshal, English interloper at Biloxi, ii. 352. His fate, ii. 359.

Martyrs. Indians on the Islands of Martyrs, ii. 322.

Description of these islands, ii. 329. Great currents between these islands and the Tortugas, ii. 334.

Matanzas. Description of the bay of Matanzas, ii.
 361.

Maubile, river of, ii. 308.

Mascoutius, an Indian nation, i. 287.

Medicine, principles upon which that of the Indians turns,
 ii. 179.

Miamis, Indians, seem to have the same original with the Illinois, i. 287. Customs peculiar to them in preparing for war, i. 334. Games used amongst them, ii. 102, &c.

Michigan, lake, danger of the navigation on it: observation on the rivers which run into it from the East, ii.
 94.

Michillimakinac. Situation of that post, ii. 43. Traditions of the Indians about Michillimakinac: plentiful fishery in that canton, ii. 45, 46.

Mississippi.