He works 36 hours at a stretch

And overtime when needed. Anyone can afford him, for he only costs $3.00 to huy and nothing at all to keep. Nearly half of the families in Canada have taken advantage of this and have employed him to get the family up in the morning.

Even if you have a preference about waking up, he's ready to get you up your way. If you like to be wakened gradually, he'll ring little short rings every other half-minute for ten minutes. If you're a hard sleeper and need a strong dose, he'll sing out with a long, vizorous, full five-minu'e ring. Either way, you can shut aim off at any point.

7,000 Canadian dealers are necessary to take care of the demand he's created for himself. He's made a world's Record as a success. He's invaluable on the farm, because he not only helps you get the hands out on time, but serves as a first-class clock to tell the day time by.

He stands 7 inches tall, is triple nickel-plated—has a vest of good implement steel that keeps him hardy, large, bold figures and hands to tell the time by in the dim light of morning. He is as fit for the parlor as the bedroom.

If your dealer hasn't him, send a money order for $3.00 to Westelax, La Salle, Ill., and he'll come anywhere in Canada by parcel post, duty charges paid.

He hears the imprint, Made in La Salle, Illinois, by Wesdox, which is the best alarm clock insurance you can buy.
