

DE NOBIS NOBILIBUS.

A MANSE! A MANSE! FOR A' THAT.

Is there an honest student here,
Wha hangs his heid an' a' that?
Yer future lot ye needna' fear,
Ye'll get a kirk an' a' that!
For a' that an' a' that!
Be orthodox an' a' that,
An' you'll possess the guinea stamp,
The manse, the gown an' a' that.

What though on hamely fare ye dine,
Wear black surtout an' a' that,
A bonnie kirk shall yet be thine—
A manse, a manse, for a' that.
For a' that, an' a' that!
Established kirk an' a' that,
A "Free" Divine, though ne'er sae poor,
Is king o' men for a' that!

A king can mak' established men,
Dub them D. D. an' a' that!
But a "Free" Divine's abune his king,
Guid faith, he maunna fa' that.
For a' that an' a' that!
Their dignities an' a' that!
The pith o' sense, the pride o' worth,
Are more than ranks for a' that.

Then let us pray that come it may,
As come it will for a' that!
That kirke, and fee, an' fayre layde,
Shall quick appear an' a' that.
For a' that, an' a' that!
Though sundered far an' a' that,
We man to man the world ower,
Shall brithers be for a' that. Ex.

Oh! A. H. 'spare those hairs,
Which sprout from both thy cheeks,
A solace for thy cares,
You have cherished them for weeks;
They come in single file,
As though afraid to bloom,
But still, they are all the style,
So Andy give them room.

LEARN EVERETT SHORTHAND.

- 1.—Because it is particularly adapted to College work, having been invented by that distinguished British Scientist, Prof. Everett, of Queen's College, Belfast, who thoroughly understands what a College student requires.
 - 2.—It is the briefest legible system extant.
 - 3.—It is simplicity itself, easy to write, easy to learn and easy to read.
 - 4.—Hardly any grammalogues, while in Pitmanic systems these are counted by the thousand.
 - 5.—Vowels are indicated even in the briefest reporting, therefore unfamiliar words in Greek or Latin can be written at speed and read afterwards—a feature which no other system can boast of.
 - 6.—No one who has mastered its principles has given it up for another system, while numbers have abandoned the Pitman systems and use Everett's.
 - 7.—No need of a teacher, simply procure a text book and learn the system yourself during the holidays.
