CHAPTER REPORTS ON CHARITY WORK

Attention of Mayor Will Be Directed to Italian Poverty.

MAKE GOOD PROGRESS

Help Given for Soldiers and Program for Future Arranged.

A fine meeting of the Sir Henry Pellatt Chapter, I. O. O. F., was held at 659 Sherbourne street yesterday afternoon, when reports from the different chapters were heard and plans arranged for future work.

The Rosedale Circle had contributed 76 pairs of socks, the material for which was contributed by Mrs. E. L. Ruddy; the Island Circle had given a most successful dance, returns for which were complete; Parkdale Chapter had given a tea.

The president, Mrs. Ambrose Small, drew the attention of the meeting to the poverty existing among the new Canadians of Toronto owing to lack of work. She said she had communicated with the Italian consuls in Montreal and Toronto, and had arranged that the chapter should work with them in the interests of the Italians in need of assistance. The Sir Henry Pellatt Chapter had been formed with the Canadianizing of the foreigner as one of its chief interests, and she urged the support of the members.

On motion of Mrs. H. T. Kelly, seconded by Mrs. Hamilton R. Willis, it was decided to draw the attention of the mayor to existing conditions. A motion for a resolution from the chapter to wait upon the mayor and board of control to ask that work to be done for the city poor would be moved by Mrs. W. Rose, seconded by Mrs. Ruddy.

The president stated that she had obtained room at the M. C. A. Building, College street, and that five sewing machines had been installed, where sewing for the city poor would be done on Mondays, Fridays and Saturdays. The members and friends are invited to sew on these days and to send in summer and winter clothes, also boots for men, women and children. A milk fund was also started for the poor babies.

It was decided to hold a dance and card party at Hanlan's pavilion on Friday, July 30, when a date boat will be provided for the guests from Toronto.

It is neither sticky nor greasy and is really quite an agreeable thing to use. MET COL. CURRIE AT UNION DEPOT

Big Crowd, Unaware of the Change in Program, Was at City Hall.

TO HELP GET RECRUITS Train Late, Reception Canceled Until Recruiting Meeting Thursday.

Reverberating thru a crowd of some 2000 people, who had gathered at the city hall last night, was the oft-repeated question, "Where is Colonel Currie?" It started there and ended in the same place, and not until 9.50 o'clock did the throng give up hope and gradually disperse to their homes.

Such a disappointment! Everyone seemed to know that a reception had been planned, for want of Col. Currie to arrive from Ottawa at 8.30 at the Union Depot, he escorted to the city hall steps and say a few words in the waiting multitude.

Something Happened. It was not to be. Something happened. Either the arrangements fell thru or else someone erred when the statement was made that preparations were under way for a demonstration. But, contrary to all expectations, no strains of martial music could be heard every night, and no crowd of the expected band did not materialize. The expected band did not materialize. The expected band did not materialize.

Was Met at Depot. A reception was to be tendered him at the city hall, but as the train was late the reception was postponed until next Thursday. It will be held in the city hall at 8 p.m. in conjunction with the meeting convened by the mayor to stimulate recruiting.

BRITISH RESOURCES THROWN IN SCALE

Sir Robert Borden Speaks of Development of Empire for War.

NO FEARS FOR FUTURE

Struggle May Be Long, But End Not Uncertain, Declares Premier.

LONDON, July 13.—"Four days before the war broke out I telegraphed to the imperial government that there were war, Canada would regard it as her own," Sir Robert Borden, the premier of Canada, said in a cheering audience at a luncheon given at the house of commons in his honor this afternoon.

Sir Robert declared that for all purposes the resources of the British empire were abundant and that the empire could congratulate itself on the conditions of affairs today.

"I have no fear for the future though the struggle may be long," Sir Robert said. "In whatever is necessary to bring the war to an honorable conclusion, Canada is prepared to take part. This is true of the whole empire."

Premier Borden went on to say that it was impossible to believe that the democracies would not prove British efficiency in this grave peril. After peace was established he said there would be large matters for consideration for the dominions, but the difficulties were not insurmountable. He would find wide scope for himself on the conditions of affairs today.

A Bonar Law, British minister of the colonies, in a speech to "Canada and the War," expressed the opinion that the help of the dominions was likely to be a decisive factor. He hoped that one result of the upheaval would be the welding of the empire in unbreakable bonds.

Premier Borden alluding to what had been said on Canada's part in the war said there was no doubt in his own mind what the part would be. "We are not a military nation in Canada, we are a peace-loving and peace-pursuing people. Great tasks of development within our own borders are lying before us."

"Altho for a struggle such as this we were naturally unprepared, the minister of militia succeeded in placing upon the plains of Valcartier in the space of six weeks 25,000 men. We sent overseas up to the present nearly 70,000 men. Including troops doing garrison duty in the West Indies we have today in Canada 70,000 under training. The response from every province has been so warm that our arms have been in secure arms and equipment."

Resources to Win Out. "So we were there in abundance; so far as preparation is concerned we have been in very much the same difficulty as any other of the dominions. Great war upon so tremendous a scale."

"In this conflict we are engaged with great nations, and we are a century and whose aim, so far as we are permitted to say so, I am proud of the wide supremacy by force of arms."

"Naturally in the opening months we could not have accomplished all that we have accomplished."

How To Prevent Acid Stomachs and Food Fermentation

As a specialist who has spent many years in the study and treatment of stomach troubles, I have been forced to the conclusion that most people who complain of stomach trouble possess stomachs that are absolutely healthy and normal. The real trouble, which causes all the trouble, is the fact that the stomach is not properly acidified. Hyperacidity irritates the delicate lining of the stomach and food fermentation causes gas, which distends the stomach, normally causing that full bloated feeling. This both acid and fermentation interfere with and retard the process of digestion. The stomach is usually healthy and normal, but irritated, almost just endure by these food elements—acid and wind. In all such cases—and they comprise over ninety per cent. of all stomach troubles—the first and only step necessary is to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation by taking a little warm or cold water immediately after eating, from one to two teaspoonfuls of bicarbonate of soda, which is doubtless the best and only corrective antacid and food corrective known. The acid is neutralized and the fermentation stopped almost instantly and your stomach will at once proceed to treat the food in a healthy, normal manner. Be sure to ask your druggist for the bicarbonate of soda, as I have found other forms utterly lacking in its peculiarly valuable properties.—F. J. G.

was necessary, but I take comfort in this that for the purpose of war as for any other purpose the resources of this empire are not only abundant, but unlimited, and there is time for that preparation which perhaps ought to have been made earlier. The day of peril came before our day of preparation had been fully reached."

Help Proved Invaluable. In proposing the toast of "Canada and the War," Rt. Hon. Bonar Law, colonial secretary, said: "In the greatest struggle which will tax all our strength the help that we have received and will receive, from the dominions, has proved invaluable. It is nothing too much to say that nothing has touched the hearts and the imagination of the people of the United Kingdom more than the deeds of the Canadian troops. It is true that Canada is a nation, and by these deeds it proved itself a nation grown to manhood."

"We at home are all proud of what Canada has done, and if I may be permitted to say so, I am proud of having been born in Canada."

Nation Which Can Fight. Rt. Hon. Arthur Balfour, referring to the remark of Sir Robert Borden that Canada was not a military nation, said that neither was England or any other of the dominions. "We have proved, however, that we are a nation which can fight. This truth is only beginning to dawn on our antagonists."

Congratulations for Both. The gathering sent a telegram of congratulations to General Botha, premier of South Africa. Sir Robert Borden went to the house of commons from Buckingham Palace, where he had an audience with the king.

Rt. Hon. Arthur J. Balfour presided, and there were also present Earl Curzon, Earl Selborne, Lewis Harcourt, Lord Emmott, Sir George Perceval, Major-General Hughes, General Carson, Col. Carrivick, R. B. Bennett, M. P., T. P. O'Connor, Will Crooks.
