

CONTENTS.

xi

PAGE

CHAPTER XI.

PAGE

|                                                               |     |
|---------------------------------------------------------------|-----|
| Return to Philadelphia. — Remarks on the preacher. —          |     |
| Future greatness of the Republic. — A double future. —        |     |
| Slavery may be got rid of. — America the hope of op-          |     |
| pressed nations. — The slave power. — Northerners not         |     |
| fillibusters. — Hankering after Cuba. — Imprudence of         |     |
| English interference. — Reach New York. — Washington's        |     |
| birthday. — Ruffianism in New York. — Due to foreigners.      |     |
| — City prisons. — Grog shops. — Comparison of crime in        |     |
| New York and New Orleans. — Sailors' Home. — Com-             |     |
| pared with that at Liverpool. — Almsgiving. — Extra-          |     |
| vagant living at New York. — Proportion of servants to        |     |
| population compared with England and St. Petersburg. —        |     |
| Excellence of American institutions. — The reason why they    |     |
| are traduced in England. — Various communities of European    |     |
| descent in North America. — Slavery and free democracy        |     |
| compared. — Railroad in United States. — Religious feeling. — |     |
| Love to England. — The last war and "Poor Jack." — The        |     |
| Englishmen of John Milton. — Must be visited to be esti-      |     |
| mated. — The Republican principle the only one which          |     |
| pursues common weal. — The Northern States should put an      |     |
| end to a degraded class. — Conclusion                         | 142 |

APPENDIX.

|                                       |     |
|---------------------------------------|-----|
| THE CONSTITUTION OF THE UNITED STATES | 163 |
|---------------------------------------|-----|

Me-

94

tol.
s. of
est

lane.
ler

ve
ch
ne

nd.
d.
of

of
--
of

nt
v.
se

ts.

td
i

113