

CONTENTS.

- CHAP. IV. The witchcraft delusion. Great cruelties. The madness ends in the accusation of the magistrates. Reflections. 143
- CHAP. V. The situation, climate, etc. of New England. Indian corn described. Cattle of New England. 150
- CHAP. VI. People of New England. Their numbers. History of the charters of the colonies here, and the forfeiture of some. 154
- CHAP. VII. Boston, its harbour. Trade. Ship-building. Distillery. Foreign traffic. Reflections on the scheme of limiting it. Declension of the trade of New England. 158
- CHAP. VIII. New York, New Jersey, and Pennsylvania. Description of their situation, etc. Short account of their settlement. 170
- CHAP. IX. City of New York. Its flourishing trade. Albany. The Indian trade there. The Iroquois or Six Nations. 176
- CHAP. X. New Jersey. Its trade; and inhabitants. 179
- CHAP. XI. Account of William Pen. The principles on which he settled the colony. His death. 181
- CHAP. XII. Inhabitants of Pennsylvania. Variety of nations and religions there. Pacific principles of the quakers. Reflections on the present state of affairs there. 184
- CHAP. XIII. Description of Philadelphia. Its trade. Number of people in Pennsylvania. Its flourishing condition. Few negroes there. 188
- CHAP. XIV. Situation, etc. of Virginia. Convenience of its rivers for navigation. Beasts and birds of the country. The opossum. 191
- CHAP. XV. Towns in Virginia few and small. Tobacco, its cultivation. Trade in that and other