

EIGHT TICKETS FOR 25c. WOULD PAY CAR COMPANY

Expert Figures That Three Cent Fares Would Yield Handsome Profit.

Detroit, Oct. 31.—In November the voters will pass on a new franchise, which is sought by the Detroit United Railway, the Philadelphia Rapid Transit Company of that city. Under this proposed new franchise the rate of fare is ten tickets for 25 cents during five hours of the day, when most working-men ride, and six tickets for 25 cents for the other 19 hours.

That even a lower rate, a straight eight for a quarter, or practically 3-cent fare, would pay is the opinion of Frank E. Doremus, an expert, who backs up his conclusions with figures in "The Detroit Tribune." Mr. Doremus says:

"If the street railway business in Detroit is to continue under private ownership and operation when the present franchise expires, I believe the great majority of citizens would be willing to vote for a franchise under which the Detroit United Railway would be able to make a profit."

"It appears to me that it is impossible to determine what would be a reasonable rate of fare until the actual investment within the city limits is ascertained. The Codd Citizens' Committee has assumed that the property of the company within the city is worth $15,000,000, and I think it can be demonstrated by the company's own figures that even upon this amount a fair return would be earned under a straight eight-for-a-quarter franchise."

"The Codd Citizens' Committee reported at a recent meeting that the number of passengers carried during 1905, had the rate of fare been eight for 25 cents, and had 10 per cent. of the passengers paid a cash fare of 5 cents, the average fare would have been 3.31 cents per passenger. This would have produced a net profit of 27 cents per passenger, which would have earned 4 1/4 per cent. on $15,000,000, or 8 per cent. on about $10,000,000."

"According to figures of an expert, substantiated by the Codd Citizens' Committee as correct, I think it can be demonstrated conclusively that the company, in 1907, would earn a fair return upon its investment under a straight eight-for-a-quarter franchise."

"In 1905, according to the report of the street railway commission, the company carried 45,000,000 passengers. In 1906, 57,505,014 passengers were carried. These figures represent an annual increase of over 11 per cent. in the number of passengers carried during the intervening years. If this increase continues, the company will carry in 1907, 109,538,850 passengers. Upon this number of passengers the company would earn, according to its own figures, a net profit of 27 cents per passenger, or a net profit of $29,485,485. This is more than the company claims its property is worth, or the Citizens' Committee assumed it to be worth."

"Under the proposed Codd-Hutchins franchise, the company, the first year, would make on 109,538,850 passengers $1,965,425.60, which would be equivalent to 5 per cent. interest on an investment of $39,309,000. This is more than the company claims its property is worth, or the Citizens' Committee assumed it to be worth."

"These figures are indisputable. They show conclusively that the company can make money under an eight-for-a-quarter franchise, and a net income under the proposed franchise upon a sum far in excess of its actual investment, assuming its own figures to be correct."

"It should be borne in mind that these figures show the profit which would be made during the first year of the proposed franchise, and do not take into consideration the increased passenger traffic that will follow from year to year during the life of the franchise."

PUSH BOUNDARY MARKING.

Work Will Not Likely Be Completed for Two or Three Years.

Victoria, B.C., Oct. 31.—(Special).—The work of marking the boundary between Alaska and the British possessions has gone steadily onward during the last summer. A large survey party under the joint direction of the American and Canadian authorities has been working on that part of the boundary which leads thru the high mountains of the Stikine region, the line of demarcation having been described by the joint high tribunal at London. The work during the last summer has been exceedingly difficult, some of the territory thru which the surveyors have passed being of an almost impassable character.

The work will be completed for two or three years along the whole line of the international boundary. The visible demarcation of the line in the White River country is of the highest commercial importance in view of the copper developments in that part of the territory.

NEW CURE FOR INEBRIETY REFORM, NOT PUNISHMENT

London Magistrate Adopts New Method of Keeping Court "Regulars" Sober.

London, Oct. 31.—"People should get rid of the ridiculous habit of using alcohol as a beverage. It is useful neither pathologically nor physiologically."

"The author of nature never intended inebriating fluids as a beverage."

"Japan beat Russia largely because the Japanese soldiers and sailors were more sober."

These were three of the many striking things said at the opening meeting of the jubilee celebrations of the National Temperance League. The authors of the statements were respectively Sir Victor Horsley, Sir W. H. White, former director of naval construction, and Surgeon General Evans.

One of the most interesting of the speakers was Judge William Jefferson Pollock of St. Louis, who believes to be the duty of courts, he said, to save drunkards from themselves and for their families.

"I would rather send a man back to his family and keep him sober than send him to prison. It is rather curious that on the morning of the day when Judge Pollock uttered those words, Justice Plowden, a well-known Marylebone magistrate, adopted a new method on the same lines in dealing with a woman of known intemperate habits, and it is understood that his worthy intends in future to apply these methods to all cases of a similar character. After the charge had been proved the woman begged to be given another chance."

"Yes," said Justice Plowden, "you shall have another chance. If you will give me an undertaking that you will keep away for three months I will let you go, but you must report yourself once a fortnight to the missionary of the court, and if you get drunk again you will be brought here at once and get very sharp punishment. Are you prepared to do that?"

"Yes, sir."

"Very good; you can go. It is an experiment I am trying, and I have reason to think it will succeed in certain cases."

LIKE MINIATURE EARTHQUAKE

Effects of Patent Dough Mixer—In the Courts Now.

J. H. Huddleston has asked for an injunction to prevent George Lawrence, the baker on Denison avenue, from further operation of some dough mixers, which since installation a year and a half ago, has caused his house to shake so that the chandeliers rattle and the pictures will not stay in their places on the wall. The heat of ovens installed at the same time has made the paper peel off the walls.

This, Huddleston swears, in an affidavit, is corroborated by affidavits of his wife, who says her sleep was broken by the vibration. Violet, his daughter, gives testimony to the same effect. Isaac Jacob, who says he is a frequent Sunday afternoon visitor, says he would not live in the house. John O'Malley, the landlord, says that structural repairs will be necessary as a result of the shaking.

Huddleston was examined as a preliminary, and in the course of the examination he refused to answer certain questions. He refused to answer as to whether the lord was standing behind him in the action.

Yesterday morning motion was made before Chancellor Boyd to commit Huddleston for contempt in not answering the questions. The chancellor ordered that unless the landlord became a party plaintiff in the action the question must be answered.

THREE LIE IN MORGUE.

Two Others Wounded as Result of Murder Followed by Fight.

El Paso, Texas, Oct. 31.—Three bodies are in the morgue and two wounded persons in a hospital as the result of a murder here to-day, followed by an exchange of shots between the murderer and policeman. Manuel Rodriguez, killed his wife when she returned home and found him in company with another woman. Rodriguez and Chana Ramirez, the woman with whom he was killed, and city detective George Harold were called out and dispersed the excited crowd by collecting by pouring water on it from a hose.

Second Thoughts Are Best.

Mr. Justice Maule had on one occasion, it is said, a particularly atrocious case to try, and when a verdict of guilty was returned, he exclaimed, "I can't pass sentence now. I might be too severe. I feel as if I could give this man five-and-twenty years' penal servitude. Bring him up to-morrow, when I feel calmer. 'Thank you, my lord,' said the prisoner. 'I know you'll think better of it in the morning.' Next day the man was placed again in the dock. 'Prisoner,' said the judge, 'was angry yesterday, but I am calm now. I have spent a night thinking of your awful deeds, and I find on enquiry that I can sentence you to penal servitude for life. It seems to me that this is the most proper punishment for your crime, and I therefore pass upon you that sentence. I have thought better of what I was inclined to do yesterday.'

HAVE OWN EN SPENT QUIETLY AMONG THE COLLEGE BOIES

Various Entertainments Keep the Students Indoors and Only Pleasure Reigns.

The celebration of Halloween in Toronto wasn't at all like that of the olden—not so very olden—at that—days. It was marked by extreme quietude and a complete lack of the many boisterous and annoying pranks and episodes of the past. The night passed without a single arrest or disturbance of any kind, except in front of Haverland Ladies College, where some S.P.S. and Medicals on serenading bent, were dispersed by a squad of police.

The student body conducted themselves in an admirable manner, and the night and fiction of previous years were but memories. The students did not attend the local playhouses in a body. The various college and society held dinners, dances, smokers and concerts, and endeavored in every way possible to keep the students from the streets and public places.

Assembled after their concert and election of officers, and called forth in mighty voices across the campus for the School of Science men to come and join the conquering multitude, but the S. P. S. boys were having too good a time at the smoker, held under the auspices of the Engineers' Society and the faculty, and refused to join them.

The physicians—to be third formed a column 25 strong, dressed in white, and marched up to the various girls' colleges, where they exercised their powerful vocal talent. This constituted the evening effort of the college men towards skylining.

All the years of the S. P. S. held a smoker in their building under the auspices of the Engineers' Society and the faculty. About 500 were present, and the scene was of a most strenuous character. The program consisted of singing, dancing, fencing, wrestling, tug-of-war, roller skating, square dancing, a la north country style, and many other forms of athletics. The event of the evening, from the standpoint of excitement, hilarity and danger to spectators, was the game of roller skating between the first year and the other years of the school. At midnight the game had not been concluded, and no deaths were reported. The game was of an informal character, it being a common occurrence for a youthful Hercules to step up to a handsome young fellow, and blowing a puff of smoke in the young man's face, ask him if he "was game for a spin." If any couples were in the way, they were summarily ejected.

After the games and singing, the great body of students plunged into the refreshment room, and participated in a buffet lunch. Among the members of the faculty present were Principal Galbraith, Professor Coleman, Prof. Ellis, Prof. W. H. Miller, Prof. Angus and Prof. Stewart. Kenneth Mackenzie of the Engineers' Society was in charge of the celebration.

The Dental men held an informal dance in their building on College street, and nearly a hundred couples danced until away after midnight. The building was beautifully decorated, and the entire body of students voted the affair a splendid success. It was the third annual dance held by the Dentists. The faculty present were Dr. Walter Wilmett, E. E. Cummer, E. W. Thomson, and Dr. J. R. Graham. In charge were A. E. Proctor, R. M. Graham, J. Blair, H. G. Wilkinson, C. S. McComb.

The fourth year arts men held their annual dinner at the St. Charles, and enjoyed themselves until midnight. The president of the class, J. W. Graham, as toastmaster, and the committee were L. P. Jackson, A. J. Pyke, C. M. Smith, L. G. Anderson, A. McFavish, S. M. Beatty and P. A. Spencer. The president responded to the toast "Alma Mater." P. Dunham to "Athletics." Chas. Lazenby to "The Ladies." A member of the graduating class, J. R. Graham, designed the program, and it was thought to be a work of art. The boys joined in a song on Yonge street after the dinner and marched up to College and thence to the university grounds without creating any special excitement. They carried several policemen on the way, who kindly accompanied them, with advice to "go home." They were urged by the media to join in the general song, but took the advice of the police and broke up about 1 o'clock.

The medicals dined. The medical school was treated to a dinner by Dean Reeve and the faculty in the main building of the university, about 400 being present. Prof. Coleman, an illustrious lecturer on his recent trip to Mexico, and was warmly applauded by the medical men. The Y.M.C.A. quartet sang, and the Y.M.C.A. band. The Clay Macdonald supplied the music for the occasion.

The following were elected to represent the Toronto Medical School at social events at the colleges named, to constitute the so-called "at home committee": President, Johnston; first vice-president, A. M. Fowler; second vice-president, E. A. Morgan; W. H. Bryden for McGill; A. A. McLean for Queen's; J. L. Thompson for the School of Practical Science; G. MacPherson, Trinity, and S. A. Bate for University College. The dean and several members of the faculty delivered short addresses.

At Trinity College the Ontario School of Pharmacy and a number of other local institutions the evening was not marked by any celebration of the function.

The ladies of the University College, celebrated Halloween with an old-fashioned "tatty-pull." The World reported that to get within hailing distance of the college, but the disturbance was so great that he being ignominious retreat and trusted to the accuracy of telephone messages. From safe and reasonable distance it appeared the tatty-pull resembled nothing so much as a sham battle.

The ladies of Moulton College will hold their celebration on Friday evening in the shape of a "tatty-pull." The ladies of Victoria College gave an informal dinner in Annesley Hall and enjoyed a most delightful evening, about sixty being present.

At Bishop Strachan School about 80 of the girls and "old girls" enjoyed a masquerade ball. Among the costumes were: Pocahontas, characters from "A You Like It," costumes representing the rose, poppy, violet, mums, etc., a clown, costumes made of newspapers, a red cross nurse and a Highland soldier, "Diana" and two children, representing "Good Night." The guests were introduced to the principal, Miss Acres, after which a grand march was held in the "gym," which was prettily decorated with the college colors.

SHAREHOLDERS MEET TO-DAY TO HONORATE CAMPAIGN

Desire to Assemble 7000 Shares Whereby to Control Election of New Directorate.

There is to be a preliminary meeting of the shareholders of the Ontario Bank to-day, largely due to the initiative of Cephas Goode. It is sought to assemble 7000 shares and thus control the election of directors and to have been taken of the market and therefore can not be used for voting purposes. Lord Strathcona holds 410 shares. Charles McGill individually and as trustee holds 1114 1/3 shares, and 457 shares held by the resident director.

It is said that a number of trust companies and other investors unloaded Ontario Bank shares shortly before the fall. They are liable, however, upon the statutory liability unless the stock was sold more than 60 days before suspension. As heretofore announced, the bank held a large block of its own stock and which it is said were purchased at the time of the failure of Ames & Co. Had these shares been put on the market at that time they would have sold at so low a price that a run on the bank might have been precipitated.

Many rumors are afloat as to the defense to be made by McGill. It is most likely that he will content himself with learning the crown's case at the hearing in the police court, and reserve his own side until his trial at the assizes. He expects to state all the facts and will claim that he acted in a general way with the knowledge of the directors. His speculations will be justified on the ground that they were all entered into solely for the benefit of the bank.

The charge, however, is making a false return to the government and his defence will be that while they were not in fact correct, they were not "false" or "deceptive" returns within the meaning of the banking act or the criminal code.

INDIANS DESIRE PEACE.

Rumors of Fight With U.S. Troops Are Discredited.

Omaha, Neb., Oct. 31.—Rumors of a fight between the troops and the Utes in Wyoming are discredited at military headquarters here, no advice of that kind having been received.

On the other hand, a message sent from the front by courier last night from the headquarters to-day, said the Indians were peacefully inclined and no trouble was anticipated. A special says the Indians are traveling in peace, and a steady passed the Montana state line.

INDIANS CROSS LINE.

Sheridan, Wyo., Oct. 31.—The Utes have crossed the Wyoming line and are apparently making for Ashland, appointed as a meeting place with the Cheyennes. Unless they are headed off by troops coming overland from Fort Keogh, they may join the Cheyennes Friday night.

The troops under Col. August B. Sheridan to-day and two additional companies of Fort Mackenzie infantry will start from here to-morrow. Ranchmen living near the headquarters to-day, said the Indians were peacefully inclined and no trouble was anticipated.

VALUE OF FARM COLONIES.

John Burns, M.P., Quoted as Saying Training Is Useless.

(Canadian Associated Press Cable.) London, Oct. 31.—At a meeting of the central unemployed committee, a letter from John Burns, M.P., stated that the expenses incurred in training men on the farm colonies for emigration could not be met out of the rate funds.

Mr. Pascall said Mr. Burns had expressed the opinion that such training of men was useless in fitting men for Canada.

Mr. Lansbury remarked that the Canadian emigrants had written home that their experience on the farm colonies had been of great service to them.

LIKE A THIEF IN THE NIGHT.

That's how pain comes. We sit near an open window, get stiff neck or sore back. Perhaps cool off too quickly after exertion—rheumatism develops. Spend what you may, but money can't buy anything better than Polson's Nervallin. Its penetrating power enables it to reach deep tissues—that's why it cures aches that all else can't touch. For outward application we guarantee five times more strength than in any other liniment. Inwardly it's harmless and as sure as the hereafter to ease at once. Don't accept a substitute for Polson's Nervallin, which is the one great household panacea of to-day.

Dineen's ESTABLISHED 1864 Dineen's

FREE TRIP TO TORONTO

We have arranged to refund railroad fare to out-of-town customers for the month of November only and under conditions that will appeal at once as being unusually liberal. We realize that Toronto is the shopping centre of Canada, especially for Furs, and we propose adding to its prestige by bringing large numbers of out-of-town people to see for themselves the styles we show and the assortments we carry. The idea is to encourage personal shopping, and with that in mind we offer free transportation to Toronto on the following basis:

During November we will refund one round-trip railroad, steamboat or trolley fare from any place within a radius of FIFTY MILES OF TORONTO to each individual spending not less than TWENTY-FIVE DOLLARS at the Dineen store.

Round-trip fare will likewise be refunded to any person who comes from a point within ONE HUNDRED MILES and over 50 miles of Toronto whose total purchases at the Dineen store amount to at least FIFTY DOLLARS.

Persons living at a greater distance will be credited on the same basis. For instance, anyone coming 150 miles will be allowed a rebate for 100 miles on a $50 purchase—the balance to be paid by themselves.

This is a straight-forward concession to out-of-town customers, giving them the same shopping privileges as city people. It is worth something to us to have Dineen Furs in larger evidence all over Canada, and the novelty of coming to Toronto at our expense is the beginning of a new dispensation in retail business. We mark all prices in plain figures, with no chance for misunderstanding. Our name and reputation have been associated with high-grade Furs for nearly fifty years, and under no circumstances will we lower our standard of quality, or allow misrepresentation in any form.
