Men From Dundee Marched All Night for Fear of Being Surprised by Superior Forces.

London, Oct. 27 .- The official announcement of the joining of General White and General Yule has come as a great relief. and all the more so in view of the fact that later despatches have shown that only the incapacity of the intelligence department of the Boers saved General Yule's column from what might have been a great disaster. It seems that on Friday night Dundee was full of alarms. Heavy firing was heard at 1 o'clock and again at 4. A severe thunderstorm soon after stopped the Boer anxious manner in momentary expectation of an attack. The British finally evacuated, taking all that they could, but leaving plenty behind for the Boers to loot. The appointments of the Boer hospital at Dundee are described as very inadequate and primitive. The Boers themselves, in the absence of a nursing staff, get only scant Yule's Troops Marched at Night. General Yule's column had a very exhausting march, chiefly, it is believed, by night. The reason for a night march is not given, but it was probably a fear of Boer surprises. The heavy rains and mist hampered the march, but were perhaps the neans of saving General Yule from molestation. It took the column 24 hours to cover the last 16 miles. Boers Were Not Ready.

The only news this morning consists of more detailed accounts of the battles already reported. A correspondent who visited the hospital at Ladysmith, where the Boers wounded at Elandslaagte, who were captured, are being tended, reports that General Jan Kock, who was badly wounded in the thigh and shoulder, said that the advance of the patriots under Commandant Pienar without guns was simply with the object of cutting the railway, and that this body was subsequently reinforced without General Joubert's orders. Schiel and Pretorius Wounded.
Col. Schiel of the German corps and commandant Pretorius were both severely wounded. Many prominent Boers are not yet accounted for. Philip Kock says the Boers suffered most from the "soldiers in little clothes, half men and half women," meaning the Gordon Highlanders, and in the charge of the Fifth Lancers. They say also that the two quick-firing guns captured by the Devonshire Regiment are those that were taken from the Jameson ralders.

British Artillery Was Dendly.

Col. Schiel assured a correspondent that nothing could stand against the accuracy of the British field guns, which repeatedly drove the Transvaal gunners from their embrasures. The British infantry fire was also a complete surprise to the Boers, who were confident of their ability to master an infantry attack.

Talk of Sending a Band.

The Minister of Militia favors the idea of having a band accompany the contingent and it would not be surprising to hear of the R.C.A. Band ordered to proceed to South Africa.

The dinner to the officers at the Garrison Club is arranged for 6.30 p.m. Monday, so that it will be concluded in time to enable them to attend later the smoking

jesty's Secretary of State for the Colomies:
Right Honorable Sir,—We, the Protestant Ministerial Association of Montreal, desire to approach, through you, the Imperial Government, to give expression of our hearty sympathy with the responsible Ministers of the Crown in the deplorable war in which the Empire finds itself engaged in South Africa.

As ourselves preachers of the gospel of peace, we regret exceedingly that, in the closing days of the nineteenth century the terrible arbitration of the sword should have been the only alternative left for the vindication of the cause of righteousness, justice and humanity, and the only passport to lasting peace and prosperity among the races of the vast South African continent.

contingent at Quebec without delay. Accordingly Capt. Forrester will leave for the east to-morrow night. He will represent the Canadian Cavalry at the Transval and will, it is said, be sent right on to the front. This will be done in order that he may glean information which will be useful to his fellow-soldiers at the Fort on his return.

The Captain's Career.

Capt. William Forrester has been connected with Stanley Barracks for the past ten years. He was for a time with the Sth Hussars of New Brunswick, and left that regiment when he received the commission of lieutenant at Toronto. In 1896 he took a course of instruction in several of the large cavalry stations of England, and holds no fewer than six diplomas. In social circles he is popular, and as in enthusiastic sportsman he is well known. He is assistant master of the Toronto Tounds, and is an active member of the Toronto and Country Hunt Club. He has been seen frequently on the steeplechase ourse, and is looked upon as one of the est gentleman riders in Toronto. He is djutant and second in command of the Royal Canadian Dragoons.
