Back on the Roll.

Washington, Feb. 25.—The names of Senators Tillman and McLaurin of South Carolina have been restored to the roll of the Senate.

A RELIABLE OFFER.

HONEST HELP FREE TO MEN.

We are authorized to state by Mr. Carl Kunz, Second and Brady-streets, Davenport, Iowa, that any man who is nervous and debilitated or who is suffering from any of the various troubles resulting from overwork, excesses or abuse, such as nervous debility, exhausted vitality, lost vigor, unnatural drains and losses, lack of development, etc., can write to him in strict confidence and receive FREE OF CHARGE, full instructions how to be thoroughly cured.

Mr. Kunz himself was, for a long time, a sufferer from above troubles, and, after trying in vain many advertised remedies, became almost entirely discouraged and hopeless. Finally he confided in an old clergyman, whose kind and honest advice enabled him to speedily obtain a perfect and permanent cure. Knowing to his own sorrow that so many poor sufferers are being imposed upon by unscrupulous quacks, Mr. Kunz considers it his duty, as an honest man, to give his fellow men the benefit of his experience and assist to a cure. Having nothing to sell, he asks for no money; the proud satisfaction of having done a great service to one in need, he rightly considers an ample reward for his trouble. If you write to Mr. Kunz, and follow his advice, you can rely upon being cured and upon absolute secrecy as well.

Address as above, enclosing a stamp. No attention will be given to those writing out of idle curiosity, therefore state that you really need a cure. 5

HER FATHER WAS A DRUNKARD

A Plucky Young Lady Takes on Herself to Cure Her Father of the Liquor Habit.

STORY OF HER SUCCESS.

A portion of her letter reads as follows:—"My father had often promised mother to stop drinking, and would do so for a time, but then returned to it stronger than ever. One day, after a terrible spree, he said to us: 'It's no use. I can't stop drinking.' Our hearts seemed to turn to stone, and we decided to try the Tasteless Samaria Prescription, which we had read about in the papers. We gave him the remedy, entirely without his knowledge, in his tea, coffee, or food regularly, according to directions, and he never knew he was taking it. One package removed all his desire for liquor, and he says it is now distasteful to him. His health and appetite are also wonderfully improved, and no one would know him for the same man. It is now fifteen months since we gave it to him and we feel sure that the change is for good. Please send no one of your little books, as I want to give it to a friend."

FREE SAMPLE and pamphlet giving full particulars, testimonials and price sent in plain sealed envelope. Correspondence sacredly confidential. Inclose stamp for reply. Address THE SAMARIA REMEDY CO., 23 Jordan-street, Toronto, Canada. Also for sale at Bingham's Drug Store, 100 Yonge-street.

CONDITIONS OF ROSS REFERENDUM DENOUNCED

slanting and apt to fall upon them from the side.

"Oh! that's only a side issue. Go on with your speech," shouted another.

The alarm was fortunately a false one.

In conclusion Mr. Kettlewell called for straight out and out government endorsation of prohibition.

Mr. E. Fielding, Toronto: I would like to see Mr. Whitney and Mr. Ross get ten minutes before this meeting. It would make—

Disorder Ensued.

At this juncture the speaker's voice was drowned in a flood of "points of order," from the audience. Resuming, Mr. Kettlewell submitted an amendment to the amendment, but it was given a cold reception.

"I move that that be placed on the table," said a delegate.

"Under the table," shouted a chorus of others, and nothing more was heard of it.

Then followed chaos by several speakers claming the floor at once, and among the voices was that of a woman, proclaiming:

"I am only a woman, but I feel sorry to see things conducted in such a disorderly spirit." The speaker was Mrs. N. W. Rowell, who went on to advocate harmony in the proceeding.

Mr. R. W. Dillon attempted to convince his hearers that the proposition of the government was an honest one, but he was met with such a storm of interruptions and cries of "No, no," that he was prevented from continuing.

Secretary Spence read a letter from G. F. Marter, M.L.A., regretting his unavoidable absence, and assuring the meeting of his hearty co-operation in their deliberations.

The convention then adjourned until 2 o'clock.

On the opening of the afternoon session the chairman asked for better order than at the morning session, or else he would leave the chair. He explained that the question before the meeting was "a referendum on a fair basis, or no referendum."

Rev. Dr. Ross, Walkerton: If they do not give a fair referendum, then I am going to oppose the government all I know how. [Applause.]

Rev. Mr. Herridge, Brampton, thought the Ross government was entitled to some credit for being consistent, but he was laughed at by the audience, and told to sit down.

Government Arraigned.

F. W. Daly, London, arraigned the Ross government for pledge-breaking. If all the pledges broken by it were put together they would have a beautiful mosaic of broken promises that would not hold water. [Laughter.] It was unfair that this fight should be prolonged by the government, so as to stunt the forces of the prohibitionists. He did not know Ross could ever meet such men as Calvin and Knox, having broken his word so often. He would say that but yesterday the word of Ross might have stood against the world, but now lies he there and none so poor to do him reverence. [Applause.]

Fair Referendum.

Mr. A. B. Spence of Collingwood would have the government introduce no other bill but what they did. It had run the gauntlet of the Privy Council, and all that was wanted was an evidence of public sentiment behind it. The so-called referendum was simply a plebiscite, as a referendum meant the certain enactment of the legislation voted upon, in the event of a majority supporting it. What assurance had they that Hon. Mr. Ross would not be taken into the hands of the loving father and placed where Mr. Mowat was? And then again, what assurance had they that Mr. Whitney would give a prohibitory measure? He was in favor of endeavoring to secure a fair referendum. [Applause.]

Rev. W. Frizzell, Toronto, while not in favor of a referendum, said he felt they should accept the inevitable and do the best they could under the circumstances.

Mr. McHughy, Drayton, made a vigorous speech in favor of a fair referendum. The meeting should settle as to whether the bill in itself was acceptable, and after that demand a fair referendum. If this demand was not acceded to before the general elections they would have an opportunity of making themselves heard at the polls.

Dr. Maclaren, K.C., did not know how a Swiss patch would look on a British garment. However, he believed in the principle of the referendum, on a fair basis, of course.

Plea for Consistency.

Rev. C. D. Scott, London, pleaded for unity in action. There was a division of opinion in the executive as to the situation, and it was for us to say whether we should accept the bill or stand true to the attitude of the Christian Alliance, or go back on our policy of letting the government pass a law and enforce it. It was an unrighteous thing to demand that the temperance people should be called upon time and again to put forth their energy and money in this matter, while the opposite party was making all the money out of the franchises. The most practical thing in God's universe was honesty, and the most practical thing for this Dominion Alliance was consistency. [Applause.] He did not believe in being told again to "open your mouths and shut your eyes, and see what I will give you." If we committed ourselves to the referendum at all, the government would then give us anything they wanted. He thought they should all unite on their traditional policy and stop right there. [Applause.]

J. A. Rankin, Toronto: "Despite assertions made, we were never so near prohibition as at this hour. We are here to urge such measures as shall be in the interests of temperance in this province, and I for one am prepared to say, much as I hate the iniquities of the traffic in liquor, and much as I would like to see prohibition, I do not want prohibition unless it is a measure that can be successfully enforced. A change has taken place in regard to the temperance sentiment. There are men within these walls who say they are afraid of a conflict with the liquor men. [Shouts of No! No! Take it back.]

Mr. Rankin: "No, I won't take it back."

The chairman: "I think what they said was that they were afraid of a fight under the conditions of the bill, but not in a fair fight." [Applause.]

Continuing, Mr. Rankin advocated the referendum, but not such a one as proposed.

Many Opinions.

Andrew Jackson proclaimed that prohibitionists held the balance of power, and should be able to get what they wanted.

Mr. E. G. Mills, Toronto, spoke in favor of a fair referendum, and amused the audience by remarking that there was considerable unanimity amongst them if they could only harmonize their views.

Rev. Mr. Hector, the well-known negro temperance advocate, said they should do something, and they could not do it by looking forward in the past. [Laughter.] "Stop your laughing, you are taking up my time," he went on, "let us tell Ross that by all the armies of God, that he has got to revise the conditions of the referendum. I see the end of the liquor traffic in sight, and (pointing to his face) I now have my mourning on for it. [Loud laughter.]

Mr. Andrew Baird, Brantford, did not think the Conservative party would oppose the principle of prohibition.

Mr. Lucas, Grimsby, said it was necessary to vote against Dr. Chown's amendment if they wanted a reasonable referendum.

Rev. J. W. Clipsman, Newboro, Ont., thought it a blessing that Mr. Ross was at the head of the government at such a time as this. [Laughter.] Mr. Ross had always been a consistent temperance man, but he was in a tight place. [Laughter.]

Rev. Mr. Courtice said that with a fair referendum there was no government that could stand against them, judging by the votes cast in the past.

Rev. G. W. Garvin, Peterboro, held there was too much party spirit in Ontario, evidenced by the fact that there was hardly five per cent. opposing the bill.

A Sympathetic Speaker.

Mrs. Thornley, London, spoke feelingly on the subject. She said if a referendum were adopted a large share of the work would fall upon the shoulders of the W.C.T.U. Law was an education. But when education passed a certain point it degenerated into sentimentality and lost its potential power. If we went beyond that point we would lose our grip on the situation. We would lose our prestige with the public, and in that way we would be in grave danger of earning, and would deserve the contempt of our enemies. We were not afraid of a vote—[applause]—if there was any British fair play in the fight. [Renewed applause.] Besides being handicapped in such a way as proposed, we had to fight the crooked work that was inevitable at the polls, such as was demonstrated only recently in London. [Applause.] And even then only half the machine was at work. [Applause.]

Mr. W. W. Buchanan pointed out that any referendum which eliminated responsibility was not a referendum in reality. Conditions were greater than men. If this referendum, however, would bring us nearer to the thing aimed at we should accept it. It would be a misfortune to have a temperance law turned down by a disgusted people. He hoped they were not going to governments with hats in hands and their suppliant knees quivering behind them. It was time now that governments went to them instead.

Missed the Point.

Several parties next claimed the floor, and, after an exciting few minutes, Mr. N. W. Rowell, Toronto, was given it. He said the government had assumed the responsibility of introducing the bill, and they would pass and enforce it if the people wanted it. Mr. Ross told him that—

A voice: What is his word worth?

Mr. Rowell: Just as much as yours, sir. [Laughter, and shouts, "It's not!"] Prohibition would follow the passage of the referendum, and the religious and moral advancement of the people would be consequently promoted. [Applause.]

Rev. Mr. Starr, Toronto, said the referendum was unconstitutional, and the outlook was this: If they were able to poll a large majority vote, the first rock they would encounter was the veto power at Ottawa, and, afterwards, the deciding of the constitutionality of the referendum. The liquor men would fight that in the Privy Council, and they would doubtless win a victory as it stood to-day. [Cheers.] He was in favor of the government coming out for prohibition without a referendum.

Mr. T. G. George, Chatham, wanted to see public opinion behind the adoption of any measure.

Rev. Mr. Chown: While the other two plebiscites made us sick. I am afraid this will paralyze us.

Government Unfair.

Mr. F. S. Spence said he was for fight, on two lines, one to secure good laws for men to enforce, and the other to get good men to make good laws. They were right in censuring the Ontario government for unfairness in dealing with this matter. First, ensure the government; secondly, strive to amend the bill; thirdly, go into the elections next June determined to vote against every member of the legislature who voted against taking the unfair conditions out of the referendum. This done, they could down the liquor men every time.

A vote on Dr. Chown's amendment was then taken by a show of hands, and the amendment was defeated by a good big solid majority.

A number of new amendments were submitted, but were declared out of order.

The original motion for the adoption of the Alliance report, as a whole, with a minor change in the fifth clause, as stated, was then put to the meeting, and was carried by a very large majority, and amidst enthusiastic applause.

The meeting then adjourned until the evening.

Public Meeting.

At the evening meeting, which was public, nearly every seat was occupied. Rev. Mr. McKay presided.

Mr. F. S. Spence announced that Hon. G. W. Ross and other members of the government would receive a deputation from the Alliance at 1 o'clock to-day. The Business Committee reported the following as the deputation to wait upon the government:

Rev Dr W A McKay, Woodstock; Rev Dr Carman, F S Spence, Dr Maclaren, Dr Chown, N W Rowell, Toronto; Mrs McKee, Barrie; Mrs Thornley, J H Bowman, London; Jonathan Ellis, Port Dover; C J Miller, Orillia; Dr Emory, G H Less, Hamilton; Mrs Hitchcox, Toronto; D R Ross, Embro; A McEwen, Drayton; Dr Graham, Inglewood; D O'Flynn, Belleville; F H Lawrence, Sarnia; E E Parrott, Chatham; J W Garvin, Peterboro; J M Walton, Rev C T Scott, London; Rev Dr Courtice George Mills, Rev. Dr. Goodspeed, Rev. D. L. Brethour, Dr. Herriman, Lindsay; Ald. Deering, Ottawa; the secretary and the presidents of the county organizations.

Mr. Wilbur F. Crafts, Ph., of Washington, was the first speaker. He showed how the United States had lately submitted to Great Britain a treaty by which it was proposed to submit to other nations to prohibit the sale of intoxicants to all aboriginal races of the world. His regret was that the treaty did not extend to white races also. The matter was now before Hon. Mr. Chamberlain, and he would urge all to write him expressing their views in favor of the treaty.

On motion of Dr. J. J. Maclaren the convention decided to memorialize the Hon. Joseph Chamberlain in favor of the treaty.

Rev. Dr. Carman spoke vigorously on the importance of united action in their claims upon the government and in the fight at the polls. As God died to make men holy, they should, if needs be, die to make them free from the curse of liquor. [Applause.]

Sorry for Mr. Ross.

Mrs. S. G. E. McKee, president of the Provincial W.C.T.U., felt sorry for Mr. Ross on account of the influences compelling him one way or the other, and she had hoped he would have stood by his pledge. The W.C.T.U. had just adopted a policy, that unless the conditions of the referendum were changed, they would repudiate it. [Applause.] We women were urged to pray for success by some of the speakers. She would like to say that the women had been praying all along. Perhaps, if we had votes we would not pray so much, but work more. [Laughter and applause.]

Rev. G. R. Clare, president of the Mariposa Alliance, warned prohibitionists against the beguiling methods of their opponents.

Mr. W. W. Buchanan deplored the existence of that intense partyism in Ontario which made men stand for party before principle.

Mrs. Charles Wiggins, provincial organizer of the W.C.T.U., delivered a witty address. The reason men made such a miserable failure of national housekeeping was because they had been trying to do it without the help and sympathy of the women, whom God gave them as their companions. [Applause.]

Foe of Any Government.

Mr. J. A. Nicholls said he was ready to fight any government that stood in the way of advancement in the prohibition cause.

The last speaker of the evening was Rev. Mr. Hector, the negro preacher, who amused the audience by telling them that the attitude of some ministers on the use of liquor made him blush. He believed Canada would be the first civilized nation to hold out the glorious white flag of prohibition to the world. He exhorted the committee to tell Ross, "If you don't protect Canada and its people we will bury you—government so deep that it will never be resurrected." [Cheers.]

A collection was taken up, and the meeting then dispersed with the singing of the doxology.

Grossmith.

The appearance next week in Massey Hall of the two leading artists in their respective roles, Paderewski and Grossmith, is creating an immense deal of interest. On Monday night Grossmith, the eminent farceur of the piano, appears, and on Wednesday night the master pianist of this or any other age, Paderewski, will be heard. Grossmith makes fun out of a piano, Paderewski makes poetry and every musical delight. They are each unique and quite distinguished before everyone else in their own particular way. Grossmith obtains the most bizarre and risible effects out of the piano, and can make it laugh and speak. Paderewski makes the piano sing and weep and ring with melody. The sale for the Grossmith seats will open to-morrow (Thursday) morning at Massey Hall, and the inimitable English entertainer is sure to make a great hit, while Paderewski is bound to be greeted by a house that is certain to break all records in the history of single concerts.

Winnipeg, Feb. 25.—At a meeting of the Queen's Memorial Committee, it was decided not to accept any of the designs submitted by Hamilton MacCarthy, L. P. Herbert and others. It was decided to open up correspondence with Alfred Gilbert, R.A., of London, Eng., with the object of ascertaining if he would execute a commission for a statue.

TERRIBLE BACK PAINS

Mrs. Maggie Woodford Suffered Terribly Until Cured by Powley's Liquified Ozone.

The kidneys are about the most important organs of the body. All the waste products caused by muscular action and of digested food, which are found in the blood, have to be thrown off from the body—most of them pass through the kidneys. If there is any interruption in this process, instead of being thrown off, this poisonous matter is reabsorbed by the blood and spread to the remotest parts of the system to work harm and injury. Powley's Liquified Ozone stimulates the action of the kidneys, causes them to throw off all poisonous matter, restores health conditions to all the tissues of the body.

The Ozone Co., Limited—Gentlemen: About July last I was attacked with a sinking sensation; I would have frightful dreams; food would not digest, and my nerves seemed to be unstrung. I had a terrible pain across my back; sometimes I felt that it would break, so great would be the pain. I also had rheumatism in all my joints. I tried a laxative and thought I might get some ease, but I only got worse. My husband advised me to try Ozone, as it was doing so much for other people. We purchased a bottle and I am so thankful we did, as I soon got relief and now am well and gaining rapidly in flesh. The Ozone seems to do my blood so much good. My belief now is that I had a bad attack of kidney disease. We keep Ozone continually in our house and no matter what the trouble is, we find it a ready friend to relieve pain, sores, cuts, stomach trouble or any case where we have need of a good remedy. (Signed) MRS. MAGGIE WOODFORD, 350 Gerrard St., East Toronto.

There isn't any combination of drugs in Powley's Liquified Ozone—it isn't a medicine, contains no alcohol. It is simply Nature's great element, blood food or oxygen, what the blood and system require.

LOST HIS BUSINESS!

Ill-health "puts the shutters up" in many an honest man's business, and there are thousands of cases on record where the only seeming power on earth to take them down again is South American Nervine.

"I was completely prostrated with Nervous Debility. I had to give up business—doctors only helped me temporarily. I was the most discouraged man alive when I started taking South American Nervine, but the splendid cures I had read gave me hope, and I had not taken half a bottle before I found relief. I took twelve bottles, but am cured."—E. Errett, Merrickville. 2

Cholera morbus, cramps and kindred complaints annually make their appearances at the same time as the hot weather, green fruit, cucumbers, melons, etc., and many persons are debarred from eating these tempting fruits, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. J. D. Kellogg's Dysentery Cordial, and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.
