DETECTIVE G. YOUNG VS. TORONTO WORLD

Case for Alleged Libel Opens Before Chief Justice

Before Chief Justice Sir Glenholme Falconbridge and a jury in the assizes, Detective Sergeant George Young of the Toronto police department is suing Mrs. Ida L. George (Ida Webster) and the World Newspaper Company for $5,000 damages for alleged libel in connection with articles appearing in The World on February 11 and 14, 1919.

The plaintiff complains of an article, "Ida re the Police Investigation," which was worded as follows:

"There is an acting detective attached to No. 5 station who called on the home of a woman in his neighborhood, knowing at the time, we might mention, that her husband was overseas, and that he had been since the first call. In any case, he called at the house and told this lady that he had reason to suspect that there was a German spy in the neighborhood and that he wished to talk the matter over with her. After a short preliminary talk, he deliberately assaulted her, whichever might be the official term.
Her son, 11 years old, was a witness to this disgusting display of beastliness. The woman went next day to the city hall, and, as is customary, had to repeat her story to two or three dozen people. Nothing was done to the officer; in fact, he is still plying around doing his 'duty' in the predict, under the influence of liquor on innumerable occasions, so they tell us."

To the Public.

In the second article complained of, which was headed "To the Public," "Ida Webster" said in part:

"Detective Young asks for an apology. We must remind the gentleman that this is unnecessary, if not impossible, as we have not accused him, but if he desires a technical apology, we trust that he will accept this as such. We would also like to make it clear that it is not our place to sit in judgment on anyone, not even on such useful people as acting detectives; that is the business of the police commissioners. In this instance, at least, our fair-minded and careful readers will admit that we have stuck to our last."

Mrs. George pleads that the articles were written without malice and that the words were not intended to refer to plaintiff. In so far as the words constitute allegations of fact she says that they are true in substance and in fact. The World Newspaper Company claims that an apology was made and published with the plaintiff's invitation and request and that the words were privileged.

IDA AT THE CITY HALL

BY IDA L. WEBSTER.

For several months the question of a reception hospital has been "foot-balled" among the members of the board of control, and now it is necessary to send all people who are thought to be suffering from mental trouble to the jail, or to the General hospital, or in one instance, of which we heard the other day, to the old hospital in Trinity College grounds.

The average citizen has not the slightest idea of the number of persons, male and female, who wander into Toronto for no apparent reason, and are later found to be suffering from a temporary loss of memory.

Others, of course, are found upon inspection and observation to be insane.

Several months ago it was the custom to accommodate these poor unfortunates in the old Bickford residence in Trinity grounds. The house was quite out of repair, and besides that it was in no way suited to the work it was being used for.

The location was ideal, because it was situated at the far end of the grounds, which by the way, are now used for park purposes. A small ravine separated the park portion of the grounds from the residence, and had the house been of even partial modernness it would have served admirably.

After much publicity by The World, the building was finally condemned, and the patients were moved. Where to, we cannot say.

Now all that was necessary after that was for the city and the government to get together and decide who was going to build a new institution,

LONG FACES

"Cascarets" for Liver and Bowels bring back Smiles

Turn the "kill-joys" out—the headache, biliousness, indigestion, the sick, sour stomach, and misery-making gases—turn them out tonight and keep them out with Cascarets.

Millions of men and women take a Cascaret now and then and never know the misery caused by a lazy liver, clogged bowels, or an upset stomach.

Don't put in another day of distress. Let Cascarets cleanse your stomach; remove the sour, fermenting food; take the excess bile from your liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poison in the bowels. Then you will feel great.

A Cascaret tonight straightens you out by morning. They work while you sleep.

APPLIED SCIENCE ENTRANCE MODIFIED

Students Only Required to Pass in Six Subjects.

The various students who are in attendance at the numerous high schools both in the city and the province and who are looking forward to taking a course in applied science at the Toronto University will be glad to learn that the faculty of applied science has to some extent modified its entrance conditions.

The power that has been businessly engaged in overhauling the requirements necessary for admission to the faculty of applied science and engineering and the results of their labor is drafted below.

The requirements comprise three subjects of G. honor matriculation and three subjects of pass matriculation—six subjects in all—and are as follows:

(a) Honors (at least 50 per cent.), in honor mathematics.

(b) Pass standing (at least 40 per cent.), in honor English.

(c) Pass standing (at least 40 per cent.), in one of the following honor subjects: Greek, Latin, French, German or Spanish.

(d) Pass history.

(e) Two of the following pass subjects: Greek, Latin, French, German Spanish or experimental science.

The same subjects cannot be taken for both clause (c) and (e).

Of the optional subjects, French, German and experimental science are recommended. It is not necessary that the student secure pass matriculation before proceeding to do hon-work, although he is recommended to do so. He may pass in the six subjects as outlined above at one examination.
The above requirements will form the basis of admission to applied science and engineering for the session of 1920-21.

Former Toronto Merchant Leaves Large Estate

Application for ancillary probate of the estate of William Ramsay, formerly a Toronto merchant, who died at Bowland, Midlothian, Scotland, on June 16 last, has been made in the surrogate court by Douglas M. Ramsay, James G. Ramsay, of Midlothian, and James Garson, of Edinburgh.
The estate is valued at $2,551,389, and of this amount $1,542,974 is secured in Ontario, which consists of 297 mortgages in Toronto and York Township bonds and debentures, cash in the bank and on hand, and other securities. The only realty held in the estate is the Bowland estate at Midlothian. The remainder is made up largely of American and English stocks, with stocks in other countries.
