

NOVA SCOTIA (33) ALMANACK.

But different sounds, by hunter lov'd, tho' wild,
That hill sent forth when he was but a child.
Now plainer glows—aga'nt the grove—the fire;
The squaws late busy, cheerfully retire,
Each to her wigwam;—for, above the trees,
The moon—mid clouds just stirred by fragrant breeze—
Outpeers the sunset, and weak shadows throws,
Of flapping sails, upon the floods repose.
