HEITZ GREEN TAXES TO HIGHEST COURTS

New York's Amended Transfer Tax Law to be Attacked

San Tells Her Odd Ways--Hid in Boarding House Under Alias--Quarrelled About Countess Leary's Cook

Many hitherto untold eccentricities, habits of life, and business methods of Mrs. Hetty H. R. Green are revealed in testimony given mainly by her son, Colonel Edward H. R. Green, in a transfer tax proceeding instituted in behalf of State Controller Travis of New York to declare Mrs. Green a resident of New York at the time of her death, in order that her estate, estimated at about $100,000, may be taxed here.

The testimony filed in the Surrogate Court shows Mrs. Green living almost constantly under an assumed name and fitting from one boarding house to another in New York and New Jersey as soon as her identity became known, because of her fear of publicity and her dislike of an attempt at assassination by a crank, just as before her friend, Russell Sage, it tells of her habit of never writing a letter, her indignation because the Chemical National Bank, which she controlled, was the only evidence of her existence, as executor, could find in his mother's papers concerning her living expenses.

The testimony filed by Transfer Tax Appraiser George Beaulieu Compton reveals only such parts of Mrs. Green's property as the executor considered would be taxable in this state, amounting to less than $2,000,000. If the Surrogate decides that Mrs. Green was a resident of New York, the higher courts will add him, the report will be returned to the appraiser to find the value of Mrs. Green's property.

PREMIER MURRAY AND MR. CARTER (Moncton Transcript.)

But when Premier Murray came to the question of E. S. Carter, he suddenly dropped from the heights of fair discussion down to the depths of scurrilous abuse. From no premier should there be expected the terms used by Premier Murray in his reference to Mr. Carter's opposition organization. Mr. Carter's office has been in indicating the criminals and succeeding in proving them guilty, and for this he should have the thanks, and not the abuse of the premier of this province. It is a well known fact that Premier Murray in his campaign throughout Kings county has carefully avoided meeting with E. S. Carter, one of the opposition candidates. He was particularly uneasy at the nomination at the town of Hampton, as it was evident that he would have to meet his opponent face to face. Therefore, every precaution was taken and his friends and relatives were called to his assistance. One of his relatives gathered a crowd to the front seats and passed the word along. "Now boys keep up here, don't give Carter a chance." For this purpose Mr. Carter was kept till the last, and when he arose to speak, the premier's "hangers" shouted so loudly as to almost drown the speaker, who was heard by those only at the very front, but the premier received such a chastising at his hands as he will not soon forget. The further away the premier gets from Mr. Carter the braver he becomes.

"INDISCRETIONS," SAYS MR. MURRAY

According to the Moncton Times report, Premier Murray in his Moncton speech said:--

"As to James R. Flemming, the ex-premier, who has been called to his attention, if he had committed any, and he has nothing to do with the present government and his case is not one of the issues of the present day."

"Sagely he committed any." Let that all the men who want to get into power again, let us say about it? "Indiscretions," says Premier Murray, Moncton Stewart was right. The only way to reform this government is to "kick it out."

To Keep Air Pure

To help to keep the air pure in a living-room, have a large vase or jardiniere filled with cold water. It will absorb bad gases to such an extent that in a few hours it would be utterly unfit to drink.
