JESSE POMEROY 57.

Jesse Pomeroiy, life prisoner in the State Prison at Charlottetown, Mass., had another birthday anniversary on last Monday. He is fifty-seven years old, but he celebrated the event in no other way than other days.

Most of the day was spent in his cell at Cherry Hill. Owing to the rain and the fact that the grounds near the building in which he has spent the last forty years of his life were very wet, he took but little recreation in the open air.

Pomeroiy's health is better than it has been for several years. Only recently he was granted an interview by the Board of Parole, to whom he appealed for a chance to work in the workshop with the other prisoners, on the ground that his mind and body would improve. His great ambition has been to receive the same privilege as the rest of the inmates of that institution, namely to attend holiday entertainments in the chapel; watch baseball games in the prison yard, walk and talk with the other men, and also to work with them.

Owing to the sentence given Pomeroiy when he was only sixteen years old, that he be kept in solitary confinement for

WHY LAUDER HAS BECOME FAMOUS

Great Scottish Comedian's First Visit to St. John a Marked Success

Vast Assemblage in Imperial Could Not Get Enough—Supported by Clever Company in Richly Entertaining Programme

Theatrical history was made in St. John yesterday when the celebration of the feast of St. Andrew was accompanied fittingly by a visit from Harry Lauder, famous comedian, whose name is a household word wherever Scotch wit is mentioned. Much has been heard of him, much has been known of him, but it has not until yesterday that the privileges of local stage devotees to enjoy an evening with him in a local auditorium. Two audiences in the Imperial Theatre yesterday filled the house. They were afforded pleasure and delight in every moment and lingered reluctantly at the close, regretting that the curtain was now rising down on the famous Lauder.

For fully one hour and a half Mr. Lauder held the audience captivated by his songs, his stories, his droll Scotch burrs, and his humorous mannerisms. From his very entrance a Highland soldier in the tartan breeches, loose fitting leggings, and with a huge sword, Mr. Lauder held the large audience's attention, now convulsed with laughter, now stretching forward eagerly lest they miss some of the numerous mind-provoking speeches. It was in this costume that he sang one of his newest songs, "The Slick to Koss, if Kossie Slick is Me," and it greatly tickled the fancy of the large gathering. Then he sang another new one, "Doughie, the Baker, also very funny, and the audience, so by his narrating some amusing domestic episodes concerning himself, his wife and Mrs. MacCallister, the audience was probably most amused in "The Same as His Father Did Before Him," while "I Love My Jean, My Bonnie Jeanie" made a most pleasing impression, and in "A Wee Deough-An-Doris" he soon had the whole house lifting the chorus, so entranced was the audience.

For a moment he abandoned the Scotch accent for the Irish brogue as by request he sang one of his songs, "From Killarney" and once for a few moments he paused after having caused with one of his funny sayings, and having mentioned the "Highland Brigade," brought back the audience to serious mood as he dwelt upon the need of men to go forth as that body had done, and support the empire's standard. He also thanked the people for their hearty welcome, and in closing asked, "Are there not some young men among you who have not yet given up the idea of enlisting in the proper outfit? If so, it is high time now, for your help is needed in this crisis. We cannot win without you."

Mr. Lauder was vigorously applauded throughout the performance, and his ability, wit and humor were enjoyed and happily in the memories of those privileged to enjoy them yesterday.

There were other features of the evening upon the bill. Some of the vaudeville features were especially appealing. The opening by Albert Donnelly, "Scientific Humors" in shadow-play, gave much enjoyment. Genaro and Jason in original dance creations, won high favor, their third feature, "The Dances of Danzig," especially delighting. Lucille and her cockatoos showed the cleverness of one of these birds and also the need of a patient possessed by its trainer in teaching it various feats. Selwyn Driver, in a ten minute pantomime with highly amusing monologues, scored an instant success, and also showed himself clever in mimicry as well as in story telling.

Never has St. John witnessed an act so equal to the Al Golem Company of about twenty people in gymnastic, acrobatic, contortionist and juggling feats. It was a pantomimic production representing episodes in and about the court of His Majesty, the King of Persia. Their poses on balancing ladders, their tumbling, their acts on long bamboo poles, pyrotechnic, and other stunts, were remarkable not only for their cleverness in gymnastic ability but in their dexterity. Two of the most important members of the troupe are "mid-gets," mere boys who rival their elders in the troupe in their contributions to the success.

Throughout the whole Lauder performance music was given by the company's own orchestra, and the music was dominating, and the curtain rang down on selections by a Scotch military band of six pipers and drummers. No more appropriate observation to the fact that a feast day could have been wished by any bonny Scot, than that Lauder, ever enjoyable, should have come, and now that he has been here and has elevated into moods of rapture and joy with his powers of entertaining, local scenes of the weather will mark November 30 in future by his visit.

26TH BATT., GIVES FIVE MORE LIVES

Four Killed in Action and One Dies of Wounds

ST. JOHN MEN WOUNDED

News of Our Soldiers at the Front—Local Volunteers Honored—Recruiting Meeting Last Night and Latest Recruits

The 26th Battalion has again been in the front of the fighting in France, and four of its members are reported "killed in action." Lance Corp. Herbert Meahan, a native of Newfoundland, but well known in St. John, where he was engaged as a city traveler with T. H. Estabrook, Ltd., Wm. J. Theriault, Dalhousie, N. B.; Alfred Bird, England; and Cyril Vigor, England. Edward A. Meller, of St. John, whose wife resides at 29 Fern street, is dead from wounds, and another of them, John A. Meller, is reported wounded, and Henry Bainbridge, suffering from concussion.

Pte. A. McFarlane, 104th Battalion, was brought to the city last night from Sussex, suffering from severe injuries to one of his eyes which had been hurt when a piece of shell fell from a cartridge that had been discharged while he was practicing with a rifle.

The New Brunswick agent-general is forwarded to Robert P. Reid, 17 Simonds street, the official report of the death of his son, Private E. J. Reid, of the Princess Patricia's at Hooge on May 8. A comrade tells of seeing him shot through the head by shell fire and instantly killed as he was going into the fighting trenches.

John E. Beckwith, who left here with the first contingent, is now at West Sandling, Eng., on his way home. He was wounded and taken prisoner by the Germans and later exchanged with a batch of other wounded prisoners. It is understood that one of his feet is useless and that his left hand is crippled.

Hero Returns.

Pte. Arthur Greer, returned L'Anse-au-Loup hero, on his arrival in West Sandling, Eng., on his way home, was given a hearty reception, in which citizens of all ranks participated.

Greer had some thrilling experiences and has been recommended for the D. C. M.

A letter from Capt. W. A. Harrison, Divisional Ammunition Column, received yesterday by Senator Thorne, told of the credit given to the men of the 104th Battalion, and spoke especially of the 26th. Capt. Harrison said that he had just the day before received Lieut. Percy McAvity with his company coming out of the trenches.

Carl H. Blackadar, eldest son of the late Fred Blackadar of this city, is a member of the 1st Canadian Pioneer over-seas. He enlisted at Vancouver, B. C.

The Call for Men.

In the recruiting office in Mill street, Halifax, and at the recruiting office in St. John, returned wounded soldier, Rev. J. C. Berrie, A. E. McGinley, and A. M. Jaffray, who presided. Fire Russian signed the roll of volunteers, with W. Bally, John McQuillan, Bernard Mowsey and John P. Fitzpatrick. Corp. Fitzpatrick told an interesting story of his life while a prisoner in a German hospital, describing the treatment received and saying that the Germans had frequently said, "We'll take your women prisoners, and make them wait upon us."

A school of instruction for officers of the 104th Battalion was opened today at Sussex.

A hundred friends of John G. Fitzpatrick of the 104th Band assembled in the "Princess Patricia's" hall, West St. John, last evening for a party and dance in his honor. On behalf of the gathering, Commissioner Stott presented to him a wrist watch. Those in charge of the arrangements included Misses Mabel London and Beatrice Langer, Harold O'Brien, David Lattimer and John Morrisey.

An honor roll bearing the names of thirteen members and twelve adherents of the church was unveiled in the Douglas Avenue Christian church last evening. Rev. J. G. H. Appel delivered an appropriate address, and Miss Mildred Barnes was heard in vocal selections. The tablet was unveiled by the children and members of the soldiers, Privates Wilson and Oran.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hayes of 86 Marsh street, in uniform and in the fifth, who is under age, hopes to be able to join his brothers before the war is over. Frank and Charles Hayes are dominating, and Joseph is with the 104th and William has enlisted in the 116th.

WHASHING—THIS CONCERNS EVERY HOME IN ST. JOHN

After a visit to Ungars Laundry and noticing the complete sanitary arrangements, one comes to the conclusion that the cause of home worry need no longer exist in regard to laundry.

The family washing is oftentimes the cause of more worry to the mother than anything else. The laundry in her opinion is simply and solely a place where all her line clothes are soiled and irreparably damaged.

All this will cease the moment she chooses; there is only one remedy, and that is to let Ungars' Laundry do the work in future. Ungars have just installed new and up-to-date appliances at a cost of $4,000, and are now more than ever in a position to give laundry satisfaction. Blankets and flannels are taken special care of, and no one need fear mistreatment of these usually difficult articles, as the method is as near perfect as human ingenuity can make it.

It should be interesting to know that only the purest soap and soda of the grades proved by experience to be the best for laundry purposes are used. Chemists have no place in this factory. Send all your washing to Ungars' Laundry, Waterloo street. Just phone M 38 and a team will call promptly.

Grocery stores have a hard job keeping up their stock of Ungars' Cheese, it's in such great demand.
