

The Ingersoll Chronicle

10 PAGES--60 COLUMNS.

AND CANADIAN DAIRYMAN.

VOL. 48--NO. 52

INGERSOLL, ONTARIO, THURSDAY, JULY 26, 1900.

$1.00 PER YEAR

LIFE INSURANCE.

The Confederation Life Association is a strong Canadian Company. Head office Toronto. Over $31,500,000 insurance in force. There is no better policy issued than the Unconditional Accumulative Policy. If you are thinking of insuring your life, if you write me and give me the post office address, I will send you a set of pamphlets giving full particulars of the different plans of insurance.

JOHN COLBRIDGE,
DISTRICT AGENT,
Ingersoll.

MINOR CHRONICLES.

Capt. Forbes, an old resident of Oxford, died in Toledo, O.

Crop reports show the yield in the Edmonston district will be exceptionally heavy.

Rev. J. A. Brook, said to be the oldest minister in Canada, died at Kingston, aged 96 years.

The crops down east in the vicinity of Paris are very light in comparison with those in Oxford county.

A one shaped lump of gold, valued at $135,275, has been received at New York from the Cariboo mines, B.C.

Mail sorting is now done on all trains from Western Canada. Mails for the east arrive a day earlier in consequence.

The Oddfellows of St. Mary will hold a grand demonstration and union picnic on Monday, August 6. A fine programme of athletic sports has been issued.

Mr. Remond McKeay, of N. Dorchester, who was well known in this district, died very suddenly last Friday. The funeral took place on Sabbath afternoon to the 7th line cemetery. Services conducted by Mr. Wisbar.

Mr. and Mrs. G. L. Langford entertained the choir of the Baptist Tabernacle on Tuesday evening to an "observation party." Refreshments were served and games and music indulged in. All spent a very pleasant time.

Mr. Alex R. Allen, baker and confectioner, met with a sorrowful accident yesterday, by getting his hand caught in the gearing of his ice cream freezer. A couple of his fingers were badly lacerated, but no serious results are feared.

East Nisourin council passed a resolution at their meeting on Monday last to strictly enforce the tag law. Some of the Nisourites have been pasturing their cattle on the roads without tags in defiance of the by-law. Cattle found on the roads of Nisourin without tags will be impounded, so say the council.

The treatment of the bicycle is singular. When it is new, very new, the bike hobnob with the piano, a little later it goes to the dining room, from there to rear hallway, kitchen, shed, and thence to a refuse heap in the yard. The climax occurs towards the close of the season.

Call and see our immense stock of go-carts and combination carriages and go carts before buying. McINTYRE'S Furniture Emporium.

On Thursday evening last Miss Ruby McLeod, of Ingersoll, and Miss Agnes Hewlett, of N. Dorchester, were entertained by Miss Gertrude Harris at her home at Rebecka. Miss Leonora Brown is the guest of Ingersoll friends.—London Free Press.

The Young Men's Club and their friends are to have a picnic at Woodstock on Friday, August 4. This is quite a nice point for a picnic, among other attractions it possesses being an excellent source of water for boating. The picnic will be a very successful and social time was spent by all.

Mr. A. H. D. Ross, of Tilsonburg High School, who has been conducting examinations at the Collegiate Institute for the past couple of weeks, completed his labors for August, and as was expected, returned yesterday, and will spend the remainder of his vacation at Muskoka.

Walter Dillon, son of R. Raleigh, had a very narrow escape from lightning Tuesday during the heavy thunder storm. He was working with his team in the field, but noticing the gathering of the storm, came into the barn. While engaged in unshoeing the horses the elements decided to strike and instantly killed one of the animals. Mr. Dillon was at the time removing the harness and suffered a severe shock, being knocked senseless. There were fortunately no serious results to himself.

Wool! Wool! See Waterhouse and Bradbury's ad in this issue.

One of the most dashy novels that even William Le Queux ever wrote is named with characteristic daring "The Sign of the Seven Seas," by which he designates the gaining palace at Monte Carlo. This novel, entire appears in the New Lippincott Magazine nothing better could be conceived. It carries one along in spite of ennui or interruption through the dangerous pleasures of the Riviera, on a smart yachting party across the Mediterranean and into a wild railroad chase to Paris, where a mystery is luckily solved. The novel alone would induce a vacation or a day of travel, but the New Lippincott gives four shorter summer stories, each chosen for its seasonableness. Besides Stephen Crane's last work—a masterly description of the battle of Leipzig.

The Monetary Times says:—The largest failure to report in this edition is that of N. P. Finch, a Paris merchant. He commenced business in the village of Mount Elgin years ago. It is ten years since he moved to Aylmer, Ont., where he became financially embarrassed and made an assignment having liabilities of about $27,000, with a stock amounting to some $24,000. A brother-in-law, J. C. Finch, bought the business but has never since taken any active interest therein. In March 1899, the stock was moved from Aylmer to Paris and N. P. Finch still retained the management. Up to the present time very little progress has been made by the business in progress. It is possible that the liabilities will foot up to between $12,000 and $14,000.

Zion Presbyterian Church, Brantford, is to have a new organ and interior improvements to cost about $10,000.

Twenty-three applications have been sent in for the position of Science Master at the Stratford Collegiate Institute.

Some of our streets can boast of magnificent crops of weeds. It is high time harvesting operations were commenced.

Nelson, B.C., property owners have just voted by law amounting to $78,000 for water, light and other municipal improvements.

Town Clerk Morrison of Woodstock thinks that Aldermen should be elected for 2 years, half of them retiring each year as is done on School Boards.

Principal English, of Hellmuth Ladies' College, London, will have charge of St. James' Church during the absence of the rector, Rev. James Thompson, M. A.

Charles G. Grant, the expert wheelman and trick rider, who gave exhibitions here on the 12th, has signed a contract to ride for the McBurney-Bestie people.

Mr. Peter Kennedy, by pruning off the lower limbs of the trees in Maple Grove, King street west, has greatly improved the appearance of the grove in front of the residence of Mr. Hollark.

J. M. Bayne, formerly of West Zorra, has been appointed manager of the Walker House, Toronto. Mr. Bayne was at one time a school teacher in Zorra, and one of his pupils was Hon. James Sutherland.

Among the list of successful students at the midsummer examinations at the London Conservatory of Music, we notice the following Ingersoll names—Nora Wilson and Mabel Barraclough in elementary piano.

At the regular meeting of Court Ingersoll, No. 788, I.O.F., held Tuesday night, W. H. Willis was elected delegate to the High Court, which will be held in Goderich on the 28th of August. Mr. A. Gregory was elected alternate.

There was a fair attendance at the market on Saturday. The supply of butter and eggs was not as large as usual and the prices raised a little. Eggs sold for 12c per dozen and the ruling price for butter was 22c per lb. A few sales were made at 23c per lb. The offering of vegetables was large.

Bert, son of Mr. David Longfield, who lives near Crampton, met with a painful accident a few days ago. He was working with a draw knife and by some means he inflicted an ugly gash in his leg just below the knee. The wound was dressed by a doctor and no serious results are looked for.

A great many changes are being inaugurated in the internal work of the Department of Customs at Ottawa these days. One of them is the establishment of a separate branch for the consideration of all claims for drawbacks. This post has been offered to Collector Wyatt S. Wood, of Simcoe.

The steamer Urania will run regularly on the lake during the season. Three bands besides the Foresters' band, will be at the Port to furnish music. See bills for fares and time table.

Posters are out for the A. O. F. and C. O. F. excursion to St. Stanley on civic holiday, August 9th. Complete arrangements have been made by an energetic committee who have the work in charge, to provide sports and music for those who take in the excursion. The steamer Urania will run regularly on the lake during the season. Three bands besides the Foresters' band, will be at the Port to furnish music. See bills for fares and time table.

The death of Miss Margaret M. Grant occurred on Wednesday afternoon, July 19, at the residence of her sister, Mrs. Jan. Hisslop, Stratford, widow of the late Rev. J. S. Hisslop for many years pastor of the Avonlea Presbyterian church. Miss Grant had not been in good health for some time. Her death was quite unexpected. She was a daughter of the late Mr. Grant, of North Eastport, and a sister of Rev. Dr. Grant (Knoxian) of Orillia, formerly of Ingersoll.

The death of Robert Bird, Q. C., of Woodstock, occurred on Friday, July 14, at the residence of his sister, Mrs. Alexander Gunn, of 166 Laughran street, South London. Mr. Bird has been ill for more than a year with anæmia, and he went to London a week ago for a change of air, but without effect. He was an improvement in his health. While there he was treated by Drs. Piper and Cline, but his condition was such that nothing could be done for him. Mr. Bird was 60 years of age, and was unmarried. He was a member of the Woodstock interment, which takes place to day.

The I. O. O. F. Relief Association is to be congratulated upon the splendid record of the year 1899. The average rate of mortality for 1899 was 1.12, making the total 11,961. The average age of deceased members was 37.30. The association has $185,758.80 bearing interest at 3 1/2 to 4 per cent. Local boards controlling agencies exist at Winnipeg, Port Huron and Halifax, for Maritime Provinces.

The weather last night was ideal for a garden party and the one at Mr. F. Wilson's, under the auspices of the Baptist choir, was a success in every way. There was a large crowd attended and everything was managed in such a way that everyone was fresh and without delay. The sales of refreshments were large and the treasury of the choir will be considerably augmented. The proceeds are in aid of a fund to purchase a new pipe organ for the Baptist church. It is to be hoped that the large crowd turned out to assist in the worthy object. The grounds were brilliantly illuminated and every person present enjoyed the evening. Excellent music was provided by the Oddfellows' band.

A couple of wheelmen returning from Ingersoll on Saturday evening discovered another instance of the "oussedness" of some party or parties living on the Beach. The vehicle was the Woodstock Times. Just this side of Beachville a bicycle lamp, lying across the middle of the road, it had evidently been jerked off the fence and laid carelessly across the track.

Mr. Pringle is not here for the purpose of booming the Yukon, and in his address last night he simply supported in maintaining that it was not the place for a tenderfoot, or for one who was not prepared to endure hardships. As stated before, his address abandoned in interest and it is to be regretted that the room was not crowded to the doors.

Stratford will hold a firemen's tournament and band competition on Labor Day.

Thos. De Wolf, formerly of this town, has entered the U. S. naval academy at Pittsburg, Pa.

Grand Master McLurg of the I. O. O. F. has returned from a pleasant trip to New Ontario and Winnipeg.

Joe. Gale was shot in the leg at St. Thomas by an unknown person while delimiting milk routes on Tuesday night.

St. Thomas Chinese laundries were attacked by mobs of boys on Saturday night. One or two Chinamen were badly used.

Mr. T. H. Lennox, formerly of the Woodstock Collegiate Institute, has been appointed science master of Stratford Collegiate Institute, at a salary of $1,000.

There were sixty applications for the position of male teacher in the Galt public school. David Eagle, of Hespeler, secured the appointment, at a salary of $425.00.

Oh for a lodge in a bed of cucumbers!

Oh for a spot where the nocturnal slumbers!

Oh, for a pilgrimage up to the Pole!

Bay Billy, a horse belonging to Jim Kerr broke his leg on Sunday and was killed Monday night. He was one of the first horses the Palace livery and was known as one of the best.

A correspondent of the Montreal Herald proposes the coinage of a 14 cent piece so that the purchaser of a commodity advertised at 12 1/2 cents would not be obliged to pay 13 cents for it, and that one could buy a half of 5 cents worth without being cheated.

There was a heavy increase in the death rate in the Province of Ontario in June, as compared with the same month last year. The total in 1899 was 1,821 for the month, while this year it is 1,717. The increases are in diphtheria, tuberculosis, measles and whooping cough.

The marriage of Mr. D. A. Glassey, B.A., of the St. Marys collegiate institute staff, to Miss Gilpin, daughter of J. C. Gilpin, hardware merchant, took place Thursday afternoon. There were over one hundred invited guests present from London, Toronto, Stratford, Hamilton, St. Marys and other places.

Mr. and Mrs. John Mason, of Carroll street, have sold their handsome little home to the man who, under the name of recently moved to Ingersoll from the township of Derham. Mr. and Mrs. Mason propose removing to Toronto in the month of October and will there take up their residence.

These improvements will be engaged in a wholesale clothing business in Toronto. Mr. Smith will take possession of his new home in October.

The police have been notified by the chief of police of Almonte, to be on the lookout for George Douglas, charged with obtaining money under false pretenses. Douglas has been representing himself as agent for De Moies Fashion Magazine, and in this connection has obtained a considerable sum of money from the citizens of Almonte. He is described as 35 years of age, 5 feet 9 inches in height, weight 160 pounds, and sports a blonde moustache. He is believed to be the man who, under the name of Gordon, victimized a number of persons in Port Arthur, by representing himself as an accredited agent of Harper's Bazaar.

For years the male residents of Healdsburg, Ont., talked of certain improvements to be made in their country. The summer talk, and then the women took the matter up and formed a Ladies' Improvement Club. This organization has transformed the place, having by its active influence and organized attention of his audience throughout the year, a municipal electric light system, comfortable seats in the plaza, an intelligible name system for the streets, sign boards with street names at all corners and a fire alarm system. These improvements were brought about without increasing taxes, except for the two purposes first named.

New Veterinary Surgeon. Office R. A. Skinner's livery Charles St. J. O. Durkin.

Entertaining Address by Rev. John Pringle, Presbyterian Missionary.

One of the most interesting and instructive addresses that has ever been delivered in our town was listened to by a small audience in the lecture room of St. Paul's church Tuesday night. The speaker was Rev. J. Pringle, Presbyterian missionary to the Yukon.

His first deal with the country and its climate, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing that of more southern countries. Rose perhaps in profusion, as did also many other varieties of flowers found in the country, his description materially changing the views there held by most of his hearers. He spoke of the climate as an ideal one for a southern country. The summer months were described as perfectly beautiful, the air being warm and balmy, the vegetation luxuriant, and the flora surpassing