Warning

I wish to warn intending purchasers of Imperial Engines against certain false and misleading statements made by agents who are canvassing for certain other makes of Engines. This should be a proof of the superiority of the Imperial. The Imperial Engines will stand the test, and will still be doing duty in the boats of our fishermen when certain other engines are consigned to the "scrap heap." C. E. Russell, Bay Roberts, Agent for the Imperial.

Seeking Peace

London, May 10.—"There is no doubt whatever," says The Daily Telegraph, "that during the last few days a definite attempt has been made by the German Government to impress neutrals with its strong desire for peace with a view to inducing them to come forward as mediators and break up the Alliance of its enemies by getting one of them to conclude a separate peace. For the present it would not serve any useful purpose to disclose the facts in their entirety, but it can be said that the Kaiser has personally sent a letter to President Wilson in which he appeals to him as the greatest neutral authority. He expiates on the necessity of urging the Western Powers not to prolong indefinitely, what seems to him their quite useless efforts of revenge."

A large number of citizens have left here during the past few weeks for Sydney, New Glasgow, Boston, Gloucester and other places.

Owners of goats in this section, some of whom no doubt have denounced Goodson and others for "following the custom," are themselves "following the custom" and allowing their goats to be at large, without a lawful yoke, to destroy other peoples crops and trees. We are afraid that they are not very consistent when it comes to observing the law.

Bible Says the Turk Will Come to His End

(Editor of the Guardian).
The prophet Isaiah, He (the king of the world) shall plant the tabernacles of his place between the sea and the glorious holy mountain; yet he shall come to his end, and now shall help him." Dan. 11:45. This speaks of two events that all the world has looked forward to with great apprehension, and has expected to see accomplished at an early date—the driving of the Turk from Europe, and the coming to his end.
The "glorious holy mountain" is where Jerusalem is located. Zeck. 8:3. It is situated between the Mediterranean and the Dead Sea. According to the Bible, the seat of government at the time of the Babylonian captivity was to be removed from Constantinople and located at Jerusalem.
During the progress of the Balkan war in 1912, many writers in the daily papers and the magazines freely expressed their conviction that the time had come for the Turk to leave Europe. While he was driven by the Balkan allies to the verge of Europe, their hands were stayed by the conference of the European powers in London, and the Turk still holds Constantinople. Scarcely had the present war begun when it was freely predicted that this would end the stay of the Turk in Europe.
Paraphrasing the scriptures in the light of simple deductions, we have the following: The Turk shall locate his seat of government at Jerusalem, and shall come to his end, and at that time Christ shall begin His eternal reign. The time of trouble to the nations, such as never was, will follow, and at that time all God's people, whose names are found written in the book of life, will be delivered.
The thought that Christ takes His kingdom and begins His reign at the beginning of this time of unparalleled trouble to the nations may seem strange to some, but it will be seen to be in perfect accord with the scripture.
Like the muffled tread of the thief in the night, the day of the Lord is stealing upon us. More loudly than the present war broke over Europe, and with much more dire results, will the war of the great day of God break over all the world. The only safety in that hour will be found in Jesus.
"He that dwelleth in the secret place of the Most High shall abide under the shadow of the Almighty." Ps. 91: 1.—Com.

Delivering Telegraph Messages
Sometime ago we referred to the charge of 20 cents collected by the messenger of the Postal Telegraph Company when delivering a message outside the "town limits." We learn that the messenger receives a salary of $3.00 a month, and the boy therefore is permitted to collect the 20 cents for himself. The messenger is entitled to collect this amount considering his small salary, but it is unfair to the individual citizen who may receive the message.
The fairest and most equitable way would be for the Department to increase the salary of the messenger, have him confine himself to the work of the office, and deliver messages anywhere in this section free. His salary would be paid by the people of the whole country and not by individual citizens who may receive a message.
We are not quite sure but we think the delivery boys in St. John's are paid a reasonable monthly salary, and therefore messages are delivered free. Let the same rule apply here. In St. John's and a few other places letters as well as telegraph messages are delivered to people who are simply taxpayers like ourselves. We see no reason why the taxpayers of this section are not entitled to the same service.

The Police Search Stores For Hidden Stocks of Meat

London, May 10.—A Copenhagen despatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:
"The police in Berlin searched the shops and dwellings of butchers to day for hidden stocks of meats. The result showed the supply of meat in Berlin was sufficient for only a few days. All butcher shops, including Wertheim's, a large meat market, have been closed. Best quality meat now costs 14 marks ($3) per kilo (2.2 lbs.)."
